KENNEDY, NEHRU BEGIN TALKS ON NUCLEAR TESTS, OTHER WORLD PROBLEMS

INDIAN PREMIER IS GREETED BY PRESIDENT IN RHODE ISLAND

Two Leaders Will Fly to Washington Later —Red China Seat in United Nations Likely to Be Discussed.

NEWPORT, R.I., Nov. 6 (AP) —Prime Minister Nehru of India flew here today to open a series of talks with President Kennedy on world problems and on the divergent views of the United States and India toward nuclear testing.

Nehru landed at Quonset Point Naval Air Station after a flight from New York on a presidential plane. Mr. Kennedy was on hand to greet him, along with John Kenneth Galbraith, United States ambassador to India. Nehru and President Kennedy shook hands warmly as the Indian leader came down the ramp from the plane.

Nehru and the President went by automobile to the nearby pier to board the presidential yacht Honey Fitz for the 10-mile trip across Narragansett bay to Hammersmith Farm for lunch.

To Lunch Privately.

The two leaders were to lunch together privately, according to White House press secretary Pierre Salinger. Ambassador Galbraith was to join Mrs. Kennedy, and Nehru's daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, and some others for lunch at Hammersmith Farm, the Newport estate of Mrs. Kennedy's family.

Thirteen Indian students from the University of Rhode Island were on hand for Nehru's arrival. While waiting for Nehru's plane to land, Mr. Kennedy chatted with the students. Nehru also stopped and talked with them.

Several girl students wore native costumes. The students presented flowers to Mr. Kennedy, Nehru and Mrs. Gandhi.

Nehru View on Tests.

Nehru has called nuclear testing, whether by Russia or the United States, "an evil thing."

Mr. Kennedy has said this country will conduct tests in the air if an evaluation of the Soviet Union's shots indicates that United States tests are necessary for the security of this country and the free world.

Nehru is expected to press Mr. Kennedy for a moratorium on nuclear firings as a first step to a treaty banning use of nuclear weapons. The American position is that such a treaty requires agreements for international inspection to make it effective.

The American and Indian positions are opposed also on the question of admission of Red China to the United Nations.

The Indian position favors admission of Red China, while the United States steadfastly supports the Formosa government of Chiang Kai-shek, which now holds China's seat in the U.N.

The two leaders presumably will talk about many other things, including Berlin, India-Pakistan relations, which are

U.N. Calls for Talks on Nuclear Test Ban by Vote of 67 to 11

U.S.-British Resolution Adopted by Political Committee — Russian Says There Will Be No Negotiations.

By ALVIN H. GOLDSTEIN.
A Staff Crrespondent of the Post-Dispatch.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 6—A United States-British resolution calling for negotiation of a nuclear test ban treaty to be enforced by international supervision was adopted today by vote of 67 to 11, with 16 abstentions, by the United Nations Political Committee.

Under the proposed enforcement provisions of the treaty a veto would not be permitted.

The Soviet bloc, Mongolia and Cuba voted against the resolution. Afghanistan, Cambodia, Finland, France, Ghana, Guinea, Indonesia, Iraq, Mali, Morocco, Nepal, Comalia, Syria, the United Arab Republic, Yemen and Yugoslavia abstained.

Talks Seemed Doomed.

The proposed talks appeared doomed in advance. Soviet delegates Semyon K. Tsarapkin said: "There will never be such negotiations."

He declared that his government would consent only to negotiate a treay subject to Soviet demand for general disarmament. The resolution pointed out that its passage would be a first step toward ending the arms race.

The resolution expresses regret that requests for suspension of atmospheric nuclear testing have been rejected by Russia, notes that the Geneva test ban talks have been discontinued and demands an "effective and impartial system of verification" in a treaty to end explosions permanently.

Calls for Report by March.

The measure calls on the nuclear powers to report by March 1, 1962, on results of the proposed negotiations.

The Geneva negotiations were

EAST AND WEST BERLIN POLICE IN TEAR GAS FIGHT

Western Group Defends Workmen Ripping Down Fence From Eastern Attack.

BERLIN, Nov. 6 (AP)—West Berlin police successfully defended workmen ripping down 300 yards of wire fence in a tear gas battle today with border guards of Communist East Germany.

About 150 tear gas grenades were thrown, but nobody was reported hurt. The West Berliners succeeded in removing most of the fence, which was about a yard inside the French sector of West Berlin.

The fence had been put up by the Communists long before the Aug. 13 closing of the border to separate a railway track in East Berlin from an elevated track in West Berlin. It was later reinforced by another fence, entirely on the East Berlin side. Recently, according to West police, a refugee was caught between the two fences and hauled back to East Berlin.

French Officer Present.

Four West Berlin workmen went this morning to take down the fence on West Berlin territory. With them went 12 West Berlin police and a French army officer.

Border guards on the Communist side ordered the West Berlin workmen back. They refused. Both sides slipped the safety catches on their submachine guns, but there was no firing.

The East Berliners began the tear gas tossing, the Western police said. Each side hurled about an equal number.

The Eastern grenades have a small explosive charge to prevent them from being picked up and thrown back. West Berlin police said only about one in four of these actually worked.

East German police fired at least four times on refugees over the weekend, West Berlin police said, but 17 got through anyway and there was no report of anyone being hit.

Rescues Sweetheart.

A West Berliner drove his car through a hail of bullets to rescue his 17-year-old sweetheart from Communist East Germany. He picked the girl up by pre-

PEELING PAINT AFTER RAINS HAS ICELAND PUZZLED

REYKJAVIK, Nov. 6 (AP) — Peeling paint had Iceland puzzled today.

Last week someone noticed that paint dissolved when it rained. Many homes here have painted roofs and some surfaces have been peeling away immediately after showers. The phenomenon was noticed in other parts of the island. It occured only a week after the eruption of Asjka volcano in the island's interior, and was at first thought to be caused by sulphur.

A chemist at the University Research Institute said yesterday he had found no trace of sulphur in the one paint specimen he had examined so far.

The peeling has caused talk of radioactivity, although there is nothing to confirm this theory either.

WHEELBARROW FULL OF TRASH IS CHURCH'S CASH

STIRLING, Scotland, Nov. 6 (AP)—Every Tuesday for the last five years Peter Robertson has pushed a wheelbarrow which appeared to contain trash through the streets from the Old Kirk (church) to the bank.

Last Tuesday the barrow overturned rounding a corner and the secret was out—under the trash was the congregation's donation for the previous Sunday. In this case the total was £541 ($1514.80), much of it silver.

Robertson is church treasurer.

"The church members are so generous—and there are 2500 of them—that I reached the point some years ago where I couldn't heft the stuff to the bank," Robertson explained. "So I started carrying it in the wheelbarrow with a bit of trash on top for camouflage.

"Now I'll have to hire a taxi."

TWINS CARRY TOGETHERNESS EVEN TO THE DIVORCE COURT

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Nov. 6 (UPI) — Twenty-five-year-old Winston-Salem twins, Richard G. and Robert R. Strupe, have carried the "togetherness" theme just about to the limits.

They started dating sisters at the same time, later married them, and now plan to divorce them. They will try to win custody of the one child each of them has.

The twins, who served in the same unit in the army and now work at the same company, have been called back to military service. Both were allowed a 60-day deferment to wind up their marital problems.

WORTMAN FIRM TO PAY $250,000 TO BUY OUT RIVAL ON EAST SIDE

B.&H. Distributing Co. Getting Continental's St. Clair County Territory for Cigarette Machines.

Sale of Continental-St. Louis Corp. cigarette vending machine business in St. Clair county to a rival firm, B. & H. Distributing Co., will be completed today, officials said.

Melvin Chasen, vice president of Continental Vending Machine Corp. of New York, parent company of Continental-St. Louis, told a reporter that his firm will receive in excess of $250,000 in the deal.

About 800 vending machines are involved in the sale, Chasen said. The Post-Dispatch reported last Thursday that a deal was imminent. The sale is expected to end the sharp rivalry between the two firms that has been watched closely by police for several months.

Eyeing Vitale Firms.

Continental is exploring the possibility of acquiring vending firms operated by hoodlum John J. Vitale, Chasen said. Vitale operates Automatic Cigarette Sales, Inc., Anthony Novelty Co. and Anthony Discount Co., all of 3401 Kienlin avenue, Pine Lawn.

Vitalie's business has suffered as a result of inroads made by Continental-St. Louis, and he has had difficulty in meeting his sizeablepayroll in recent months. Vitale has offered his firms for sale to Edward (Ted) Wortman, who operates B. & H., and to Continental.

Wortman, brother of East Side gangster Frank (Buster) Wortman, declined the offer. B. & H. operates only on the East Side, although Wortman has interests in other vending firms operating in St. Louis and St. Louis county.

Chasen mentioned the Vitale companies in response to a question, and emphasized that they are among a number of cigarette vending facilities being considered for possible purchase by Continental. He said Continental's principal area of interest is St. Louis and St. Louis county.

Losing on East Side.

Continental had been losing in its contest with B. & H. for East Side business. However, Chasen said the reason Continental chose to sell to Wortman was to concentrate on expansion on the western side of the Mississippi river.

He announced establishment of a new program by his firm, distribution of hot food vending equipment and industrial cafeteria vending equipment. He said full meals will be available in vending machines.

The sale will virtually end Continental's operations in southern Illinois. Earlier this year, the firm sold its business in Madison county to Zimring & Sons Tobacco and Candy Co. of Granite City.

Continental-St. Louis, which has offices at 8024 Rosalie avenue, Brentwood, entered the East Side competition about a year ago with the purchase of the National Cigarette Tobacco & Distributing Co. of East St. Louis.

The vending firm began removing its machines from East Side establishments over the weekend. Most of those removed had not been in use for a while, and some were in need of repair, a Continental spokesman said.

Most of the establishments concerned had switched from Continental to B. & H. machines, and consequently had placed the Continental equipment out of service.

Called in By Police.

The Continental-B. & H. contest had become so intense that police called in operators from both sides and warned them to refrain from violence.

A consequence of the competition was the dismissal by his superiors of Louis J. Saladino, manager of Continental's subsidiary here. New York officials of Continental said when announcing Saladino's ouster that the company does not engage in contests with other vending machine firms.

$26,466,000 BOND ISSUE RECOMMENDED TO MAYOR; $6,000,000 FOR STADIUM

$5,000,000 PUT IN PROPOSAL FOR URBAN RENEWAL, REHABILITATION

Citizens Group Seeks $4,000,000 for Street Lighting and $3,000,000 for Parks and Playgrounds.

The Citizens Bond Issue Screening Committee today recommended to Mayor Raymond R. Tucker a bond issue of $26,466,000 for public improvements.

The recommended projects are:

1. Downtown stadium and related facilities, $6,000,000.
2. Urban renewal and rehabilitation, $5,000,000.
3. Street lighting, $4,000,000.
4. Parks and playgrounds, $3,000,000.
5. Children's services, $2,161,000.
6. Neighborhood rehabilitation, $2,000,000.
7. City-county airport, $2,000,000.
8. Streets, $1,100,000.
9. Public library expansion, $725,000.
10. Improvements to public buildings, $480.000.

Expenditures proposed for parks and playgrounds include $200,000 for Tower Grove Park; $800,000 for a proposed new park, and $2,000,000 for a proposed new plaza.

New Juvenile Home.

Under the children's services, bond issue items would include $1,848,000 for a new juvenile court and detention home; $300,000 for a new gymnasium and service building at Missouri Hills, and $13,000 for an incinerator at Missouri Hills.

Improvements to public buildings would inciude $300,000 for Kiel Auditorium and $180,000 for renovation of courtrooms in the Municipal Courts Building.

Mayor Tucker is out of the city on vacation. He was informed of the contents of the screening committee report today by an assistant in a telephone conversation.

The proposed bond issue is intended as a supplement to the $110,639,000 bond issue approved by voters in 1955. The committee reported that public improvements made possible by the 1955 issue and the new one being proposed can proceed simultaneously.

Although much of the funds authorized in the 1955 bond issue remain to be spent, the committee explained, these funds are committed for particular purposes and cannot be used to meet other needs.

Projects in the proposed bond issue thus are "public improvements to meet needs in areas in which funds from earlier bond issues have been exhausted or nearly exhausted, and public improvements to meet needs which have developed since 1955," the committee stated.

The committee reported it had considered requests for funds totaling more than $36,500,000. Projects other than those recommended were "found to be extremely worthwhile and deserving of support," the committee stated, but "the limitation upon the total amount of the issue necessitated the eliminaion of some of them."

No Date Recommended.

Without recommending a date for a bond issue election, the committee wrote that the public improvements selected "are vitally needed in order to assure the success of the programs now under way to make St. Louis an even better place in which to live."

Mayor Tucker had suggested that the bond issue be limited to about $25,000,000 when he appointed the committee last May 22.

Debt limitations contained in the Missouri Constitution restrict the city to issuing no more than $39,000,000 in bonds at present. Tucker told the screening committee that the city should retain some bonding authority in case an emergency should arise.

Sidney Maestre chairman of the board of Mercantile Trust Co., is chairman of the screening committee.

The $6,000,000 in connection with the 55,000-seat project would be used for new street lighting, new streets, traffic signals, water facilities, sewers and bus parking facilities in the area. A $31,000,000 loan obtained by the developers is contingent upon these services being provided.

GEORGE D. YOUNG NEW STATE RISK SUPERINTENDENT

Former Representative Appointed by Dalton to Replace Leggett Nov. 15.

By RONALD WILLNOW
Post-Dispatch Jefferson City Correspondent.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 6—George D. Young, former State Representative and an officer of the Transit Casualty Co. of St. Louis, today was named state superintendent of insurance by Gov. John M. Dalton.

Young will replace C. Lawrence Leggett, who submitted his resignation today. The appointment of Young is effective Nov. 15.

Leggett, who has been insurance superintendent longer than any man in Missouri history, noted in his letter to the Governor that his resignation had been requested. He had told reporters earlier that he wanted to retain the post. On Saturday, however, he told the Post-Dispatch he was leaving his $12,000-a-year position.

Now in Air Force.

The new superintendent is serving in the Air Force, but will be released to take the state job, it was said. He is a captain with headquarters of the 131st Tactical Fighter Wing, Lambert-St. Louis Field, which was called to active duty Oct. 1.

In announcing the appointment, Dalton said he had been trying since early July to get Young to accept the job. He said he believed Young could give the insurance department the strong leadership it has been lacking under Leggett.

He described Young, who has a doctorate degree in political science from the University of Missouri, as an outstanding member of the General Assembly. Young represented Howard county in the House from 1955 to 1959 and served as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

Officer Since 1959.

Since June 1959 he has been assistant secretary-treasurer of Transit Casualty Co. He is 31 years old, married, and the father of two children. He lives with his family at 2812 Monitteau drive, St. Louis county.

Dalton said he planned no general shake-up of the insurance office and had specifically asked Nicholas M. Monaco, counsel for the division, to remain. He asserted that one of the weaknesses of hte department had been a lack of sufficient legal staff, saying he believed it now could be strengthened.

Leggett announced his resig-

TEMPERATURES FOR NEXT FIVE DAYS TO BE NEAR NORMAL WITH LITTLE RAIN

TEMPERATURES are expected to average near normal in the St. Louis area tomorrow through Saturday, the Weather Bureau said today in its extended forecast.

The five-day forecast: Beginning with considerable sunshine and cool, the period will average near seasonal normals; a warming trend expected in middle of week with chance of a little cooler weather again by Friday or Saturday; only light precipitation, if any, with most probable time late in week; normal highs are in upper 50s; normal lows in upper 30s.

FLAMETHROWER AND MARINES RID CITY OF SPIDERS

LODI, N.J., Nov. 6 (AP)—Hundreds of black widow spiders were flushed from nesting places and killed yesterday with a flamethrower wielded by Marines.

A colony of nests where the poisonous insects were breeding was found in a large yard behind a steel factory. The fire department tried to kill them with burning gasoline and insecticides, but failed to get at the nests among beams, plates and girders stacked in the yard.

Two Marines arrived yesterday with a flamethrower in response to an appeal by city officials and drove spiders out of their nesting places by the hundreds. The Marines will repeat the operation this week.

SUPREME COURT SCRATCHES OUT OLD QUILL PENS

© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—The Supreme Court once again has made a nice compromise between tradition and efficiency.

The court has always provided lawyers arguing cases with quill pens and ink wells. Over the years, court attendants have been troubled by the sight of lawyers scratching out their notes with these quaint implements.

Reform now has arrived. The ink wells have been removed and replaced by three wooden pencils, nicely sharpened, for each lawyer. The quill pens are still provided. They make good souvenirs.

TEAR GAS ROUTS 3 THREATENING TO SHOOT POLICE

Ex-Convicts Arrested in East St. Louis Are Questioned About Stengele Killing.

Three notorious ex-convicts were routed last night from an apartment at 935 North Twenty-fifth street, East St. Louis, when police fired tear gas shells through two windows.

Police said the action was taken after the men had refused them entry and had threatened to shoot any policeman who attempted to get inside the apartment.

Arrested after the tear gas attack were Frank J. Hickey, 52 years old, 10,000 block of Crete drive, Bellefontaine Neighbors; John Bubenyak, 42, 4900 block of Arsenal street, and Robert J. Donovan, 51, 3600 block of Cote Brilliante avenue.

The three were questioned by detectives about the shotgun killing of John R. Stengele, East Side jukebox distributor, but denied knowledge of the crime. Stengele, who had been involved in a struggle for control of the vending machine business, was shot to death on an East St. Louis sidewalk last Oct. 24.

Frequenting Apartment.

Lt. Michael Schwartz and Detective Gordon Thalls reported they went to the address at 10:30 p.m. after receiving information the ex-convicts were frequenting an apartment in the rear of the building.

Schwartz knocked on a side door. He said a man pushed aside a blind on the inside. When the police identified themselves, the man ordered them to leave and threatened to shoot at them through the door, Schwartz said.

The officers called for reinforcements and eight more policemen reached the scene. Schwartz said he asked again to be admitted and heard the sound of an automatic pistol being cocked. Another threat to kill the policemen was made, Schwartz said.

Shells Fired After Warning.

Police kept the apartment surrounded and Night Chief of Police Frank Cook arrived with tear gas shells. The ex-convicts were warned that gas would be used. Their answer was to dare police to try it.

A gas shell was fired through a kitchen window. The men remained in the apartment. A second shell was put through a bedroom window. In a few seconds, Hickey and Bubenyak staggered outside and were arrested.

Five minutes elapsed, then

Puritans Prevail---Fewer Corks Being Popped at White House

© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—With its French chef and antique-sprinkled decor, the White House, like the United States itself, is a more sophisticated place than once it was.

However, it still feels occasional pressure from an older puritan strain in the nation's makeup.

When the President began inviting groups of publishers from the various states to lunch, the meal was embellished with three French wines from the excellent White House cellars.

The first group of publishers enjoyed themselves, from all reports, but some of them apparently felt that too many corks were being pulled—particularly those representing small town newspapers in Kentucky.

As a result, Mr. Kennedy now is serving only one wine with the French cuisine, the political talk and the fat cigars.

$15,000 Spent on Meter Locks To Save $150 a Year in Thefts

HONOLULU, Nov. 6 (AP)—This city is spending $15,000 to save $150 a year in parking meter pilferage. The money will be spent on new locks for Honolulu's 5000 meters.

The locks require an elaborate key which, the manufacturer says cannot be duplicated.

Critics of the city government figure that, if the new locks succeed in baffling all meter thieves, it will take about 100 years for Honolulu to break even, provided the meters need not be replaced.

132 SOLDIERS ARE ARRESTED IN CONGO FOR RAPES, BEATINGS

Commando Units Fly to Luluabourg to Restore Order Following Rebellious Acts by Troops.

LEOPOLDVILLE, Nov. 6 (UPI)—Congolese commando units today arrested 132 members of their own army allegedly responsible for rapes and beatings in Luluabourg last week.

Those arrested were regular army soldiers stationed at Luluabourg. The commandos, crack units of Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu's forces, were flown to Luluabourg from Thysville to get the army under control.

The Luluabourg troops ran amok on the nights of Nov. 1 and 2 in defiance of their officers, sources here said. At least 15 European women were raped and 30 nuns were reported beaten.

Under U.N. Protection.

The entire European population of about 400 at Luluabourg took shelter in hotels under United Nations protection.

The 132 arrested soldiers were reported flown back to Leopoldville.

The Luluabourg incidents were said to be the worst since the July 1960 mutiny of the Congolese army, which led to the massive flight of Europeans from The Congo.

Teachers under contract with the Congo government and other Europeans sent protests to Congo President Joseph Kasavubu and the Belgian Foreign Ministry demanding that women and children be flown out of The Congo as a result of the latest incident.

16 Flown to Belgium.

Sixteen women and children were said to have been flown to Belgium last night and others were expected to leave today.

The army misbehavior at Luluabourg followed reverses in fighting between Congo forces and those of Katanga. The troops had been stationed at Luluabourg in Kasai province near the Katanga border in preparation for an advance which was turned back by forces loyal to Katanga President Moise Tshombe.

Tshombe, who underwent medical tests in Geneva last week returned home by plane today.

There was no advance announcement of Tshombe's arrival at Elisabethville. He was met at the airport by United Nations officials and Cabinet members. He declined to make any official statement to reporters.

Tshombe praised his army commander, Gen. Norbert Mike, for repelling advances of Congo troops into Katanga. In Paris last night, Tshombe said the United Nations must adopt a strictly neutral attitude if the situation in the former Belgian Congo is to improve.

Zorin Plans More Talks Before Calling Council Session.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 6 (AP)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin planned more talks with other U.N. delegates today before calling a Security Council meeting to discuss the Congo situation.

Zorin is president of the council this month. One source said the 11-nation group might meet tomorrow or Wednesday, but another delegate dealing with The Congo case said he favored delaying it until next week to enable the U.N. secretariat to gather more information.

Ethiopia, Nigeria and Sudan sent Zorin a letter Friday asking that he convene the council to consider the situation "caused by the lawless acts of mercenaries" in The Congo's secessionist Katanga province.

The three African nations did not say what action they wanted the council to take. At its last Congo meeting Feb. 21, the council urged that measures be taken for the immediate withdrawal of all mercenaries from The Congo and called for U.N. measures to prevent civil war, by force if necessary.

RAYBURN RALLIES SLIGHTLY BUT STILL IS VERY WEAK

BONHAM, Tex., Nov. 6 (UPI)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn, 79 years old, rallied slightly today but his doctor said he is still very weak. Rayburn has widespread cancer.

Dr. Joe A. Risser, Rayburn's personal physician and close friend, said Rayburn is still in serious condition. He was able to sit up in a chair for a short time early today and eat a good breakfast of eggs, oatmeal, grapefruit, toast and jelly, a bulletin said.

Rayburn lost ground in his fight against cancer yesterday, and last night's bulletin said he was weaker and less alert than at any time since he was brought home last Tuesday from Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas.

strained, and a wide variety of international subjects.

The 44-year-old president and 71-year-old Prime Minister have met only once before. That involved a fleeting handshake when Nehru addressed a joint session of Congress five years ago. Mr. Kennedy then was a Senator.

Nehru's visit is a result of an invitation from Mr. Kennedy several months ago.

Mr. Kennedy and Nehru will fly to Washington late today to continue their talks.

There will be a big turnout there to greet Nehru. Among the welcomers will be Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and foreign diplomats.

NEHRU SAYS REDS DON'T WANT WAR

By RICHARD DUDMAN
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—Premier Nehru expressed certainty last night that Premier Khrushchev does not want war.

"I am sure and I have been sure for some time that Mr. Khrushchev does not want war," the Indian leader said. "What he believes in about the future, whether there will be peace or not, I can't say, but he certainly does not want a war."

Nehru's first public appearance since his arrival on a state visit yesterday was on the NBC television show "Meet the Press."

On the issue of atomic tests, Nehru said he was "dead against any nuclear test whatever happens." This was in answer to a question as to what advice he would give the United States when the Soviet Union will not agree to a controlled test ban.

"I consider the whole nuclear test business and the atomic and the hydrogen bombs as evil things," he said, "but I wouldn't presume to advise anybody."

Recalls Conversation.

Recalling his conversation with Khrushchev after the Russians resumed testing, Nehru said:

"I expressed my apprehension and the fact we didn't like it at all. He said he didn't like it at all either. It was with great pain that he decided it, and then he gave me more or less the reasons he has given in public. Nothing secret or new about it. Which did not satisfy me at all."

Nehru said it was "obvious that in this particular matter the Soviet Union broke the moratorium or whatever it is and therefore they are largely responsible for this new phase."

He declined an opportunity to discuss fully the behavior of his defense minister, V. K. Krishna Menon, India's delegate to the United Nations. Asked whether he agreed that Menon blamed the United States and Russia equally for the resumption of nuclear testing, Nehru said only that he had "not gathered this from Mr. Krishna Menon's statements."

Menon's Statement.

Nehru made no reply when reminded that Menon had said, after condemning the Soviet tests, "but equally we think that anyone else who explodes a bomb because the Soviet Union did is also wrong in doing so."

Nehru argued in favor of India's resolution, adopted last week at the United Nations, calling for a new moratorium on tests. He said a moratorium would be "a first step to a treaty with controls and inspection."

"We want the treaty as soon as possible, with inspection, controls and all that, but the point is, during this intervening period, we thought the moratorium should apply. The sooner the treaty comes the better," he said.

The Premier said Communist China still occupied territory in nortseastern India, but he said he could see no direct relationship between that fact and the question of Chinas' admission to the U.N.

"Our relations with China are rather strained, obviously, but I don't see how the major problems of the world — say disarmament — can be dealt with without China, and you can't deal with them unless China is also in the United Natoins," he said. "Also, I think it does come in the way of the United Nations functioning if a large part of the earth's surface is not included in its survey."

Asked why the non-aligned nations seemed to apply a double standard to the United States and the Soviet Union, on questions like nuclear testing, Nehru said Asian and African nations tend to be preoccupied by their own problems.

He said they were not as aware as the Western powers of the seriousnesss of the Berlin crisis, because of geographical considerations. The Indians, he said, become very excited over the problem of Goa, a Portuguese colony on the edge of the Indian peninsula. Africans become more excited about their own problems than about events in Germany or even nuclear tests, he said.

ECUADOR POLICE REPORTED TO KILL 5 IN RIOTS

20 Said to Be Wounded in Anti-Government Demonstrations in Guayaquil.

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Nov. 6 (AP)—Soldiers, tanks and armored cars were sent into the streets of Guayaquil today to combat anti-government rioters. Five persons were reported killed by early afternoon, and sporadic firing still could be heard.

Three of the five victims shot dead by police defending the city hall were high school students.

The wounded at the latest report numbered 20 as demonstrators continued to battle police and soldiers in various parts of the city.

The students began the demonstration in protest against the government's use of force to down riots last week ni Cuenca, capital of Azuay province.

At city hall, the demonstrators threw stones, gasoline bottle bombs and other missiles. Policemen retaliated with gunfire and tear gas. University students and others then joined the ranks of the demonstrators. Three automobiles were overturned and set afire.

Radio stations which broadcast news of the riots were closed by authorities. Washington Cepeda, president of the Radio Broadcasters Association, was arrested.

President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra and some of his cabinet ministers, who came here after visiting Cuenca, were under the protection of the army at the Guayaquil garrison during today's rioting. The area was surrounded by tanks and armored vehicles.

In Quito, the capital, the government radio station declared the demonstrators were "students plus Communist agitators," and announced that the Ministry of Education had ordered suspension of school classes in Guayaquil.

20,000 Patrol Buenos Aires as General Strike Nears.

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 6 (AP)—More than 20,000 troops and police began patrolling this capital today in the face of a three-day general strike called for midnight by the powerful Central Labor Federation.

SUPREME COURT REJECTS APPEAL OF RAPE CASE

Refuses Review to Ronald Lee Wolfe Who Is Under Death Sentence in Missouri.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—The Supreme Court refused today for the second time to review the trial of Ronald Lee Wolfe, who is under death sentence in Missouri on conviction for rape of an 8-year-old girl.

Police charged Wolfe lured the child away from a church picnic at Troy, Mo., on Oct. 18, 1959, by offering her candy. The rape occurred three days after Wolfe had been released from the Atlanta (Ga.) federal penitentiary.

The Supreme Court on June 12, 1961, denied a hearing to Wolfe. However, the following day Justice Whittaker granted him a stay of execution to permit the filing of a new appeal based on denial of a writ of habeas corpus by the Missouri Supreme Court.

The new appeal contended a coerced confession was used against him, trial counsel were ineffective, and the jury was not impartial.

The Supreme Court's order today said its action was without prejudice to another petition for a writ of habeas corpus that is now pending in the United States District Court in Missouri.

Movie Censorship.

The Supreme Court refused to review a lower court decision that a movie censorship law in Pennsylvania is unconstitutional. The refusal means that the decision, made by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, is permitted to stand.

The censorship law called for approval of films by a three-member board appointed by the governor. Anyone showing a disapproved film could be fined and jailed. The state court held that the law "plainly violates" federal and state constitutions. The state government appealed on the ground the decision gave a clear road to "smutmongers."

The Supreme Court denied a hearing to two union officers adjudged in contempt for refusing to answer questions about a longshoremen's work stoppage during a hearing by the Waterfront Commission of New York harbor.

The union officers are William Murphy, an organizer for the Longshoremen, and John Moody Sr., a business agent for a Hoboken local.

They were fined $50 each and ordered to be imprisoned until they were willing to answer questions. They were allowed to remain at liberty, however, pending outcome of appeals.

Lawyer Wins Hearing.

By United Press International.

The Supreme Court granted a hearing to a young Toledo lawyer, Merritt W. Green, who advised his client to disobey a court order.

The ruling meant the court will hear arguments in the case some time before the end of the current term and will follow with a written opinion.

Green was sentenced to 10 days in prison and fined $500 for advising his client to disobey a court order barring picketing.

U.S. Believed to Have Reached Some Russians With Test News

'Voice' Competes Against 2000 Jamming Transmitters for Eight Hours—Some Success Indicated.

By TAD SZULC
© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—The United States was believed to have been partly successful in an eight-hour radio contest yesterday with 2000 Soviet jamming transmitters in an effort to broadcast truth messages to the Soviet Union about Russian nuclear tests.

Late reports from monitoring stations here and around the world said that although the Russians added jammers from the satellite countries to their own interference effort, the jamming ranged from heavy on some frequencies to weak and ineffectual on others.

The tentative evaluation at the Voice of America headquarters here was that enough of the story of the Soviet nuclear testing got through to Soviet listeners to have made the undertaking worthwhile.

Admittedly, no body will ever know how many Russians heard the broadcasts. The estimates on how many persons in the Soviet Union listen to normal Voice broadcasts range from 500,000 to 6,000,000 persons.

52 Transmitters Used.

The Voice employed 52 transmitters broadcasting simultaneously over up to 80 different frequencies. It asked the Soviet populations in eight languages "have you been told?", about the tests, and then proceeded to tell them all about them in painstaking and dramatic detail.

In little more than two months, the Soviet Union has exploded 31 nuclear devices in the atmosphere, including one with a yield superior to 50 megatons (the equivalent of 50,000,000 tons of TNT), but until now the Soviet public has not been informed, nor has it been told of the world-wide protests against the testing.

The Voice broadcast its message in English, Russian, Armenian, Georgian, Ukrainian, Estonian, Latvian and Lithuanian.

Since Soviet jamming is a normal practice against the Voice programs, last night's special broadcasts had been announced repeatedly since last Wednesday on the regular transmission. Because jamming is never 100 per cent successful, the Voice concluded that there was considerable advantage in alerting its short-wave listeners, as well as the jammers, ahead of time.

Medium Wave Equipment.

The Voice also sent its programs over its medium-wave transmitter in Munich, Germany, and another one in Berlin. The Russians seldom jam medium-wave broadcasts, it was said here.

The first reports from the Voice's electronic monitors in Washington said that atmospheric conditions were unusually good and that "the Soviet interference was unable to block the broadcasts on many of the 80 frequencies."

The monitors reported that the Soviet jammers, which let the first hour in English be broadcast unmolested, threw all their 2000 stations into action within 90 seconds of the start of the Russian-language broadcast. The broadcast in Estonian had four minutes of non-interference as the Soviet jammers apparently searched for the frequencies.

Leaning heavily on quotations from United Nations debates and from statesmen from the non-aligned nations and the Soviet Union's neighbors, as well as from leftist spokesmen in the world's parliaments, the program asked, "The Socialists of the world were on record against the Soviet tests . . . have you been told?"

It cited Soviet scientific publications and the words of Soviet scientists to describe the perils of atomic radiation, and quoted from a speech by Soviet Premier Khrushchev last year that "the government which would be the first to begin nuclear weapon testing would take upon itself a heavy responsibility before the people."

60 FEARED LOST, SHIP SINKS IN MEDITERRANEAN

Scottish Cargo Vessel Goes Down After an Explosion — Only 8 of Crew Rescued.

TUNIS, Nov. 6 (AP)—The 7129-ton Scottish cargo ship Clan Keith sank in a storm-tossed Mediterranean off the northern Tunisian coast early today after an explosion aboard. Only eight of its 68 European officers and Pakistani crewmen were known to have survived.

"We have little hope for the others," said the Tunis radio coordinating center. It said eight men were rescued from heavy seas and that one rescue vessel radioed it recovered two bodies.

Several ships in the area reported finding debris from the Clan Keith, including a heavily damaged lifeboat.

The ship's owners reported the survivors included the skipper, Capt. Pitts Jackson.

Radio messages intercepted in Tunis said the explosion on the Clan Keith occurred around midnight and the ship sank in several minutes. A storm had battered the North African coast in the night.

The 19-year-old ship had been chartered to the British India Co. and had a crew of 21 Europeans and 47 Pakistanis. The owners, the Clan Line Steamers of Glasgow, announced. A spokesman said the vessel sailed from Southampton Oct. 28 for Ceylon with a cargo of chemicals, steel filings and cast iron pipe. Normally the ship hauled vegetable oil.

Port authorities said the Clan Keith sank 11 miles north of the Island of Galite, which is northeast of the Tunisian Mediterranean port of Tabarka.

Japanese Freighter Sinks After Collision With Greek Ship.

TOKYO, Nov. 6 (AP)—The Greek freighter Eury Barex and the Japanese freighter Eizan Maru collided at the mouth of Tokyo bay yesterday.

The Eizan Maru sank. Seventeen of its 19 crew members were rescued by the Greek freighter. Two were listed missing.

14 Flee from East Germany.

GOETTINGEN, Germany, Nov. 6 (AP) — Fourteen East Germans escaped to the West across the heavily mined Iron Curtain frontier near here last night, West German border police reported today.

PARLEY SERIES COST WILL TOP $1,000,000, SAYS G.O.P. LEADER

Francis Corley Calls for City, State, Federal Accounting of Payments for Regional Sessions.

The cost of the series of 12 White House Regional Conferences, including one in St. Louis tomorrow and Wednesday, "is likely to exceed $1,000,000," Francis C. Corley, Republican National Committeeman from Missouri, charged today.

He called for a full accounting of all costs incurred by the State of Missouri, the City of St. Louis and the Federal Government in connection with the conference here.

Gov. John M. Dalton said in Jefferson City today that the state is spending no money on the conference to be held here and that he will pay his own expenses to attend the meeting.

Dalton's statement was in response to earlier charges by United States Representative Thomas B. Curtis (Rep.), Webster Groves, that the series of conferences was nothing but "partisan politics at the taxpayers' expense."

Charges Lack of Right.

Corley, in a statement, charged that the Kennedy Administration had no authorization to put on the "political rallies" and, so far as he knew, the State of Missouri had no authorization to finance the cost of the invitations and programs, nor does the city have authorization to offer Kiel Auditorium free of charge for such a program.

Aldermanic President A. J. Cervantes, acting mayor while Mayor Raymond R. Tucker is out of the city, today made public his reply to Curtis's inquiry about use of Kiel Auditorium for the meetings.

Cervantes wrote Curtis that the auditorium is being provided without rental charge "as is customary for all nonprofit, nonadmission-charging, civic, educational and cultural programs." Out-of-pocket expenses incurred in operating the facilities for the conference are being met by the host committee for the conference, he said.

"Conservative estimates show that the value of the time and travel expenses incurred by federal employes in their appearances in a dozen cities should exceed $172,500," Corley said. "The New Frontier is not a very conservative program, however, and the total bill to the taxpayers is likely to exceed $1,000,000."

The announced purpose of the series of conferences is to seek the views of state and local officials and of interested individuals on domestic policies and programs and report back to Washington.

Called Hunt for Support.

"Actually," Corley said, "the conferences are being held to drum up support for the something-for-everybody programs of the New Frontier. They are seeking popular approval of the wild-eyed proposals flatly rejected by a wise Congress.

"They are using our money to sell us socialized medicine, blank-check foreign aid, the virtues of deficit spending and inflation, and federal control of our public schools."

Corley urged all citizens to attend the conferences "to insure that they serve their announced purposes." He said that, in the future, local Republican groups will demand use of Kiel Auditorium without charge.

Republican National Committee Chairman William E. Miller put a political tag on the conferences in a statement issued in Washington yesterday. He said the Democratic National Committee, not the taxpayers, should pay the expenses of the federal officials participating in the series of meetings.

Legality Questioned.

Miller questioned the legality of using federal funds for the meetings because, he said, they "are designed to influence legislation."

Sam Brightman, deputy chairman of the Democratic National Committee in Washington, termed Miller's statement "legalistic nonsense."

Gov. Dalton told reporters in Jefferson City he was "sorry the conference had to get into a political controversy, since it is a nonpartisan affair designed to better inform our citizens of their government."

At the conference here, Dalton will introduce Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff, who will be among more than 40 members of the Kennedy Administration attending the meeting.

Tour for Participants.

Federal participants in the White House Regional Conference, accompanied by St. Louis civic leaders, will be taken on a tour of urban renewal and housing developments, university housing and facilities for the aging tomorrow morning, it was announced today.

Subjects to be considered at tomorrow afternoon's sessions of the conference at Kiel Auditorium are "Opportunities for Our Cities" and "Opportunities for Our Senior Citizens."

Tomorrow's tour will include the Webbe and Plaza Apartments, Mill Creek Valley Renewal Project, Marquette Hall at St. Louis University, St. Louis Chronic Hospital, Good Samaritan Home for the Aged and the Kosciusko Redevelopment area.

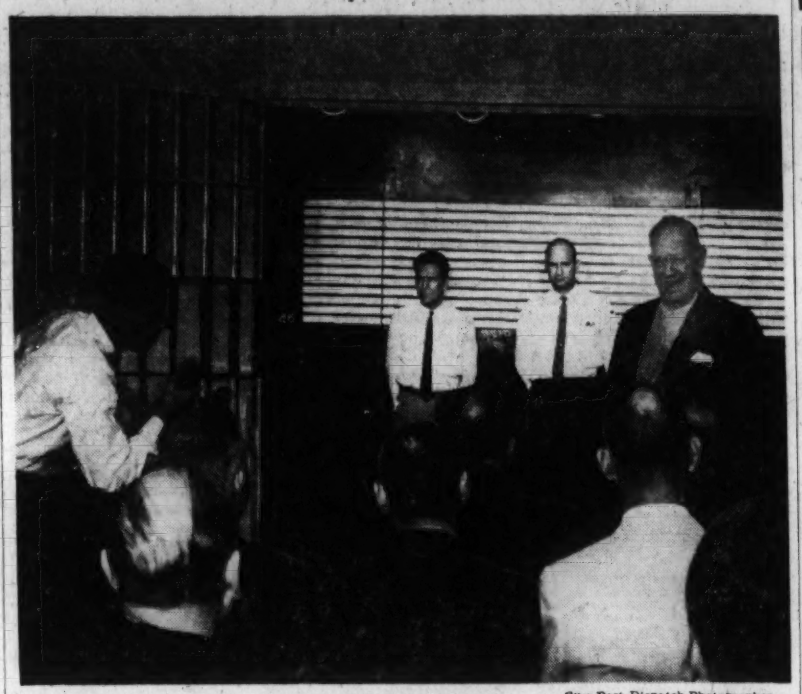

A similar tour is being arranged for Wednesday morning for the representatives of the Federal Government who will participate in Wednesday afternoon's sessions of the White House Conference.

CRANE LIFTS PAIR IN BOAT TO SAFETY AT ALTON DAM

A crane was used to rescue two hunters whose boat, with a stalled engine, drifted into a lock at the Alton dam yesterday.

The hunters, Robert Sanich, 7115 Edison avenue, and Joseph Gasper, 7013 Glenmore avenue, both of Normandy, were spotted by a Missouri Highway Patrol plane as the boat moved toward the lock, where it would be in danger of being sucked under the gate at the downstream end.

The pilot radioed Alton police, who notified the Alton Volunteer Emergency Corps. Corps members sought aid from personnel at the dam and the crane was put into operation. The boat and its occupants were hoisted to the top of the dam.

MAN CASHES $122 PENSION CHECK, IS GRABBED, ROBBED

Ozie Flagg, retired, 2606 Belle Glade avenue, reported to police today that he was robbed of $122 at Tenth street and Washington avenue shortly after cashing a pension check for that amount at the Bank of St. Louis, Ninth street and Washington.

Flagg told police he was robbed by two men, both Negroes. He said one of the men grabbed him from the rear and held him while the other robber reached in his pockets and took the money. He said the robbers did not display weapons.

He said the robbery occurred at 10 a.m. Flagg did not report it until 12:30 p.m. He told police he was reluctant to report it immediately because he wanted to go home.

WOMAN SHOT IN DISPUTE, POLICE SEEKING HUSBAND

Mrs. Dewey Boyer, 39 years old, was shot and seriously wounded early yesterday by her husband in a dispute in their home at 4022A Laclede avenue, police reported.

Mrs. Boyer told police her husband came home late Saturday night. He had been drinking, she said, and a dispute ensued, during which she struck him with a pitcher. Boyer got a .38-caliber revolver from the bedroom and fired one shot at her, she said. The bullet struck her in the abdomen.

Boyer, 49 years old, fled after the shooting and is being sought. Mrs. Boyer was taken to City Hospital.

MAURY RUBIN FINED $5 IN TRAFFIC CASE

Maury Rubin, managing editor of the St. Louis Labor Tribune, was fined $5 today when he was found guilty by Police Judge Morris Rosenthal of driving with glaring headlights.

Judge Rosenthal dismissed charges against Rubin of general peace disturbance and interfering with a police officer. He dismissed also charges against Mrs. Rubin of driving under the influence of alcohol, peace disturbance and interfering with an officer.

The charges against the Rubins grew out of a disturbance after they were stopped in the 4900 block of Delmar boulevard by police early in the morning of July 31.

The officers, Patrolmen James McCarty and Richard Woolverton, said they told Rubin his headlights were too bright. Both Rubin and his wife got out of the car and began berating and cursing them, the officers said.

Mrs. Rubin started to get back into the car, saying she was going to drive to their home at 45 Washington terrace, the police related. When one of the officers attempted to restrain the woman, Rubin interfered it was stated.

Mrs. Rubin backed the car into the police vehicle, damaging it. Both the man and his wife then were arrested.

Mr. and Mrs. Rubin denied they had berated and cursed the officers or that they had obstructed them. Mrs. Rubin said she was not intoxicated.

A hearing on additional charges against Mrs. Rubin of destruction of city property and careless backing was postponed by Judge Rosenthal until Dec. 18.

JOHN A. BUSH DIES; FORMER HEAD OF BROWN SHOE CO.

John A. Bush, former president and chairman of the board of Brown Shoe Co., died today. He was 79 years old.

Mr. Bush started with the shoe concern in 1897 at the age of 14 as an office boy and substitute elevator operator. He worked his way up through various sales and superintendency posts until 1912, when he was named vice president. In 1915 he was appointed president, succeeding the company's founder, George Warren Brown.

Mr. Bush retired from the presidency of the firm in 1948, but continued as chairman of the board until last January. He lived at 6807 Waterman avenue, University City. Surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Theodore F. Schroth; two sisters, Mrs. Helen B. Ridder of New York City and Miss Mildred D. Bush, who lived with him, and two granddaughters. His wife died in 1947.

WEEKLY PRISONER LINE-UP STARTED AT COUNTY JAIL

A weekly line-up of prisoners in the St. Louis county jail was started by Sheriff Frank L. Malone yesterday.

Malone said the main purpose is to help police from this area become familiar with law violators who are scheduled for release.

Fifteen men prisoners and five women were in the line-up yesterday. Thirty-five policemen from St. Louis, municipalities in St. Louis county and the sheriff's office observed them.

The line-up will be held each Sunday, Malone said.

COLLINSVILLE SUPERMARKET SAFE BLOWN, $1500 STOLEN

A supermarket at 108 St. Louis road, Collinsville, was robbed of $1500 over the weekend by burglars who blew open a safe which had 12-inch-thick concrete and steel walls.

Entry to the one-story building was gained through a roof air vent and by knocking a hole through the ceiling. The safe was moved from the front of the store to the rear. Police said the robbers apparently were professionals, using a high explosive. The safe was demolished.

The robbers left by a rear door, removing hinge bolts from the door. The robbery was discovered yesterday morning by a janitor.

ERROR ON SLIDE SHOWING

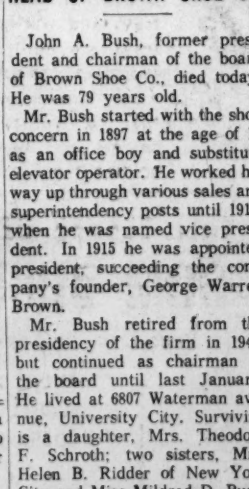

It was erroneously stated in yesterday's Post-Dispatch that Miss Mary E. Ambler, librarian at Blackburn College, Carlinville, Ill., will show slides of her visit to the Soviet Union at St. Louis County Public Library headquarters in Clayton.

The fact is that Miss Ambler will show the slides at the Tesson Ferry branch of the library, 9920 Lin-Ferry drive, Concord Village, Thursday at 8 p.m.

EAST SIDE YOUTH FOUND INSANE IN KILLING OF MAN

Joseph R. Rhodes Had Confessed Shooting —To Go To Security Hospital.

Joseph R. Rhodes, who confessed he killed William Rodgers last June 12 in St. Clair county, was found to be insane today by a jury in circuit court at Belleville.

Rhodes, 19 years old, was committed by Circuit Judge Joseph E. Fleming to the Illinois Department of Welfare. He will be sent to the security hospital at Chester.

Two court-appointed psychiatrists, Dr. Groves B. Smith, of Godfrey, and Dr. John H. McMahan, Belleville, testified they had examined Rhodes and found that he was incapable of understanding the nature of the charge against him. They said they believed he would be unable to aid a lawyer in his defense.

The jury returned its verdict after deliberating only 20 minutes.

Rodgers, of 1542 South G street, East St. Louis, a laborer, was found shot to death near a highway about seven miles south of Belleville.

Rhodes, who was arrested later as a suspect in two tavern holdups, confessed that he shot Rodgers. He said Rodgers picked him up at Nineteenth street and Lawrence avenue, East St. Louis. Rhodes drew a revolver and forced Rodgers to drive to the area of the murder, the youth said.

Rhodes told police he robbed Rodgers of $3 and then shot him with a pistol as he lay on the ground. Rhodes, of the 2700 block of Market avenue, East St. Louis, was discharged from military service early this year.

50 HOMES ARE DAMAGED OR DESTROYED BY BRUSH FIRE

SHERMAN OAKS, Calif., Nov. 6 (UPI)—A brush fire, spread by 100-mile-an-hour winds it generated, destroyed or damaged at least 50 homes today.

Fire officials evacuated 1300 students from two schools, 200 residents and employes of the exclusive Bel Air Hotel and hundreds of expensive homes.

Three persons were reported injured, two of them when fleeing their homes. The other was a fireman.

Suit to Test Sale of Normandy Junior College to Missouri U.

Seeks to Force Signing of Deed by School Board Head Who Objects to Lack of Bidding.

The Missouri Supreme Court will be asked to order the president of the Normandy Board of Education to sign a deed for the sale of the district's junior college to the University of Missouri, it was announced today.

John H. Lashly, attorney for the Normandy school board, said proceedings to obtain a writ of mandamus from the Supreme Court would be initiated this week.

The school board approved by a 5-to-1 vote the sale of the two-year residence center at 8001 Natural Bridge road, Normandy, for $60,000, but Board President Fred R. Small refused to sign the deed of sale, contending that the transaction might be illegal.

Small questioned the legality of the action on the ground the district had not advertised the property for sale to the highest bidder. He emphasized that he voted against selling the property to the university only for this reason, and not because he was opposed to the university's taking it over.

In seeking to acquire the 128-acre site, the university said it would expand the present two-year liberal arts residence center into a four-year branch of the university if the State Legislature appropriates the money to finance such an undertaking.

After Small voted against the resolution to sell the residence center to the university, the board, at a meeting Saturday evening, agreed to proceed with legal action to clarify the matter. If the courts hold that the transaction was legal, Small said, he will sign the deed.

The Normandy school district purchased the property in 1958 for $600,000 after voters approved a bond issue. The property was formerly the Bellerive Country Club. About $75,000 was spent renovating the clubhouse so it could be used as a school.

Explaining the reason the board was willing to sell the residence center for $540,000 less than it paid for it three years ago, A. L. McKain Jr., vice president, said:

"If there is a way to bring a four-year college into our community in return for the same investment intended originally to produce only a smaller junior college, and if we can help the whole St. Louis area while improving our own position without further district investment in upkeep or development, we are viewing the cash consideration as relatively unimportant."

McKain noted that the amount of money which the university had available for the purchase was limited. In authorizing University President Elmer Ellis to negotiate for the property, the Board of Curators imposed a ceiling on the offer Ellis could make. The money for the purchase was from sources other than State Legislature appropriations, such as accumulated gifts.

In accepting the $60,000 offer, the Normandy school board recognized that limited funds were available and that the university's campuses at Columbia and Rolla originated as gifts from those communities, McKain said.

McKain said board members "have been swamped with letters and phone calls from residents urging the property's transfer for a university branch." He added that many real estate men have said property values would be enhanced by such a move, and parents of school children "naturally show great enthusiasm for the additional opportunities and economies in prospect for their children's education."

The $600,000 in bonds which Normandy voters approved for acquisition of the country club are general obligation bonds to be retired over a 20-year period. A tax of 5 cents on each $100 of assessed property valuation was originally imposed to pay off the bonds, but this was reduced to 3.8 cents after a general reassessment of property in the school district resulted in an increase in the assessed valuation.

The residence center opened in September 1959. It now has 453 students. The University of Missouri furnishes the faculty and the school district maintains and administers the two-year facility. The entire operating costs are paid through a tuition charge of $15 per semester hour. In addition, students who are not residents of Normandy school district pay a special fee.

Earl of Snowdon Back to Work.

LONDON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Princess Margaret's husband, the Earl of Snowdon, went back to work today, three days after his wife gave birth to a son. He is an unpaid adviser to London's Council of Industrial Design. The princess and baby were reported "progressing very nicely."

NEW ASSIGNMENTS FOR CIRCUIT JUDGES

Court Officials in City Will Take Up New Duties Jan. 1.

Assignments of St. Louis circuit judges effective Jan. 1, 1962, were announced today by the judges following a general term meeting.

Four judges assigned to criminal division are: Franklin E. Reagan, criminal assignment division; Oswald P. Owen, division 10; Waldo C. Mayfield, division 11, and William H. Killoren, division 12.

Assignments to civil divisions were: Robert L. Aronson, division 1, which is the jury assignment division for the civil courts; Michael J. Scott, division 2, an equity division, and James F. Nangle, to division 3, an equity divison.

David J. Murphy was assigned to division 16, and James E. McLaughlin was assigned to division 15, both domestic relations.

The following judges were assigned to law divisions: John C. Casey, Robert J. Kirkwood, William K. Koerner, Ivan Lee Holt, Theodore McMillian, J. Casey Walsh, William G. Buder and Jahn K. Regan. David A. McMullan was assigned to the juvenile court division.

The criminal division, equity division and juvenile division assignments are for one year. The other assignments are for six months.

NAVY CEREMONY AT NEW LAMBERT TRAINING CENTER

(Picture in Everyday Magazine.)

Commissioning ceremonies were held yesterday for the new United States Naval and Marine Corps Reserve Training Center at Lambert-St. Louis Field. The center replaces facilities at the foot of Ferry street which were described as crowded and obsolete.

Rear Admiral Ira H. Nunn, commandant of the Ninth Naval District, accepted the new building and transferred it to Comdr. L. W. Seymour, commanding officer of the local center.

Capt. Don C. Bowman Jr., of Naval Reserve, assumed command of Naval Reserve Surface Brigade 9-7, replacing Capt. Robert L. Bence, Naval Reserve.

St. Louis's two Coast Guard Reserve units also moved into the new training center. They are Organized Reserve Training Units, Port Security 02-225 and 0-226. Rear Admiral Oscar C. Rohnke, commander of the Second Coast Guard District, represented the Coast Guard at the ceremonies.

nation Saturday to the Post-Dispatch after Dalton told a reporter he had heard Leggett "was planning to resign."

"If he should resign," the Governor said, "it probably will be because I wanted a stronger man for the job."

Denies Action Was Forced.

Dalton emphatically denied he had been forced to dismiss Leggett, but said several persons had approached him about it. He said others had asked him to retain the superintendent.

"No one influenced my action on any appointment," he said. "If someone does try to put pressure on me, I don't pay any attention to it."

Leggett lost favor with several St. Louis insurance men when he successfully opposed a fire insurance rate bill they had proposed during the last session of the legislature. Dalton had not taken sides in the fight and said today he had agreed with Leggett on the measure.

Leggett, 65 years old, said he planned to take a vacation and then enter the insurance consulting field. "I have gained a great deal of experience and think I could be successful in such a venture," he said.

He has been a state employe since 1933, when he went to work in the office of the state auditor. He moved to the insurance department as a senior examiner in 1937 and held that post until he was appointed superintendent in 1949 by former Gov. Forrest Smith. He was reappointed by former Govs. Phil M. Donnelly and James T. Blair and remained in office for 10 months under Dalton.

Tear Gas

Donovan followed. He said he had managed to last longer than the others in the gas-filled apartment by lying on the kitchen floor and wrapping his face in a wet towel.

Permission to search the apartment was received from the building owner. Police found a .45-caliber automatic pistol under a bed. There were five shells in the clip and one in the chamber. The weapon was stamped, "Property of the U.S. Army."

In the driveway were two automobiles. One belonged to Bubenyak. The other has a Nebraska license issued to Harvey Miller, who has long been known to police as the leader of a gang of safe crackers. Miller was not in the apartment.

Hickey, Donovan and Miller were arrested and questioned last Sept. 15 in the gang-style killing of Richard S. Hannon, ex-convict burglar who formerly was a member of the gang. All were released without charge.

East St. Louis police questioned Hickey, Donovan and Bubenyak about three recent safe burglaries at Granite City, Collinsville and Belleville in which more than $5000 was stolen.

Two Autos in Driveway.

Donovan served two three-year terms for burglary and larceny, and has been arrested six other times for investigation. Bubenyak served two prison terms, once for burglary of the home of Stan Musial, Cardinal baseball star.

Hickey served part of a 15-year term in the Missouri Penitentiary for second degree murder, beginning the sentence in 1949. East St. Louis police said a felony warrant charging Hickey with carrying a concealed weapon is on file at Omaha, Nebr.

Test Ban Talks

broken off ni September as the Soviet Union completed preparations for its current test series. Participants in the Geneva talks were the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union.

The resolution was the Western answer to an Asian-African resolution, now awaiting final action by the General Assembly. This called for a new voluntary mortorium on tests without control and inspection.

No 'Self-Inspection.'

The U.S.-British resolution asked for cessation of tests under a treaty setting up inspection and control machinery "adequate to insure compliance," and would not permit "self-inspection." Dayt-o-Day functions of the control system would not be subject to veto.

Before the vote, Russia declared that the true aim of the United States and its Western Allies in demanding the treaty they described was to maintain military supremacy.

Tsarapkin told the committee:

"Everyone now understands that the United States pursues one goal—to tie the hands of the Soviet Union and to give a preponderance to the United States in the nuclear weapons field. The United States follows a policy directly opposed to disarmament. Their goal is not disarmament but nuclear preponderance."

Hints at More Tests.

The Soviet spokesman tacitly implied that Russia would continue testing in the atmosphere until it had attained the mark "of about 200 (tests), give or take a few," carried out by all Western powers. He said that the threat of President Kennely to resume atmospheric testing would only stimuate the contest.

He asserted that every nation had the right to defend itself, and that an increase in the quantity of explosions by the West would lead as a matter of course, to additional tests by the Soviet Union. The Geneva nuclear test ban conference was a "screen" to permit continued American testing, he said.

Tsarapkin insisted Russia had a right to adjust the nuclear inequality which, he said, had existed since the United States dropped the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima near the end of the war with Japan. American testing continued thereafter, he added.

He contended that the issues of disarmament and nuclear testing could not be divided, as sought by the United States and Britain. The arms race and testing could be ended immediately and be carried out under international controls if the United States should sign a treaty agreeing to both items, he said.

Latin States Vote to Back U.S. Position on Tests.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—The Western Hemisphere nations criticized the Soviet Union's atomic tests and voted overwhelmingly today in support of the United States position on nuclear testing.

Only Cuba abstained from voting on a resolution approved by the Organization of American States (OAS) council in extraordinary session.

The resolution expressed the American nations' "deep concern" over the Soviet Union's explosion of a 50-megaton nuclear device, while "brazenly ignoring" a United Nations resolution asking it to refrain from exploding the device.

The resolution urged the United Nations to "continue and intensify efforts to obtain the establishment of a system of effective controls to insure the end of nuclear explosions which imperil human life and the welfare of the people of the world."

arrangement on the Communist-controlled autobahn linking West Berlin with West Germany and secreted her under a dummy rear seat he had built of plywood.

Halted by East German police for a search of the car at the Berlin checkpoint, he stepped on the gas and crashed through the barrier at 60 miles an hour. The rear window was smashed, and six bullets pierced the car, but the couple reached safety unscratched.

West German authorities reported that 5366 refugees were registered in camp in October. Most of them were escapees already in the West when the Communists closed the border nearly three months ago.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay said today the Communist wall dividing this city "is something we must never forget nor forgive until man is free again everywhere."

"We shall neither forget the wall nor bandon hope for the day when it comes down and Berlin is united again," President Kennedy's representative in Berlin said in a speech opning a United States - sponsored photographic exhibit.

The pictures show scenes along the brick and barbed-wire border. They were put on display in a former reading room of Amerika Haus, the United States information center in West Berlin.

Before the Reds sealed the border Aug. 13, Clay said, the room was visited by nearly 1000 East Germans a day to "read the uncensored news report of the free world which was denied them by their puppet regime."

Bond Issue

aided neighborhood conservation and rehabilitation programs will benefit from the $5,000,000 for urban renewal.

These are the Tandy neighborhood, which is bounded by Whittier avenue, Kingshighway, Easton and Natural Bridge avenues, and the Murphy area, bounded by the Mark Twain Expressway, Jefferson avenue, Delmar boulevard and Palm street.

Extensive rehabilitation will be necessary, but structurally sound buildings will be retained. Every dollar spent by the city in these projects will be matched with two dollars of federal funds.

Neighborhood Maintenance.

A separate item of $2,000,000 for neighborhood rehabilitation is designed to complement the program shared by the city and federal government, the committee said. The money would be used to maintain and improve neighborhoods which have begun to deteriorate.

The program thus far "has successfully stabilized property values and prevented the spread of slums and blight into neighborhoods where the housing is still basically sound," the committee said. The aims of the program are to bring dwellings up to good standards, by planning and improving neighborhood facilities such as parks and streets, and to stimulate citizen interest and a sense of responsibility among residents of the community.

Additional street lighting in residential and commercial areas will result if the $4,000,000 for lighting is approved. Sixty per cent will be used for residential areas. Repairs are necessary in the old underground cable system which is badly deteriorated.

Two Downtown Blocks.

The bulk of the expenditure for parks and playgrounds would be used to acquire two blocks bounded by Broadway and Seventh, Market and Chestnut streets, for development of a plaza. The plaza would link the stadium area and the downtown business district eventually would be part of a greenway from the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial to the Civil Courts Building and west to Twentieth street.

Park money also would be used to acquire and develop a new park and playground adjacent to a housing project being built in the area bounded by Grand boulevard, Compton and Easton avenues and Delmar boulevard.

The $200,000 for Tower Grove would be used for roads, walks, curbing, a new comfort station, a new locker room with showers new tennis courts, a parking lot and improvement of the building at the Arsenal street entrance.

Supplemental Fund.

Money recommended for a new juvenile court and detention home would supplement the $700,000 in the 1955 bond issue. It would permit the building to be constructed and equipped. A site on Vandeventer place has been acquired.

The structure would have facilities for up to 75 children.

New facilities at Missouri Hills, which houses delinquent boys from 12 to 16 years old, are needed because the emphasis at the institution has been changed from farming to full-time education, the committee noted.

The proposed new building would have storage space, a maintenance shop and a gymnasium. The building now used for industrial arts then could be remodeled into a 10-room school, the committee said.

The incinerator is needed because the institution is located in an unincorporated area of St. Louis county which has no garbage or rubbish collection, the committee reported.

Money recommended for a city-county airport would provide the city's share of the cost of development and would not be spent unless matched by funds from St. Louis county, the committee said. The report pointed to the rapid increase in private aviation which has taxed facilities at Lambert-St. Louis Field to the point where congestion represents a definite hazzard.

"By providing the city's share of the funds for a city-county airport, the voters of St. Louis can lessen the danger of tragic crashes such as have occurred in other cities," the report stated.

Bond issue funds for surfacing streets are exhausted, the committee said, and $750,000 of the proposed issue would be used for that purpose. Both arterial and residential streets would be improved.

The 1955 bond issue funds, totaling $2,000,000, were spent on arterial streets only. About 100 miles of streets were resurfaced, the committee said. There are about 300 miles of arterial streets and about 1100 miles of streets of all kinds in the city.

Fund for Memorial Area.

Another $350,000 would be used to improve streets in the vicinity of the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial in anticipation of heavy volumes of traffic that one day will be traveling in the vicinity.

Carr street, five blocks north of the memorial, and Chouteau avenue, five blocks south, would be improved between the Mississippi river and the Third Street Expressway, and a new road would be built between Poplar street and Chouteau.

The city also must build a new service drive from Poplar street into the northbound lanes of the Third Street Expressway, the committee said, and will have to reconstruct parts of the levee.

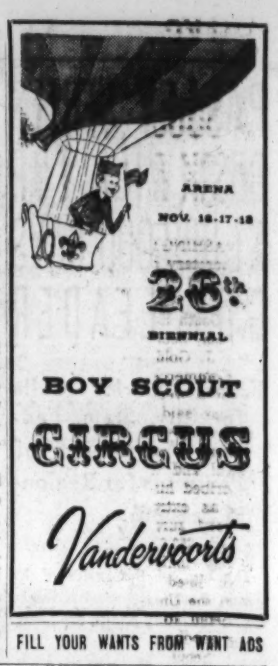

Money proposed for public library expansion would be used to build branch libraries in areas of greatest need, the committee said. Neighborhoods where libraries are operated in schools probably would have first priority, the report stated.

Escalators for Auditorium.

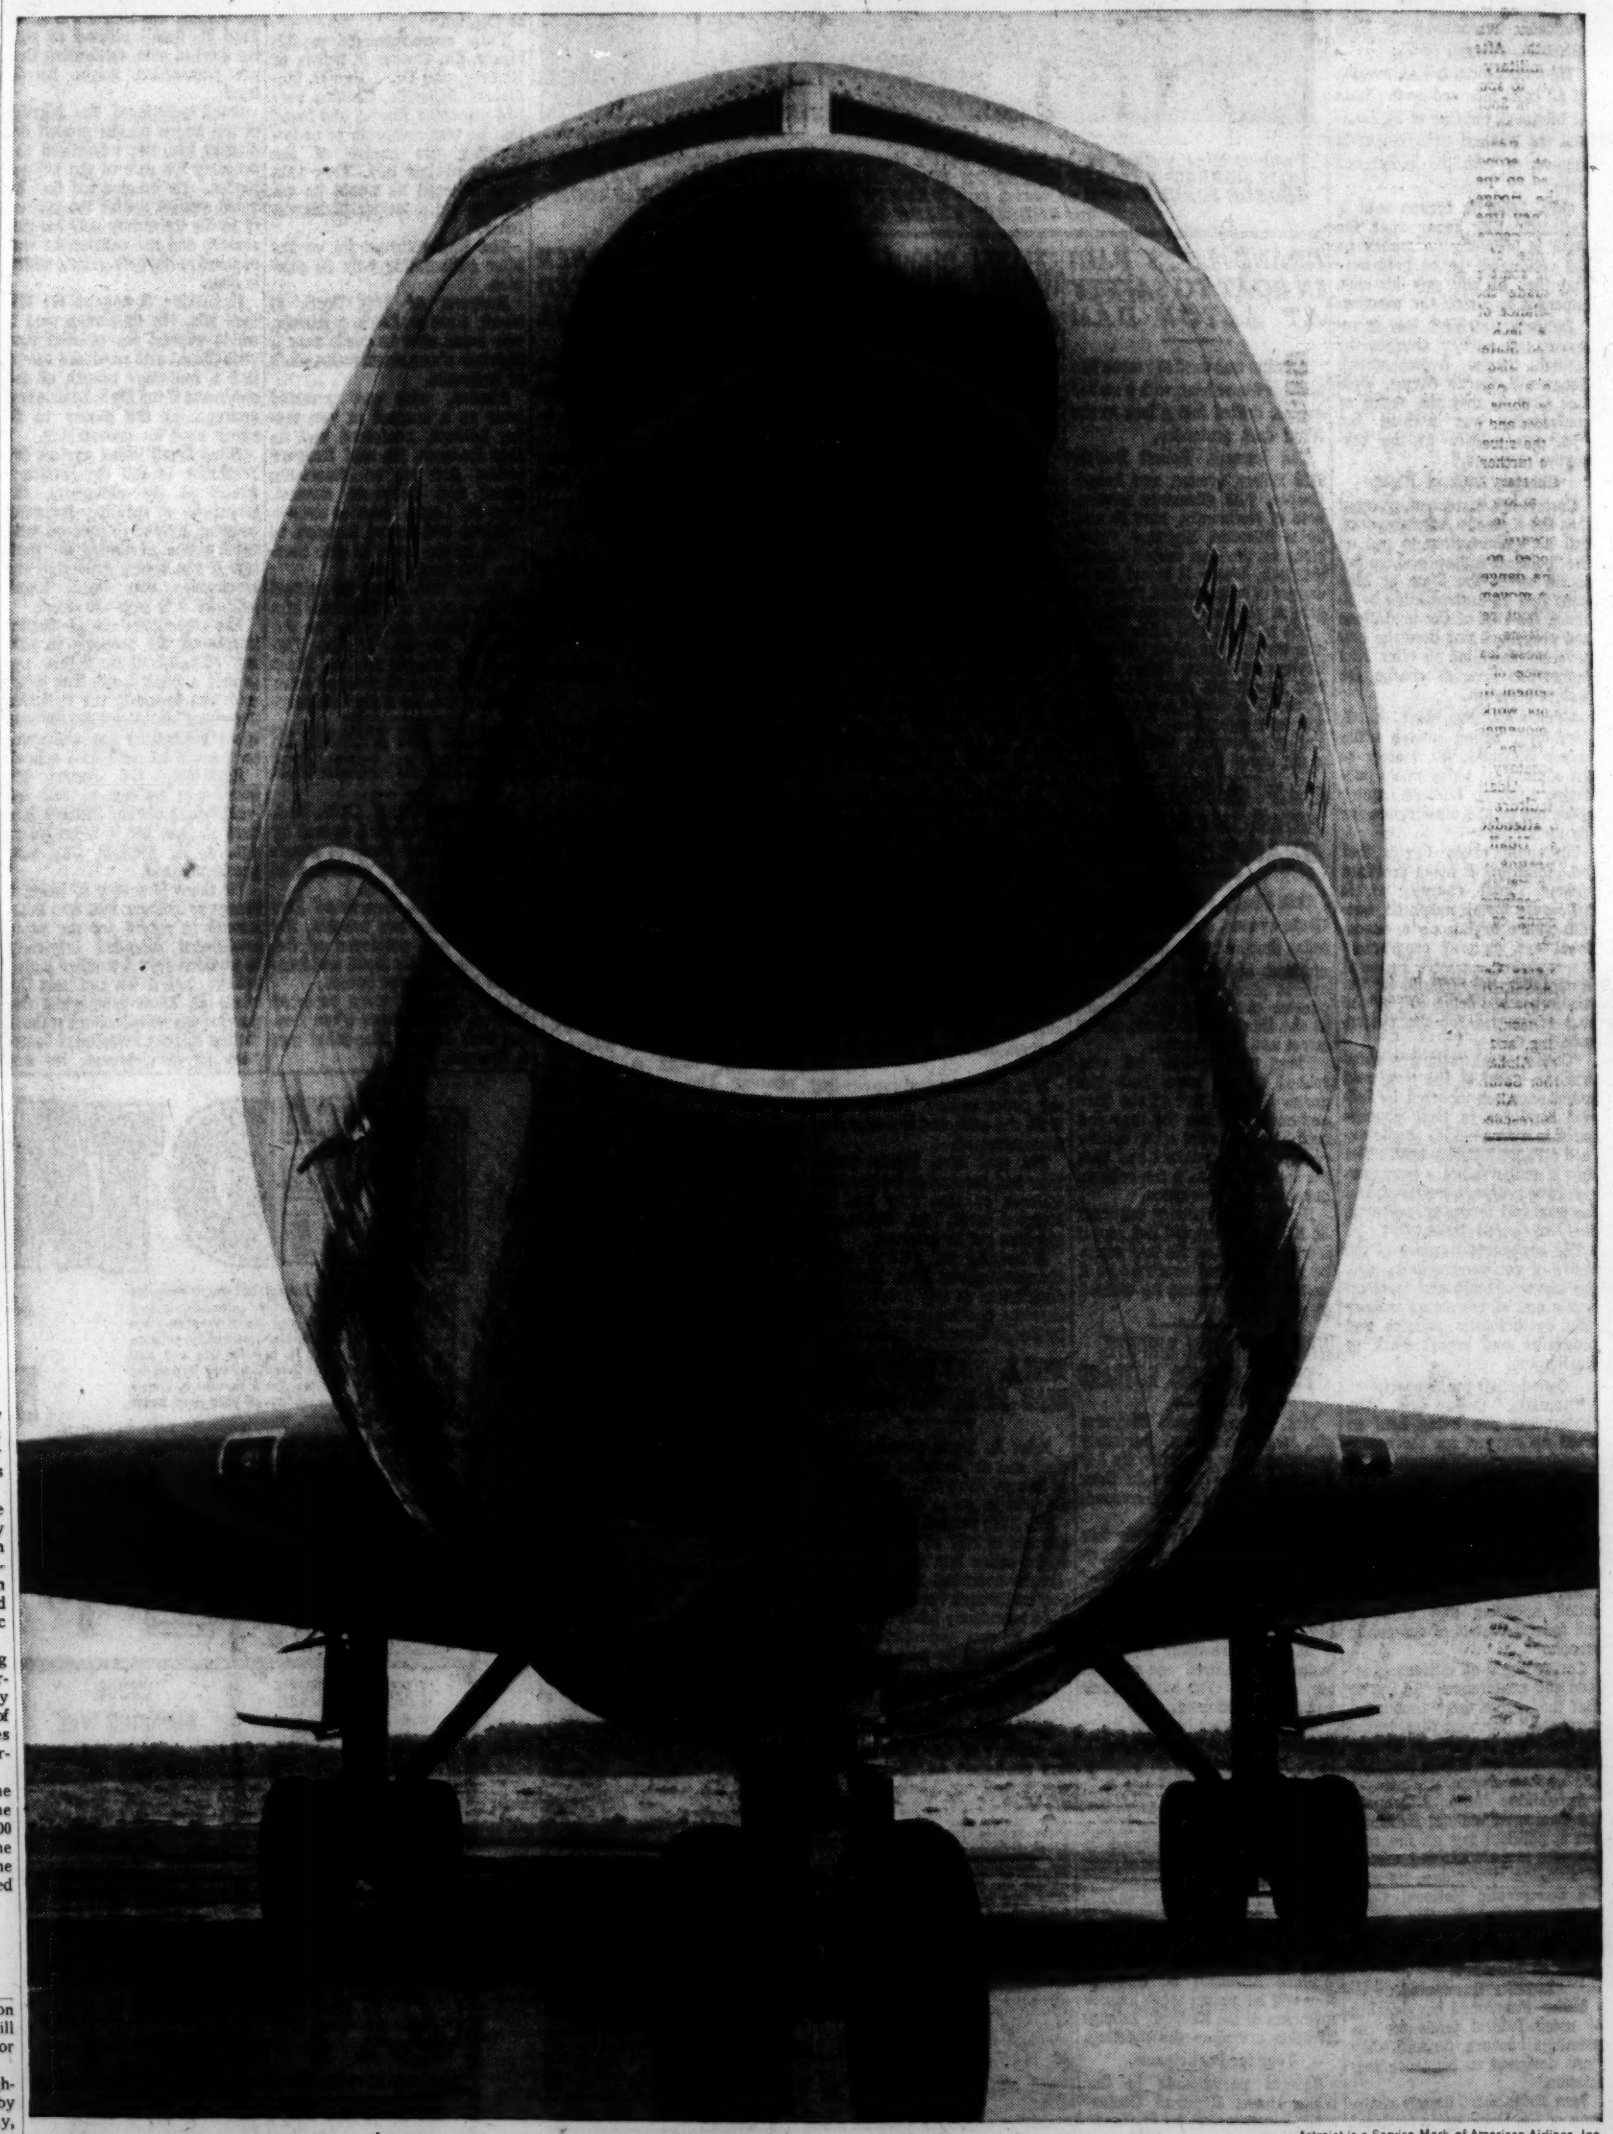

Installation of escalators or some other sort of passenger conveyor at Kiel Auditorium, at a cost of $300,000, was proposed. The committee said the present ramp system of 12 elevations "is a long, tiring climb" and the elevator at the stage door is inadequate to serve persons unable to climb the ramps.

"All seats in the upper and lower balconies of the Convention Hall would become more accessible and consequently more desirable if passenger conveyors were installed," the committee said.

Courtroom renovation would include lower ceilings treated to improve acoustical conditions, new lighting, new floor coverings, replacement of rotted windows, repair or replacement of judges' benches, jury boxes, desks and furniture, and, if funds are sufficient, installation of an amplification system.

Astrojet is a Service Mark of American Airlines, Inc.

Why are Astrojets so happy?

Because they get such meticulous care from one of the most expert maintenance departments in the flying business. For every hour in the air, American's Astrojets receive a minimum of 5 man-hours of maintenance on the ground. For instance:

Before every flight they're given two "walk-around" inspections.

Every day they are given a "lay over" inspection.

After 55-60 hours in the air, they are given a "service check" which takes 66 man-hours.

Once a month they receive a "periodic check" that requires between 60 and 70 people, takes as many as 600 man-hours.

At least every 1,200 hours their engines are completely stripped down and every single part inspected.

And after 5,000 hours in the air, the airplanes are taken entirely apart and made even more advanced than on their very first flight.

Experienced travellers like American's equipment and they like the way we take care of it. Next time you're planning a trip to New York or Los Angeles, for instance, see your travel agent, or call American Airlines at GArfield 1-2400.

TALKS IN JAPAN A SUCCESS, SAYS RUSK ON RETURN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk returned last night from conferences with leaders in Japan and South Korea.

Rusk, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg and Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges spent a week in the Far East.

Rusk said three days of economic meetings with Japanese leaders at Hakone were very useful and very successful. He described his brief visit to Korea as extraordinary, and expressed surprise that an estimated 250,000 South Koreans, mostly uniformed school children, lined the 10 mile route from the United States embassy in Seoul to the airport to bid him goodby.

In Seoul he conferred with Gen. Park Chung-hee, chief of the ruling military junta, who is to visit Washington later this month. Afterward, Rusk said the military government seemed eager to spur economic development in South Korea.

Rusk and Hodges told reporters in Washington that the Japanese economic meetings produced no specific agreements on trade. Hodges added:

"They (the Japanese) are primarily concerned about their imbalance of trade. I think we made some progress in trying to persuade them that their total imbalance of trade was not due to a lack of trade with the United States."

Rusk also held a press conference at Anchorage, Alaska, en route home. He said Berlin "is not lost and not going to be lost" but the situation in Laos will require further planning.

Secretary Goldberg met Japanese union leaders yesterday in Tokyo. In a press conference afterward, he said he had "minced no words" in warning of the danger of Communists in labor movements.

Without referring to Japanese conditions, he said he told the Japanese leaders "it is the experience of the American labor movement that Communists . . . did not work for the interests of the movement but for the interests of the Soviet Union."

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman also attended the Hakone meetings. Udall stayed in Japan for a meeting of the International North Pacific Fisheries Commission beginning today. Freeman is going to Europe by another route.

Ferry Capsized by Truck.

GRISSLEHAMN, Sweden, Nov. 6 (AP)—A truck skidded on a wet deck, crashed against a railing, and capsized the 950-ton ferry Alpha in the Grisslehamn harbor Saturday night. The ferry sank. All 51 persons aboard were rescued.

WEST VIRGINIA U. PRESIDENT

MORGANTOWN, W.Va., Nov. 6 (AP)—Dr. Paul Ausborn Miller, provost of Michigan State University since 1959, will become West Virginia University's fifteenth president, the university's board of governors said yesterday.

Dr. Miller, 44 years old, a graduate of West Virginia, will assume the presidency early in January, succeeding Dr. Clyde L. Colson. Dr. Colson, dean of the College of Law, has headed the university on an acting basis since last January, when Dr. Elvis J. Stahr Jr. become secretary of the Army.

ADENAUER PUT UP FOR 4TH TERM AS CHANCELLOR

BONN, Nov. 6 (AP)—President Heinrich Luebke nominated Konrad Adenauer today for a fourth term as Chancellor of West Germany.

The nomination apparently ended successfully the 85-year-old Adenauer's efforts to retain the leadership he first took up 12 years ago.

Luebke made the nomination in a letter to Eugen Gerstenmaier, president of the lower house of Parliament, the Bundestag, at the request of Adenauer's Christian Democratic Party and the Free Democrats, which agreed Saturday to form a coalition. The Bundestag will meet tomorrow afternoon to vote.

Anti-Adenauer forces within his own party tried up to the last minute to defeat the coalition formed after a bitter, seven-week struggle.

Opposed By Erhard.

Resistance to Adenauer reportedly came especially from Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard, who opposed the creation of a minister for development aid, a cabinet-rank post that will go to the Free Democrats.

Previously, development aid had been handled jointly by the Economics Ministry and the Foreign Office. The Free Democrats wanted the new ministry to achieve some influence in foreign affairs.

Adenauer had also to sacrifice Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano, one of his most faithful lieutenants for the last six years. Brentano resigned last week.

The Free Democrats demanded that Brentano be removed, saying he was too much of a yes-man in a post calling for a more "flexible" personality. Since Adenauer will continue the close control of foreign policy he has always exercised, the feeling was that the Free Democrats wanted Brentano to go just to show the voters they had some influence on the Chancellor.

Lost Majority.

Adenauer's battle to stay in power began Sept. 17 when his Christian Democrats lost their Bundestag majority. It was only after Adenauer sacrificed Brentano and reportedly made considerable concessions on future social and financial legislation that the Free Democrats agreed to come into the government.

Adenauer's determination to retain the reigns of government again fanned opposition within his party. Besides Erhard, who himself wants to be Chancellor and has strong party support, the opposition included Gerstenmaier and Defense Minister Franz-Josef Strauss.

Adenauer had to assure his party he would not serve a full four-year term. He said he would retire in time to give his successor a chance to get used to his new office before the 1965 election.

The Christian Democrats approved the agreement between Adenauer and Free Democratic Party chief Erich Mende on Saturday and the last act before the Chancellor's election was the presidential nomination required by the constitution.

HOARDING OF GOLD REACHED NEW HIGH IN THE LAST YEAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (UPI)—World-wide gold hoarding reached a new high in the last 12 months, rising to about $14,700,000,000 for an increase of 8.1 per cent over the corresponding period a year previous, an international monetary expert said today.

In his annual issue of Pick's World Currency Report, Franz Pick said the increase totaled $1,100,000,000, "almost exclusively the result of American gold losses."

Western Hemisphere holdings, mostly owned by United States residents according to Pick, rose about 15 per cent, "in apparent disregard of existing anti-gold legislation."

Pick said that 13,000 tons of gold in coins, bars and sheets are being hidden.

The gold hoard exceeds the International Monetary Fund's gold holdings by about six times, and exceeds the total official holdings of the central banks of Austria, Canada, France, West Germany, Holland, Italy, Portugal and Switzerland, he estimated.

ANXIETY IS FELT OVER ELIZABETH'S SAFETY IN GHANA

ACCRA, Nov. 6 (UPI)—British Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys arrived here today to determine whether it is safe for Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip to go through with their visit to Ghana, scheduled to start Thursday.

Opponents of President Kwame Nkrumah set off two bombs in the capital city over the weekend, causing anxiety about the Queen's visit.

Sandys has told Parliament the government is prepared to advise canceling the royal visit if it is thought that she will be in danger. Sandys conferred with Prime Minister Macmillan before he left London last night.

The government blames the opposition United Party for the bombing. So far no arrests have been announced.

Nkrumah has ruled Ghana, the former Gold Coast, with a strong hand ever since it became an independent republic within the British Commonwealth in 1957.

hey, fellows! you can Win this official Basketball and Goal Set

Everything you need to get the Basketball outfit is on this page. Be sure to get both orders completed before you mail them in. DO NOT SEND THEM IN ONE AT A TIME. Send the two completed order forms to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Basketball Department, 1133 Franklin avenue, St. Louis 1, Missouri. Your Basketball outfit will be sent to you when orders are verified. Allow two to three weeks for delivery.

It's Yours for Only 2 subscriptions to the POST-DISPATCH

BE A REAL SHOOTING STAR!

The secret of becoming a basketball star is practice! Here is your opportunity to practice this great game to your heart's content—with your very own ball and basket.

Ball is double ply rubber laminated. Has an inner layer compounded for air-retention and outer layer for fine performance.

Both layers are vulcanized together, producing the best kind of rubber ball. Official size and weight. Waterproof.

Goal is official size, painted orange, complete with net.

Great for practice-shooting baskets and "pick-up" games with your friends. Every boy in your school will want one, so here's a word to the wise:

See your prospects and sign them up TODAY—before they give their orders to someone else!

This wonderful outfit is yours—at no cost to you—for only two (2) new six-month subscriptions for the daily Post-Dispatch. Use the special BASKETBALL OUTFIT order form which is included in this ad. The sooner you get it filled out and sent in, the sooner you'll be out there looping 'em into your own private "cage." LET'S GO! See your friends and neighbors today.

HERE'S ALL YOU HAVE TO DO!

1) To earn this Basketball Outfit, all you will need to do is to get two NEW subscriptions to the daily (except Sunday) St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

2) The two NEW home delivery subscriptions must be for a period of SIX MONTHS and must be submitted on order blanks published in connection with this offer. No orders will be accepted from areas in Greater St. Louis where carrier delivery service is not available.

3) All subscriptions must be obtained from persons who have not had the daily St. Louis Post-Dispatch delivered to their homes during the past sixty days. COLLECT NO MONEY. The regular carrier will collect from the subscriber at the established home-delivery rate in accordance with his regular collection practice.

4) All orders will be verified. Basketball Outfits will be mailed as soon as orders are verified. Allow two to three weeks for delivery.

5) This offer expires December 9, 1961.

6) In areas outside Greater St. Louis where home-delivery service is not available, you may get your Basketball Outfit by obtaining two SIX MONTHS paid-in-advance mail subscriptions to the daily Post-Dispatch. For mail subscriptions, DO NOT use order blank printed with this offer. Special order blanks and mail rates will be sent if you will write the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Circulation Department, 1133 Franklin avenue, St. Louis 1, Missouri.

FOUR ARE KILLED IN ST. LOUIS AREA AUTO ACCIDENTS

Four persons were killed in automobile accidents in the St. Louis area yesterday and early today, police reported.

The dead were:

Allen W. Kramlich, 5522 East drive, Belleville.

Donald E. Poelker, 2205 East B street, Belleville.

Joseph Fahrenhorst, 1851A North Market street.

Mrs. Mary Ann Parnell, 426 North Ninth street, East St. Louis.

Kramlich, 31 years old, was killed and three persons were injured when the automobile in which they were riding struck a parked car and overturned on Illinois Route 159, just east of East St. Louis, early today.

The injured were Miss Barbara Hayes, 18, 1700 Ferguson avenue, Granite City; Miss Bonnie Hubler, 19, 2304 Wilson street, Granite City, and Daniel A. Grimmig, 25, 3500 North Illinois avenue, Belleville. All three suffered head injuries and were taken to St. Mary's Hospital in East St. Louis.

Illinois State Police said Kramlich was driving east on 159 at a high rate of speed when the car apparently went out of control, skidded, struck a car parked on the side of the road, and overturned.

Auto Shoved 70 Feet.

Police said the force of the collision moved the parked car about 70 feet. The car was owned by Derrell R. Raymer, 1917 North Eighty-ninth street.

Poelker, 28, was killed last night when the car he was driving went out of control in North Sixth street, Belleville, and plunged into Richland creek.

Police said Poelker, driving south, apparently failed to make a turn where the road crosses the creek. His body was recovered by Belleville firemen from beneath the car, which came to rest on its side in about three feet of water, police said.

Fahrenhorst, 59, died at City Hospital yesterday morning, about three hours after he was thrown from a car in a collision at St. Louis avenue and Parnell street.

Four persons were injured and taken to City Hospital. They were Fred Fahrenhorst, 1910A Montgomery street, the dead man's brother, who suffered chest and head injuries; Fred Fahrenhorst's wife, Mildred, who was treated for body bruises and released; Miss Theresa Roeder, 16, 5437 Thursh avenue, who was treated for facial cuts and released, and Ronald Bertagna, 18, 8758 Agate avenue, who was treated for head lacerations and released.

Police said a car driven by John Kunz, 10337 Galloway drive, Glasgow Village, with the Fahrenhorsts and Mrs. Kunz as passengers, was traveling east in St. Louis and was struck by a car driven by Anthony Manno, 1225 Gimblin street, which was going north on Parnell. Bertagna and Miss Roeder were passengers in the Manno machine.

The impact turned the Kunz automobile around, throwing Fahrenhorst into the street, police said.

Kunz, his wife, and Manno were not injured. Police released both drivers pending an inquest.

Car Hits Utility Pole.

Mrs. Parnell was electrocuted early yesterday when the car in which she was a passenger struck a utility pole in Belleville, dropping high voltage power lines on top of the car.

Three persons were injured. They were the driver, Mrs. Jacqueline Phillips, 7113 Laguna drive, East St. Louis, who suffered leg injuries; Ed Zbornak, 1501 North Belt West, Belleville, who suffered head and back injuries, and James Cronin, 654 North Thirty-ninth street, Belleville, who was released after treatment for body bruises at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Belleville. The others were taken to Memorial Hospital in Belleville.

Police said the car was going east in the 8000 block of West Main street in Belleville when it ran over the curb and struck the pole, breaking it off. Mrs. Parnell was thrown partially out of the car and grounded the electricity when the wires fell, police said. Firemen cut the wires before the others were taken from the car.

Mrs. Parnell was the estranged wife of former East St. Louis Justice of the Peace Maurice D. Parnell.

Cheryl Smith, 4, and her brother, Deon, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, 1342 Semple avenue, were injured yesterday when they were struck by a car at Semple and Minerva avenue.

The driver of the car, Robert L. Richards, 5749 Cote Brilliante avenue, told police he was going west in Minerva when the two children ran into the street from behind a parked car. He said he swerved but was unable to avoid them.

Cheryl was taken to Homer G. Phillips Hospital suffering from a fractured left leg and scalp lacerations. Her brother suffered a cerebral concussion and scalp lacerations. Richards was booked suspected of failing to reduce speed at an intersection and driving without a state operator's license.

THREE ESCAPED JUVENILES RECAPTURED AFTER BREAK-IN

Three youths who escaped Saturday from juvenile officers after attending the rodeo at the Arena were arrested yesterday in an automatic laundry at 5802 Wabada avenue. Police found $11.50 in coins in possession of the youths. Their ages are 11, 12 and 14.

Another youth, 15 years old, who escaped with them, is being sought. The three who were arrested said they and the other youth entered a building at 8100 South Water street and obtained the money by breaking open a cigarette vending machine.

Thirty-seven juveniles were taken from the Children's Building to the rodeo.

SCHOOLS TO GET SKETCHES WARNING ON MOLESTERS

About 31,000 coloring sketches warning against the menace of child molesters will be distributed to elementary school children in St. Louis, Chief of Police Curtis Brostron announced today.

Brostron said it is "absolutely vital" that school authorities, police officials and everyone else in the community recognize the threat posed to children.

The chief said suspicious persons loitering in areas where children congregate should be reported immediately to the police department.

Udall Briskly Scales Mount Fuji, Leaves Experts Far Behind

MOUNT FUJI, Japan, Nov 6 (UPI)—United States Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall scaled 12,395-foot Mount Fuji yesterday at a brisk pace that left some of Japan's best mountain climbers behind.

Udall said winds of 50 to 60 miles an hour whipped the summit and "almost blew me down."

He started at 5 a.m. from the 8000 foot level after driving to the fifth climbing station in a small Japanese car. He reach the summit five hours and 15 minutes later—45 minutes ahead of schedule.

He spent about an hour and a half circling the huge crater and returned to the fifth station about 2:30 p.m.

"It was a very exciting and satisfying day," Udall said on his return. "I now understand why the Japanese have such fondness for this beautiful mountain."

He said Fuji "can lay a very high claim as one of the most beautiful mountains in the world," but there are "a couple in the United States that match it."

Udall said it was a rigorous but "very safe" climb. He said snow and ice covered the last 1000 feet.

He started the climb with the Japanese Alpine Association vice president, Saburo Matsukata, two United States Marines, several of Japan's leading mountain climbers and a crowd of reporters and photographers. Many dropped out before going very far.

$250 STOLEN FROM SAFE IN LEMAY DRUG STORE

About $250 in cash was stolen last night from the Gasen drug store, 113 Lemay Ferry road, Lemay, by men who entered through a ventilating duct and broke the combination from the store safe, it was reported to police.

Patrolman Richard Kossmann, St. Louis county police, said the burglary occurred between 10:15 p.m. yesterday, when the store was last closed, and 9 a.m. today when employes coming to work discovered the safe had been cracked.

Kossmann said entrance was gained through a ventilator on the roof and a hole cut in the ceiling. He said the burglars removed a lower panel from a locked storeroom door so an attached alarm would not sound; then broke into the walk-in safe which was in the storeroom.

WITNESS WHO CHANGED TESTIMONY GETS TWO YEARS

Oscar Hatcher, a chief Government witness at a narcotics trial in which he changed his testimony, was sentenced today to two years in jail on a charge of contempt of the United States District Court.

Judge Randolph H. Weber, who found Hatcher guilty of criminal contempt Oct. 19 after the witness switched testimony at the narcotics trial of Willie Frank Foster, poolroom operator, specified that Hatcher be released on two years' probation after serving six months of the jail sentence. Hatcher, who had agreed to purchase heroin from Foster while acting as an undercover agent, told of buying narcotics from Foster, but on cross-examination testified he had not made the purchase. A mistrial was declared on a defense motion.

Foster was charged with influencing a Government witness through the tender of $500 to Hatcher. His trial on that charge has been set for Dec. 11. The retrial of the narcotics charge is scheduled to start next Thursday.

ST. ANN MINIATURE JUDGED BEST IN POODLE MATCH

Apricot Souflee, a miniature poodle owned by Mrs. Bessie Hornstein, 3578 San Jose lane, St. Ann, was judged best in show yesterday at the Spirit of St. Louis Poodle Club match. Eighty-four entries were shown at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, 1717 Big Bend boulevard, Richmond Heights.

Wycliffe Xira of Loribon, a standard poodle owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Rowbotham, 83 Valley Park road, Valley Park, was judged best puppy in show. Best of opposite sex was Shiran Sachet, a toy poodle owned by Mrs. Virginia Noth and Miss Janine Antle, 1820 Parker road, Florissant.

Best bred by exhibitor was Thelmaine Bijouterie, owned by Mrs. Thelma Hall, 9240 Clayton road, Ladue. A club spokesman said this was the first sanctioned match for the organization.

FALLS OFF BARGE INTO RIVER AND APPARENTLY DROWNS

Wayne Whittington, 44-year-old cab driver, apparently drowned early yesterday when he fell off a barge into the Mississippi river at the foot of Sidney street police reported. Efforts of the Coast Guard to recover the body were unsuccessful.

Brien McCourt, 9009 Philo avenue, Wilbur Park, told police that he and Whittington had gone out to the barge shortly after 2:30 a.m. to light signal lights on it and to pull a dinghy to the river bank because the water was rising.

McCourt told police they were starting back from the barge when he heard a splash. He ran to the side of the barge and saw Whittington struggling in the water about 30 feet away, he said.

BOY IN SERIOUS CONDITION AFTER DRINKING BLEACH

Keith Howard, 17-month-old son of Mrs. Barbara Howard, 2409 Division street, was in serious condition at City Hospital today after drinking liquid bleach.

Mrs. Howard told police the child apparently took a bottle of bleach from a table in the kitchen of their apartment and poured some in a glass of milk, which he drank. She said she administered first aid to the child before police arrived.

WHY NOT PHONE THEM? SO FAST AND THRIFTY WITH DIRECT DISTANCE DIALING
Now, reach out-of-town relatives in a few seconds with Direct Distance Dialing. Talk longer for less because DDD calls go through at low station-to-station rates (one third less than person-to-person calls). Why not call them right now? They'll enjoy it and so will you.
HERE'S HOW TO CALL: First, dial the area code number of the city you want . . . then, dial the telephone number you wish to reach, just like a local call. If you don't know the number, the operator can connect you with Information in the city you're calling.
Direct Distance Dialing • It's easy. It's fast. It's fun. Try it.

AWARD TO OPPONENT OF BIRCH SOCIETY

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Nov. 6 (AP) — A publisher who campaigned against the militantly conservative John Birch Society in California received a Harvard journalism award last night.

Thomas M. Storke, 84-year-old publisher of the Santa Barbara News-Press, described his long fight for civil liberties in his acceptance of the Lauterbach Award of the Nieman Foundation for journalism at Harvard University. The award was made for "a significant contribution to civil liberties."

"As a young newspaperman I encountered every form of abuse, exploitation, graft and crime that infested the West Coast, that victimized the unprotected in every level of life," Stroke said.

"I saw the machine control the election of officers from constable to governor and United States senator.

"It was from this background I was impelled to stand up and object when I read 'The Politician,' written by Robert Welch."

Welch is head of the Birch Society.

The publisher said he considered the book character assassination at its worst.

Louis M. Lyons, curator of the Nieman Foundation, presented the award to Storke at a dinner.

Lyons, Arthur M. Schlesinger Sr. of Harvard and Charles W. Morton, associate editor of the Atlantic Monthly, are members of the awards committee. They commended Storke in a citation which said:

"He has made his community his lifelong concern; to guard its need from exploiters in his youth, to protect its character from destroyers in his age. He had demanded that public issues be discussed with decency and sanity."

Storke was congratulated by Presidented Kennedy in a telegram.

The award is named for Richard E. Lauterbach, an editor and author who was a Nieman fellow in 1947.

2 MORE FILIPINOS KILLED IN ELECTION CAMPAIGN

MANILA, Nov. 6 (AP)—Two supporters of an Nacionalista congressional candidate in Ilocos Sur province were shot down yesterday when they tried to kill the Liberal party candidate. The death toll in the Philippine election campaign to now is 16. Thirty-three persons have been wounded.

With the election still eight days away, the toll already was higher than in the 1957 and 1959 campaigns.

The presidential race was narrowed to two contenders over the weekend with the withdrawal of Senator Rogelio de la Rosa. He threw his support to Vice President Diosdada Macapagal, the Liberal candidate opposing President Carlos P. Barcia of the ruling Nacionalistas.

2 VACANT BUILDINGS, ONE A HOTEL, BURN

Firemen fought a three-alarm fire last night in a vacant three-story building at 3536 Olive street, formerly the Empress-Rialto Hotel.

A fire in another vacant building last night apparently was of incendiary origin, Battalion Chief John Gassel reported. The police arson squad is investigating the blaze.

The fire in the old hotel, discovered by passersby at 8:38 p.m., started on the first floor. Its origin is undetermined. Flames spread to the upper floors before the fire was brought under control. The building is at the northern boundary of the Mill Creek Valley redevelopment area.

Chief Gassel said there was an odor of kersosene and ashes from burned paper in ac loset in a two-story vacant dwelling at 3832 ePnrose street. Only one alarm was turned in and the fire was quickly extinguished.

As a matter of fire department policy, no damage estimates were made for the vacant buildings.

TRUMAN BACKS 'MUZZLING' OF GEN. WALKER

CHICAGO, Nov. 6 (UPI) — Former President Truman said yesterday President Kennedy was right when he "muzzled" Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

"He should have been muzzled," the former Chief Executive said. "I'd have muzzled him if I were President."

Walker was relieved of his command recently following complaints about an information program he sponsored among his troops. He was transferred to a lesser job in Germany and resigned several days ago.

Truman himself was an expert at "muzzling" military leaders. He fired former Gen. Douglas MacArthur when the war hero disagreed publicly with the policies of the Truman Administration.

KENNEDY TO MEET PRESS

NEWPORT, R.I., Nov. 6 (AP) —President Kennedy will hold a press conference in Washington Wednesday, White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger announced yesterday.

Salinger said whether the press conference will be in the morning or afternoon would be determined largely by the timing of discussions between Kennedy and Prime Minister Nehru. Salinger said there would be no live radio or television coverage. Mr. Kennedy's last press conference was Oct. 11.

U.S. ANTI-CRIME DRIVE TO START IN LAS VEGAS

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Nov. 6 (AP) — The Department of Justice has picked Las Vegas as the starting point for a new drive against national crime syndicates.

The chairman of the State Gaming Control Board, Ed Olsen of Reno, immediately promised to support the drive. He said, however, the Washington announcement of the investigation sounded "just a little bit sensational."

"Just a big headline story," said one gambling casino operator when he heard the news.

Justice Department officials in Washington announced yesterday that Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy has ordered a systematic investigation to determine three things:

The extent to which crime syndicate leaders are using Las Vegas as a meeting place.

Whether a race track wire service is being run in Las Vegas for bookmakers throughout the country.

The backgrounds of some gambling casino operators.

Talks Of Co-Operation.

Olsen said the Attorney General has been interested in Nevada for some time "and we've been working in close co-operation with Mr. Kennedy."

"The state is just as interested in uprooting racketeers — if any are here—as he is," Olsen said. "Information obtained by any agents he may have working on the matter has and will come primarily from agents of the State Gaming Control Board."

Olsen said his agents — more than 50 of them — "keep track of national underworld figures that come to Las Vegas."

"If meetings of any significance (involving crime leaders) occured in Nevada, we'd likely know about them," he asserted.

Olsen said investigations of applicants for gambling licenses "have been as complete and thorough as investigations for security clearance on the national level."

"We try to keep out people who have had connections with syndicated crime," Olsen said. "We try to keep out confidence men and other people whose backgrounds indicate they are dishonest characters. The state is becoming more and more successful in doing these things."

Manager Benny Goffstein of the Riviera hotel, which operates a large casino, said, "I've always felt . . . the state has done a pretty good job of handling its own affairs. . . . I've been here 15 years. Maybe I'm naive, but I don't know of any such things happening here."

Investigation Discounted.

Wilbur Clark of the Desert Inn said he had not studied news reports of the investigation but was told by people who had that it did not amount to much.

Sheriff Ralph Lamb, in whose territory the large Las Vegas strip casinos are located, could not be reached immediately for comment.

Las Vegas has long been under scrutiny of federal agents. But until Congress recently passed legislation directed at syndicates, a Justice Department official said, these agents could do little more than look for hoodlum interests in Las Vegas enterprises and investigate possible income tax violations. The new laws, among other things, prevent racketeers from crossing state lines in pursuit of their unlawful activities.

These activities are defined as any acts which are prohibited by state or federal laws and which involve gambling, liquor, narcotics, prostitution, extortion or bribery.

A group of former St. Louis gamblers recently took over operation of the Dunes, a 600-room hotel and casino in Las Vegas under a lease arrangement.

Members of the group include Sidney Wyman and C. J. (Kewpie) Rich, partners in the old C. J. Rich & Co., in St. Louis county, national clearing house for bets. Associated with them, the Post-Dispatch learned, are George Duckworth, stetpson of Rich, and Sherlock Feldman, also a former St. Louisan.

Vatican Broadcasts to Africa.

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 6 (AP) —Pope John XXIII today inaugurated daily Vatican radio broadcasts to the people of Africa. The broadcasts to Africa were made possible by a 100,000-watt transmitter given to the Vatican station by Roman Catholics of Cologne, Germany.

FALLOUT EXPERT DISCOUNTS FRIGHT OVER RED TESTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (UPI) —A Nobel prize-winner in radioactivity's effects on heredity said today the current scare about nuclear test fallout is like "a tempest in a teapot."

Dr. H. J. Muller, an Indiana University zoology professor, said the public fright over fallout dangers from Russia's atmospheric tests "certainly is not justified."

He said in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News & World Report magazine that "the radiation from all nuclear tests made by all countries thus far would be comparable, roughly, to a single chest X-ray, as far as the individual is concerned."

The chance of any one person dying as result of present and past tests is about one in 10,000 and "most people wouldn't regard that risk as anything to get excited about," he said.

"If one is thinking of the total magnitude of the damage," however, he said, "the scare is justified. One cannot dismiss lightly 100,000 deaths or 300,000 or more over a generation, no matter how scattered they are."

ECUADOR OUSTS CUBA ENVOY

NEW ELECTRONIC EYE TO LOOK FOR TAX CHEATERS

MARTINSBURG, W.Va., Nov. 6 (UPI) — Secretary of the Treasury C. Dillon dedicated today a modern electronic computer center which eventually will give the once-over to the tax return of every American.

Dillon hailed the center as "a giant stride" toward collecting all taxes owed the government. He said the center would make life "far more difficult for the foolish few who are tempted to cheat or to evade."

The Internal Revenue Service has estimated that some 25 billion dollars of income is unreported every year. The taxes on this sum might come to five billion dollars or more.

The National Computer Center, as the one-story, flat-roof new $750,000 building here is called, is the core of a new automatic data processing system the Revenue Service is gradually putting into use.

The center is scheduled to start checking business tax returns from seven Southern states in January. By 1966, Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin predicted, returns of every taxpayer in the nation will be checked at the computer center.

POLICE ROUND-UP PAVES WAY FOR DE GAULLE TRIP

PARIS, Nov. 6 (UPI)—Police arrested many French extremists and Algerians in southern France today in preparation for President De Gaulle's tour of Corsica and the Marseilles region.

The exact number rounded up in Marseilles and nearby Toulon was not disclosed. Police described the crackdown as a routine precaution.

Some Moslems rounded up in the Toulon region were taken to Frioul island, seven miles offshore. All those picked up were expected to be kept in custody until Saturday, the day after De Gaulle returns to Paris.

At Perigueux, France, 40 Algerian rebels escaped last night from the Mauzac prison. The Algerians, who belong to the National Algerian Movement, dug a tunnel from a prison barracks to a road running by the camp.

WAGNER EXPECTS ACCORD IN NEW YORK MILK STRIKE

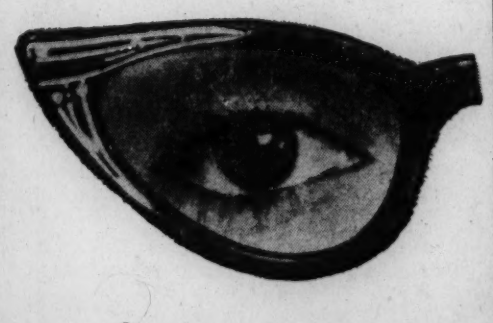

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—Negotiations in a Teamsters' strike that has caused a 13-day milk drouth in the city and on Long Island were resumed today after a 5½-hour recess.

The talks were recessed at 2:30 a.m. (St. Louis time), shortly after Mayor Robert F. Wagner predicted an early end to the strike. Wagner is mediating in the around-the-clock negotiations between milk companies and three striking Teamsters union locals.

Wage demands and a dispute over a time-recording clause in the contract were listed as the issues blocking settlement. Prior to the start of continuous talks, the Teamsters had sought a $7 a week across-the-board pay inincrease. Management had offered a $9.10 package over two years.

FOUR HOLDUPS NEAR STADIUM AFTER GAMES

Four holdups were committed in the Public Schools Stadium area following high school football games Saturday night and yesterday, police reported.

A policeman fired five shots at a fleeing suspect, who was arrested later and admitted participating in two robberies, one in the stadium.

Joseph Brandon, 3701 Sulphur avenue, and Richard Lilie, 5828 Pernod avenue, both 16 years old, were held up by eight men in the 3100 block of Norwood avenue after leaving the stadium Saturday night. One man held a knife at Brandon's throat and stole $1.50 from him.

Lilie locked himself in his car, but opened a door at the demand of one man, who removed $2.50 from Lilie's wallet. The robber returned the wallet and thanked him, Lilie said. The men fled on foot.

Robbed of Topcoat.

Matthew Brencick, 16, 6414 Woodbine court, was accosted by four youths in Kingshighway, outside the stadium, after leaving a game Saturday night. The youths robbed him of his topcoat and fled.

Yesterday afternoon Robert Legens, 16, 3000 Wisconsin avenue, and Michael Tamme, 14, 1439 Brock street, were held up on a ramp in the stadium by two youths, one of whom threatened the victims with a knife. Legens was robbed of $1.30 and Tamme of $1.10.

Legens and Tamme were reporting the robbery to Patrolman James Charboneau outside the stadium when Miss Mary Pfister, 7 Shireford lane, Ferguson, approached and reported that she had been held up and robbed of $1.75 by two youths on the stadium parking lot on Norwood avenue.

Fires at Suspect.

Charboneau began a tour of the area and saw a youth answering the description of one robber walking in the 5200 block of St. Louis avenue. Charboneau got out of his car and ordered the youth to halt. The suspect ran through an areaway and fled as the officer fired five shots at him.

Several hours later other officers arrested a suspect in the 3000 block of Union boulevard. He said he was Claude L. Torrey, 17, and admitted, police said, that he participated in the robbery of Miss Pfister and of Tamme and Legens. He named a 16-year-old companion, who also admitted taking part in the holdups.

Both were identfied by the victims, and a purse and a wallet stolen in the holdups were recovered.

Woman Knocked Down.

Torrey, who gave an address in the 1300 block of Semple avenue, also admitted, police reported, that he knocked down Mrs. Florence Murphy, 5384 Queens avenue, at Kingshighway and Highland avenue Saturday night, and robbed her of $16. Mrs. Murphy was treated for contusions of the face. Torrey was booked suspected of armed robbery.

George Hill, 5843 Theodosia avenue, was struck on the head with an iron pipe by one of two men who held him up near his home Saturday night. The robbers stole $10 from Hill's wallet and fled.

Frank Hutchinson, 3960 Wyoming street, reported that he was knocked down and robbed of $75 by three men in the 6100 block of Plymouth avenue Saturday night.

Mrs. Pearl Miller, a widow, 4516 Louisiana avenue, was robbed of $50 by a man who seized her purse on the street near her home last night.

Leonard Garner of the Samuel Gompers Homes, East St. Louis, reported thieves helped themselves to clothing valued at $60 which he left in a dryer at a Helpee Selfee automatic laundry at Seventh street and Ohio avenue, East St. Louis, yesterday.

John Russell, 1901 Parson avenue, East St. Louis, reported he was robbed of $83 early yesterday by two men who struck him on the head when he returned to his automobile from a telephone booth at St. Clair avenue and Seventeenth street, East St. Louis.

REPORTER ORDERED TO GIVE NEWS SOURCE IN COURT

HONOLULU, Nov. 6 (AP) — The Hawaii State Supreme Court has ruled that a reporter must divulge the source of information when directed to do so in court.

By a 4-to-1 decision, the court held Saturday that constitutional freedom of the press does not give reporters the right to conceal news sources in legal matters. The ruling specified that such information can be required from a reporter only in court trials.

The decision upheld a lower court ruling that Honolulu Advertiser reporter Alan Goodfader must disclose his news source in connection with a story concerning the firing of a Honolulu city official. The Advertiser had appealed.

Richard P. Hughes Dies.

BURLINGTON, N. J., Nov. 6 (AP) — Richard P. Hughes, father of gubernatorial candidate Richard J. Hughes, died yesterday at his home here. He was 85 years old. A family spokesman said death was due to a heart attack.

Better Serve Economical Family Meals Now and Save for Holiday Entertaining

Canned tuna is one of the standbys to which homemakers turn with confidence. It is particularly valuable in the role of budget booster. Tuna Croquettes shown above were prepared by baking rather than frying. Advantages: saving of time (they need no chilling and very little watching) and they are not cooked in fat. Formed into three-fourth inch balls, they make excellent hot appetizers.

By DOROTHY BRAINERD
Post-Dispatch Food Editor.

TAKEN A CLOSE LOOK at the calendar lately? Christmas is much closer than you may realize. Taken a close look at your budget lately? Let's hope it is in fine condition, but if it isn't quite ready to take the pre-holiday strain it is high time to do something about it.

Of course you will want extra money for the special foods so closely associated with the merriest season of the year. Not only for Christmas dinner, but for holiday parties and those informal get-togethers and family gatherings that call for refreshments a little more elaborate than usual.

The answer is obvious; a little penny-pinching on family meals for the next few weeks will mean extra money for holiday goodies, and a clear conscience that will allow you to enjoy them without flinching. If the ways of thrift are too dull, family protests are sure to follow. So the trick is to economize without being too obvious about it; to keep husband and children well-fed and happy, without being conscious of the fact that they are participants in a save-for-Christmas campaign.

This is one time when silence is indeed golden. Don't mention the fact that you are budgeting, and they are less likely to complain. If they know you are skimping for the next few weeks they will be all too aware of the lack of luxuries. Call it good psychology or call it just a little bit sneaky; in any case, keep your secret and remember it is all for their own good. (After all, wouldn't they protest even more vehemently if the festive foods they expect for the holidays didn't appear?

An extra investment of time and effort can go a long way to offset a saving on money. If you are serving stew instead of steak, a homemade apple pie still oven-warm will be a fine compensation. Try to think of the favorite foods of each member of the family, and pamper them with these treats from time to time during your save-now-for-later campaign.

Fortunately, many of the thrifty dishes are far from being grim. Many are delicious enough to be served for flavor's sake alone, without regard to cost.

For example, chances are you will have few complaints if you serve this Easy Tamale Pie.

One cup cornmeal.
One and two-thirds cups water.
One teaspoon salt.
One tall can evaporated milk (one and two-thirds cups).
One-fourth cup shortening.
One medium onion, chopped.
One-fourth cup chopped green pepper.
One-third cup flour.
Three cans (15 ounces each) chili with beans.
One-half cup shredded Cheddar cheese or American cheese.

Measure cornmeal into a large heavy saucepan. Add water and salt. Boil until mixture begins to thicken, stirring constantly. Add evaporated milk and continue stirring over medium heat until very thick, about five minutes.

Grease a seven by 11 by one and three-fourths inch baking pan. Save out three-fourths cup cornmeal mush and set aside. Spread remaining mush over bottom and up sides of baking pan.

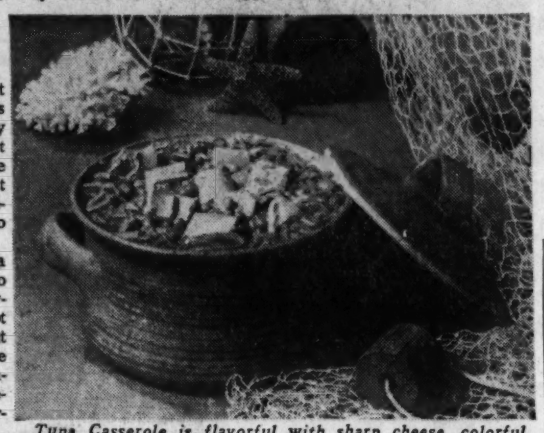

Place mush-lined baking pan in preheated moderate oven (375 degrees) and bake 12 to 15 minutes.

Meanwhile, melt shortening in a large saucepan. Add onion and green pepper and cook over low heat until tender. Remove from heat and stir in flour.

Add cans of chili with beans and mix well. Cook over medium heat, stirring frequently, until thickened (about 10 minutes). Pour into mush-lined baking pan. Break up remaining mush and scatter on top of chili mixture. Sprinkle with cheese.

Bake at 375 degrees until bubbly hot and lightly browned, about 25 minutes.

Yield: Six servings.

Tuna Casserole is flavorful with sharp cheese, colorful with green peas and pimiento. French fried onions add welcome crispness.

THERE IS ONE ITEM almost every homemaker thinks of immediately when she is budget-balancing—canned tuna. Tuna Croquettes have long been an American favorite. Usual procedure is to make the tuna mixture, form it into patties, chill and then fry in deep fat or skillet. Nothing wrong with this, surely, but oven cooking does have several advantages. The croquettes need no chilling, since they hold their shape in the oven (either cones or patties), and they require little or no watching. Weight-watchers also will appreciate the fact that they cut down on fat.

These croquettes call for a mixture of delicate tuna packed in vegetable oil, grated onion and lemon juice. An evaporated milk sauce binds the mixture, and also forms a base for the sauce. Then the croquettes are rolled in packaged corn flake crumbs and into the oven they go.

For entertaining, the same croquette mixture can be shaped into tiny balls, baked and served as a cocktail nibble.

Tuna Croquettes.

Two cans (six and one-half or seven ounces each) tuna-in-vegetable oil.
Six tablespoons flour.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One-sixteenth teaspoon cayenne.
One tall can (one and two-thirds cups) evaporated milk.
One tablespoon grated onion.
Two tablespoons lemon juice.
One cup packaged corn flake crumbs.

Drain tuna; measure four tablespoons of the oil into saucepan. Blend in flour, salt and cayenne. Stir in evaporated milk. Place over medium heat and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil.

Measure one cup of the sauce; add to tuna with onion and lemon juice. Reserve remaining sauce. Form tuna mixture into six or eight patties or cone-shaped croquettes. Roll in corn flake crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 minutes.

While croquettes are baking, prepare:

Wine sauce: To remaining sauce, add one-fourth cup mayonnaise, one-fourth cup milk, one-fourth cup white wine, chopped parsley and one-fourth teaspoon salt.

Yield: Three to four servings.

Tuna Appetizers: Prepare basic croquette mixture. Form into three-fourths-inch balls; roll in corn flake crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 10 minutes. Serve hot.

Yield: Four dozen.

A TUNA CASSEROLE is a dependable standby; in this recipe tuna blends with sharp cheese. Green peas and pimiento add color; French fried onions give a touch of crispness. Put them all together, and they spell

Good Catch Casserole.

One can cream of mushroom soup.
One can (one pound) peas.
One can (four ounces) pimiento, diced.
One small onion, chopped.
One tablespoon worcestershire sauce.
Two cans (six and one-half or seven ounces each) tuna-in-vegetable oil.
One cup (four ounces) grated American cheese.
One-half can (three and one-half ounces) French fried onions.

Combine undiluted soup, peas with liquid, pimiento, onion and worcestershire sauce in one and one-half quart casserole. Fold tuna and cheese into mixture in casserole. Arrange French fried onions around edge. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 25 minutes.

Yield: six servings.

SAUSAGE LENDS ITSELF to all sorts of interesting treatments for hearty fare. Here it is used to stuff acorn squash, prepared somewhat the same way as "twice-baked" potatoes.

The squash is baked until tender, scooped from the shells, mashed and mixed with the sausage meat which has been lightly browned, a little salt and evaporated milk. The milk blends all together smoothly and gives the right consistency for spooning lightly back into the shells. A little brown sugar sprinkled over the top melts into a pretty glaze.

Sausage-Stuffed Squash.

Four medium size acorn squash.
One and one-half pounds sausage meat.
Two-thirds cup evaporated milk.
One teaspoon salt.
Six tablespoons brown sugar.

Wash squash and cut in half crosswise. If squash halves do not sit level, trim stem and blossom ends carefully. Place halves cut side down in a shallow baking dish. Pour in boiling water to depth of about one-fourth inch. Bake in preheated hot oven (400 degrees) until tender, about 30 minutes.

Remove squash from pan and set aside to cool. Meanwhile in a medium size frypan cook sausage until lightly browned, breaking into small pieces with a fork. Remove from frypan and drain on paper toweling. Pour fat from frypan.

When squash is cool enough to handle, scoop pulp out of shells into frypan, saving six shells to stuff. Mash squash, then blend in evaporated milk and salt. Stir in the drained sausage. Spoon squash mixture back into the six shells.

Sprinkle each squash half with one tablespoon brown sugar. Return to hot oven (400 degrees) and bake until sugar is melted, about 15 minutes.

Yield: Six servings.

Here's another flavorful way to turn a pound of sausage meat into six servings.

Sausage Balls With Tomato Macaroni.

One pound sausage meat.
One-half cup cornmeal.
One medium onion, chopped.
One teaspoon salt.
Dash of pepper.
Two-thirds cup evaporated milk.
Two tablespoons flour.
One-fourth cup shortening.
One-fourth cup chopped green pepper.
One teaspoon salt.
One teaspoon rubbed sage.
Two cans (No. 2) tomato juice (about four and one-half cups).
One package (seven ounces) elbow macaroni.

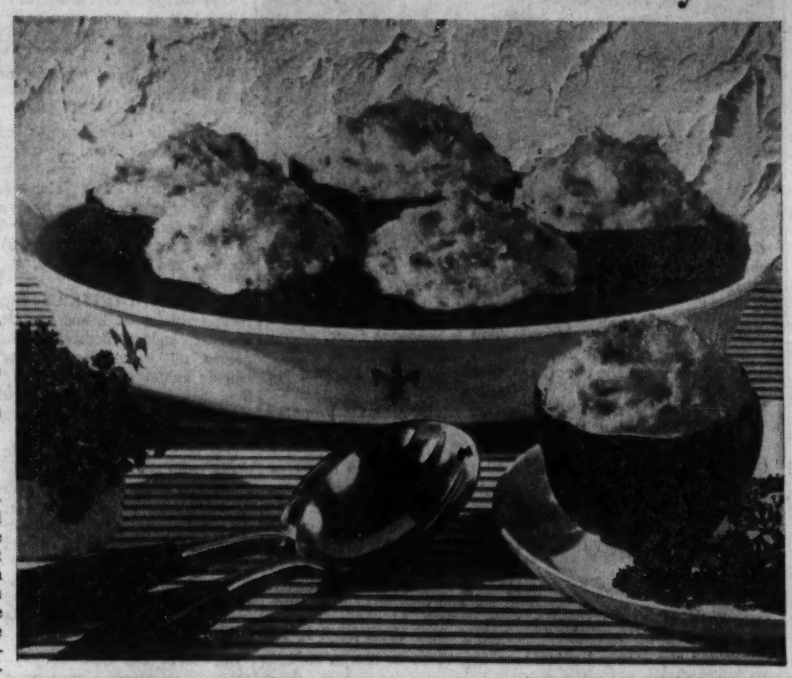

Mix together the sausage, cornmeal, half the chopped onion, one teaspoon salt, pepper and evaporated milk. Shape mixture into 12 balls. Roll and coat each ball in the flour.

Melt shortening in a large frying pan over medium heat. Add sausage balls and brown on all sides. Push balls to side of pan. Place remaining onion and the green pepper in the pan and cook until tender.

Add the one teaspoon salt and sage, then pour tomato juice over balls. Bring to a boil over high heat. Add macaroni and stir to moisten. Cover, reduce heat as low as possible and cook 40 minutes, or until macaroni is tender.

Yield: Six servings.

RICE IS INDEED a friend-in-need for the budget-minded homemaker. Just imagine the convenience of a dressing that combines both vegetables for a meal. This happens when you use fluffy rice grains to make the dressing, since rice can be served as a vegetable to accompany any cut of meat. The second vegetable should be chosen for flavor, color and texture interest—in this case, plump tender baby lima beans.

Sausage-stuffed acorn squash is hearty fare that will take the chill off a crisp November evening. Scooped from its shell, the cooked squash is mixed with evaporated milk and browned sausage meat, then spooned back in the shell and returned to the oven to heat. A sprinkling of brown sugar on top makes an attractive glaze.

A quick trick that adds to goodness of the eating is the use of toasted rice. It is rice which has been spread in a shallow pan and toasted until golden brown. Then both vegetables are simmered on top of the range in savory chicken broth to subtly intertwine their flavors.

Perfect accompaniment to Rice and Vegetable Dressing would be a juicy pot roast flavored with a tomato-and-onion gravy.

Rice and Vegetable Dressing.

One cup uncooked rice.
Two tablespoons butter or margarine.
One cup finely chopped onion.
One tablespoon minced parsley.
One teaspoon minced marjoram.
Two and one-fourth cups chicken broth.
One package frozen lima beans.
One and one-half teaspoons salt.

Set oven at 350 degrees. Spread rice in a shallow pan and heat in oven until golden brown, about 10 minutes. Stir frequently so as not to burn.

Melt butter or margarine in a three-quart saucepan. Add onion, parsley and marjoram. Saute until onion is tender.

Add chicken broth, lima beans and salt. Simmer covered for five minutes. Add toasted rice; bring to a boil. Stir. Reduce heat; cover with a tight fitting lid and simmer about 20 minutes.

Incidentally, this also is excellent with roast beef or steak.

Yield: Six servings.

Two other ways in which rice can come to the aid of the thrifty menu planner:

Rice and Cheese Loaf.

One-half cup uncooked rice.
One cup water.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One cup shredded Cheddar cheese (¼ lb.)
One tall can evaporated milk (one and two-thirds cups).
One cup shredded cheddar.
Two eggs.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One tablespoon grated onion.

Mix rice, water and one-half teaspoon salt in a heavy saucepan. Place over high heat. When water comes to a boil, turn heat down to medium low. Stir once with a fork. Cover pan tightly and cook slowly 12 to 14 minutes, or until all liquid is absorbed.

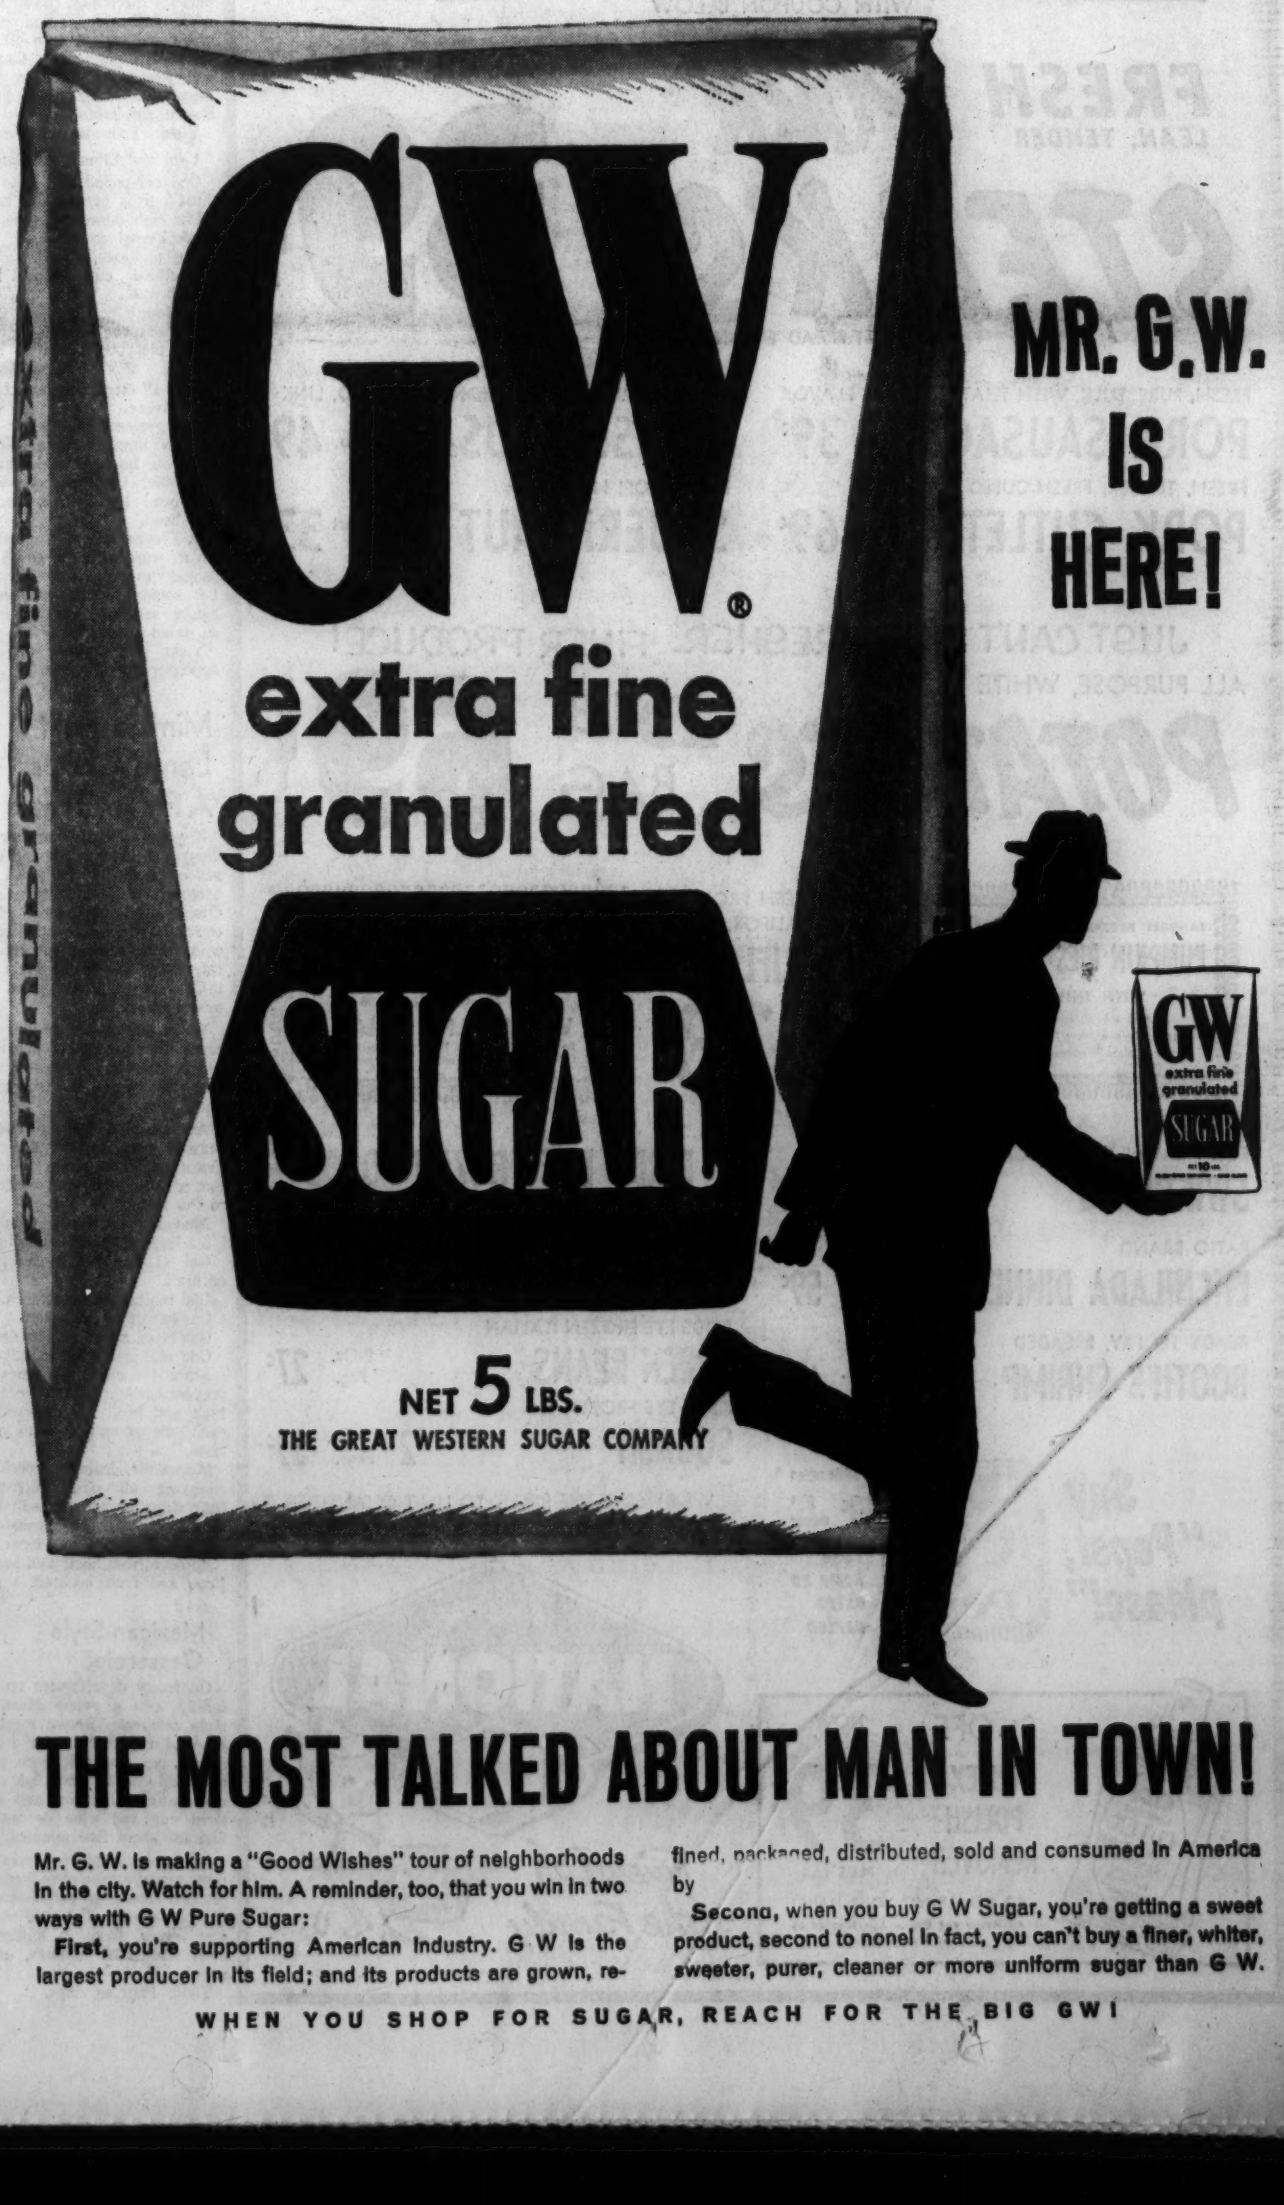

Meanwhile, place cheese and evaporated milk in a saucepan over very low heat, and stir until cheese is melted and sauce is smooth. Remove from heat to cool. Beat eggs, then add the one-half teaspoon salt and onion. Stir in cooled cheese sauce, then rice. Pour into a well greased loaf pan. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) until set, about one hour.

Yield: six servings.

Creamy Rice Pudding.

Thrifty

One-eighth teaspoon salt.
One tall can evaporated milk (one and two-thirds cups).
One-half cup boiling water.
One teaspoon vanilla.
One-fourth teaspoon nutmeg.
One-half cup raisins.

Mix rice, the one cup water and one-half teaspoon salt in a heavy saucepan. Place over high heat. When water comes to a boil, turn heat down to medium low. Stir once with a fork. Cover pan tightly and cook slowly 12 to 14 minutes, or until all liquid is absorbed.

In top of a double boiler add sugar and the one-eighth teaspoon salt to egg and beat well. Stir in evaporated milk and boiling water. Cook over boiling water until mixture coats a spoon, about 15 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove top of double boiler and stir vanilla nutmeg and raisins into custard sauce. Stir in rice. Serve warm or cold. Yield: six servings.

Ground meats are thrifty choices, and a ham loaf such as this certainly can be served with pride. A mustard sauce is spooned over the top, and herbed frozen French fries are arranged on the same platter.

GROUND MEATS are always thrifty choices, and certainly you need offer no apologies when you serve this ham loaf surrounded with spicy, herbed frozen French fries. Brown the potatoes, which have been sprinkled with the seasonings, in a moderate oven until piping hot and crispy, then serve with the zesty sauce.

Buttered broccoli, a tossed green salad with a tangy dressign and wedges of spicy pumpkin pie would round out the menu in style.

Herb Fries
With Ham Loaf
And Mustard Sauce.

One-third cup butter or margarine.
Two packages (nine ounces each) frozen French fries.
One teaspoon chervil (optional).
One-fourth teaspoon dry mustard.
One and one-half teaspoons salt.
One-fourth cup chopped onion.
Two tablespoons flour.
One and one-half cups milk.
One-half cup half-and-half (milk and cream).
Two tablespoons prepared mustard.
Ham Loaf.*

Melt one tablespoon butter or margarine in shallow baking pan. Spread French fries over bottom of pan. Sprinkle one teaspoon salt, chervil and dry mustard over potatoes. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) until hot and brown, 15 to 20 minutes.

Make sauce. Saute onion in remaining butter or margarine until soft but not brown. Blend in flour and remaining one-half teaspoon salt. Add milk, half-and-half and prepared mustard. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Serve with Herb Fries and Ham Loaf.

Yield: six servings.

Ham Loaf:

One pound ham, ground.
One-half pound pork, ground.
One-half pound beef, ground.
One teaspoon dry mustard.
One-half teaspoon paprika.
Pepper to taste.
One cup milk.
Two cups bread crumbs or corn flakes.
Two eggs.

Pour milk over crumbs or corn flakes; let stand for a few minutes then mix all ingredients together until well blended. Press into loaf pan seven by five by three inches. Bake uncovered in moderate oven (350 degrees) for one and one-half hours.

HEARTY, NUTRITIOUS and inexpensive, lima beans can be a real budget booster. Like nearly all vegetables, variety can be achieved by using more than one form. Here are three unusual ways to serve three different forms of lima beans.

One is a lima bean casserole made from the dried beans, another a frozen lima bean dish seasoned with onion and cheese, the third a marinated lima bean salad prepared with canned lima beans.

Ranch Style Lima Beans.

One pound dry lima beans.
One 10½-ounce can condensed tomato soup.
One-fourth cup corn oil.
One cup chopped onion.
One tablespoon worcestershire sauce.
One-half cup chopped celery.
Two sweet pickles, chopped.
One tablespoon salt.
One-eighth teaspoon pepper.

Wash beans thoroughly. Soak beans six to eight hours, or overnight, in water to cover. Cover and simmer gently in water in which they were soaked. Cook about one hour, or until tender but not soft and mushy.

Drain; reserve liquid. Add enough liquid drained from beans to tomato soup to make one and one-half cups total liquid. Combine with remaining ingredients. Add beans and mix thoroughly. Pour into two-quart casserole or bean pot. Cover.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about one hour. Remove cover last 15 minutes of cooking.

Yield: Six to eight servings.

Lima Beans and Cheese.

One 10-ounce package frozen lima beans.
One-fourth cup corn oil.
One cup diced celery.
One tablespoon minced green pepper.
One teaspoon minced onion.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One-fourth cup grated Cheddar cheese.

Cook lima beans according to package directions. Drain. Meanwhile cook celery, green pepper, onion and salt in corn oil until vegetables are tender. Combine and heat thoroughly to blend flavors. Sprinkle with grated cheese and mix lightly.

Yield: Four to six servings.

Corn and Lima Bean Salad.

One one-pound can (one and three-fourths cups) lima beans.
One eight-ounce can (one cup) whole kernel corn.
One pimiento, sliced.
One-third cup liquid from lima beans.
One-fourth cup corn oil.
One teaspoon salt.
One teaspoon prepared mustard.
One-half teaspoon worcestershire sauce.
Few grains pepper.

Drain lima beans and corn, reserving liquid from beans for marinade. Combine vegetables and bean liquid in a medium size bowl.

Add corn oil, salt, mustard, sugar, worcestershire sauce and pepper to vegetable mixture. Let stand at least three hours before serving. Serve plain or on salad greens.

Yield: Six regular or eight appetizer-size servings.

Minted Fruit Lamb Chops A Flavor Treat

If your appetite soars at the thought of lamb chops and mint sauce, it should really hit the heights with Minted Fruit Lamb Chops. Colorful canned fruit cocktail and fresh or dried mint, with lemon juice accenting the refreshing flavors, highlight the thick sauce that is served hot over broiled chops.

While the meat broils, the sauce can be stirred up in a matter of minutes to give a new look—and taste—to traditional lamb with mint.

Accompanied by buttered mashed potatoes and a bright green vegetable, here is lamb that all the family will welcome to the fold.

Minted Fruit Lamb Chops.

Six large shoulder lamb chops.
One (1 lb. 14 oz.) can fruit cocktail.
One tablespoon cornstarch.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
One large mint leaf (crushed).
One tablespoon lemon juice.

Score fat edges of chops to prevent curling; place on broiler rack and broil six minutes on each side or until done to your taste.

Meanwhile, drain fruit cocktail reserving all sirup. Combine fruit sirup, cornstarch, salt and mint leaf; boil, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear.

Remove from heat; add lemon juice and fruit cocktail.

Mexican-Style Casserole

On frosty days, warm up the family with a peppy Mexican-style casserole. Brown together a pound of ground beef and one-fourth cup chopped green pepper. Add one 15-ounce can chili con carne with beans and one-third cup red wine or water. Simmer about five minutes.

In casserole place layers of meat mixture, ripe olive wedges, crushed corn chips and shredded Cheddar cheese. Top with whole ripe olives. Bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes, until bubbly.

Yield: Four servings.

Rice and vegetable dressing makes a perfect accompaniment to a juicy pot roast flavored with a tomato-and-onion gravy. This is just one way in which rice can help keep food costs down, while keeping menu interest up.

Chili Beans Have Distinctive Flavor

One of the most popular variations of Beans is Chili Beans, served so often South of the border. In this version, chili powder and garlic are used with a restrained hand, so that the finished dish is not too highly seasoned for the average American palate.

Onion soup mix, stirred in with the ground meat while it is browning, gives the beans a distinctive flavor.

This is an excellent dish to serve a large crowd.

Chili Beans

One pound dried Mexican pink beans or kidney beans.
Three quarts water.
Two teaspoons salt.
Two teaspoon olive oil.
One pound ground chuck.
One package onion soup mix.
One clove garlic.
One eight-ounce can tomato sauce.
One tablespoon chili powder.

Wash and inspect beans. Cover with water and let stand overnight. Next day drain remaining water from beans. Place beans in large kettle and pour in three quarts water. Cover and simmer one hour. Add salt.

While beans are cooking, heat oil in heavy skillet and brown meat. Stir in onion soup mix, garlic, tomato sauce, and chili powder. Add meat mixture to partially cooked beans.

Cover and continue to cook two and one half to three hours or until beans are very tender.

School Snacks.

Add a special treat to children's lunch sacks by putting in a little pack of raisins. They're full of quick energy and are so handy for those in-between meal snacks.

Ham with Dressing
Baked Sweet Potato
Buttered Green Beans with Slivered Almonds
Spiced Apples
Tossed Salad
Peppermint Ice Cream with Oatmeal Cookies

Ham with Dressing

Dressing:
Four cups soft bread crumbs.
One-half cup raisins.
One-fourth cup brown sugar.
One teaspoon dry mustard.
One-fourth cup melted butter.
Two slices smoked ham, one-half inch thick (two pounds).
Nine slices pineapple.
30 whole cloves.
Parsley.

Mix bread crumbs, raisins, sugar and mustard together, pour butter evenly over mixture.

Place one slice of ham in a three-quart heat-resistant glass utility dish. Spread dressing lightly over the slice. Top with second slice of ham. Stick cloves in the fat around edge.

Cut one pineapple slice into wedges to make flower petals for the top of the ham. Place two pineapple slices, one on top of the other, in each corner of the dish.

Bake one hour in moderate oven (325 degrees). Garnish with parsley and serve.

Yield: Six to eight servings.

School Dessert.

In a saucepan, heat canned apple slices and melt a pat or two of butter or margarine over them. Serve with a gentle pour of syrup and another of half-and-half cream. This is all quick and easy, and the youngsters will love canned apple slices fixed this way.

Hearty and thrifty—bread dressing between two slices of ham.

Aluminum Foil Can Save Kitchen Toil

No doubt about it, aluminum foil can save a great deal of work in the kitchen. One of its most popular jobs is catching boil-over disasters in the oven. But there is a right way to use a foil protective sheet for baking.

For example, to make a foil drip pan for a juicy fruit pie, tear a sheet of aluminum foil several inches larger than the pie pan. Curl up the edges slightly to retain possible drippings.

Place the foil either directly under the baking pan or on the lower oven rack centered beneath the pan above.

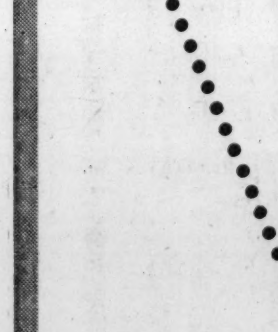

Always allow several inches between the sheet of foil and the oven walls to permit proper circulation of heated air. Completely lining the oven, or the oven bottom, may cause uneven heat distribution and perhaps uneven baking.

If foil remains on oven walls at extremely high temperatures for a long time it may melt, then fuse to the sides or the bottom. In electrically heated ovens, keep foil away from the heating elements.

Aluminum foil also works effectively in the oven covering casseroles, lining casseroles, or as a disposable foil baking dish made by shaping a double thickness of foil over the proper size container.

Raisin Bonbons.

Taste surprising California raisins, peanut butter and honey blend into a quick and easy treat for the younger set. Rinse one cup raisins in hot water and drain on paper towel. Put through food chopper using coarse blade. Blend in two tablespoons peanut butter and one tablespoon honey. Form into small balls and roll in chopped nuts. Yield: About 12 (one-inch) balls.

9 of 19 St. Louis Firms Report Higher Third-Quarter Earnings

Five Show Lower Profits Than in Same Period Last Year Despite Advance in Sales.

By William H. Kester
Post-Dispatch Financial Editor

Although business activity has been rising in recent months, third-quarter earnings for only nine of the 19 St. Louis companies reporting so far were higher than in the comparable period last year.

Increased volume, which usually means higher profits, resulted in higher net earnings for only six local companies in the latest period. Five firms earned less despite an advance in sales.

W. H. Kester

All of the companies reporting so far operated profitably in the third quarter and for the first nine months of the year. Last year, one company, Century Electric Co. reported a loss.

Third quarter net earnings for the 19 local companies amounted to $46,517,000 this year and $46,306,000 in 1960.

Third Quarter Reports.

In a recent tabulation of more than 500 third quarter reports, net profits were nearly 10 per cent higher than profits in the third quarter 1960. Of the first 252 corporations in the United States reporting third quarter earnings, 81 earned less than in the comparable period last year, the Associated Press said recently.

For the first nine months this year, net income of 296 companies was about the same as in the similar period of 1960. But 155 firms were ahead, compared with 141 that were earning less. In each year, there were 14 firms reporting a net loss.

The two local beer companies—Anheuser Busch and Falstaff—reported lower profits on higher sales. Increased production and marketing costs were the cause of its earnings decline, Falstaff said.

Bemis Bro. Bag, Mississippi River Fuel and Hussmann Refrigerator also reported lower net income despite higher sales in the third quarter. Missouri Portland Cement Co.'s earnings and sales both declined. R. C. Can also reported lower earnings for the latest period.

Railroad Earnings.

Of the three railroads based here, only the Frisco earned more in the third quarter than it did a year earlier. Revenues of the Frisco were virtually unchanged, but the Wabash and Missouri Pacific reported declines of 7 and 5 per cent respectively.

McDonnell Aircraft's earnings continued to advance despite lower volume. Profits in the third quarter were 3.3 per cent of sales, compared with 3 per cent a year earlier. Almost all of the company's business is for the United States Government.

Monsanto Chemical Co.'s earnings increased one per cent on an advance of 5 per cent in sales. However, Mallinckrodt Chemical Works reported lower sales and earnings.

Other companies reporting higher earnings and sales were Granite City Steel, McQuay-Norris, Peabody Coal, Union Electric and Wagner Electric.

Chromalloy Corp. of New York City has acquired Lancer Slacks, Inc., formerly the Jack Schultz, Inc., of St. Louis, for an undisclosed amount of stock. The acquisition is part of diversification program of Chromalloy.

Lancer Slacks sells men's slacks manufactured under contract in two plants in Amory, Miss. Jack Schultz will continue as president and general manager of the company.

In 1958, Chromalloy acquired the Propellex Chemical Corp. of Edwardsville, Ill.

F. Alan Tiarks has been promoted from general sales manager to general manager of Granco Steel Products Co. of St. Louis, a marketing subsidiary of Granite City Steel Co. He succeeds Paul K. Nichols, who has resigned.

Olaf O. Robers Jr. has been promoted to general sales manager.

ACF-WRIGLEY STORES 1ST QUARTER NET DECLINES

DETROIT, Nov. 6—ACF-Wrigley Stores, Inc., net earnings for three months to Sept. 23, the first quarter of the company's fiscal year, were $1,048,926 equal to 25 cents a common share on 4,181,310 shares outstanding. In the three months to Sept. 30 last year net was $1,335,4[illegible] equivalent to 32 cents a share on 4,145,120 shares.

Sales in the three months just ended were $92,429,221 compared with $92,686,797 a year ago.

BANK GROUP STRONG IN OFF-BOARD TRADE

© New York Times News Service

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 — The bank, utility and oil and gas stocks were the best performers last week in the over-the-counter market. Almost all of them rose in price on good demand.

Many industrial issues also showed good gains and as a result the National Quotation Bureau's price index of 35 such stocks closed Friday at 135.80, a record figure and a net gain of 1.87 for the week.

Persistent investment demand plus a thin supply of stock resulted in some good advances for the bank group. Bankers Trust climbed 2 points; Chase was up 6½; Morgan Guaranty advanced 4 and Irving Trust and Manufacturers each moved ahead 2.

The out-of-town banks also were in demand. First National of Chicago and Continental Illinois each rose 7 points; Security Bank of Los Angeles added 5 and Weils Fargo of San Francisco tacked on 4.

The utility stocks continued to show strength. Blackhill Power and Light rose 1½ points; Tucson Gas and Electric climbed 3½; Kentucky Utilities gained 2¾ and Indiana Gas & Water rose 1½.

Among the strong industrial securities were Alberto Culver, which advanced 7 points. Anelex Corp. rose 10 points.

Miles Laboratories moved ahead 16 points after announcing a three-for-one stock split. Sanders Associates gained 5½ points. Morton Foods leaped ahead 7½ points; G. D. Searle gained 6 points and Mattel, the toy manufacturing company, climbed 5½ points.

Some of the weaker industrials included Ralston Purina, which fell 8 points; Scot Lad Foods, down 4; Western Publishing, off 6½, and Beryllium Corp., which dipped 5½.

The savings and loan issues were strong and in good demand.

Heavy buying moved most life insurance securities into higher ground. Connecticut General, a high-priced issue, soared 13 points; Travelers was up 1½ and Aetna rose 3. Eastern Life Insurance Co., of New York jumped 11 points to 135 bid after the New York department of insurance approved its five-for-one stock split.

GRAIN FUTURES MARKET DRIFTS INTO WEAKNESS

CHICAGO, Nov. 6 (AP)—The grain futures market drifted into general weakness in the early afternoon today as the light commercial demand dried up and selling increased.

Brokers said the pressure appeared to include both liquidation and short selling. There apparently was some hedging in corn, but speculators were bearish of improved weather for both harvesting and drying of the grain.

Export buying steadied wheat most of the day.

Business Outlook

THE BOMB AND PROSPERITY

by J. A. Livingston

We live in an age of megatonmania. "Shelters for Survival?" That ominous headline—with a mushroom cloud above and an underground hideout below—is on the cover of a news magazine.

Numerous newspapers throughout the United States have had, are having or are planning articles on how you can protect yourself — if you're still alive—from radioactivity after a nuclear bomb strikes.

J. A. Livingston

Conclusion: Premier Khrushchev's dirty work in the skies has become a fact of daily living.

Never before has military preparation, in itself, been a threat to peace, nor so all-pervasive. It affects investors, shoppers, business men, workers. It influences government expenditures, budgetary policy, and business conditions in ways not easily determinable.

Testing Becomes War.

In the days before nuclear fission, the wide expanse of land and sea offered plenty of space for tryouts of a 155 mm. shell, or rockets. There was no fall-out to injure innocents miles and years away.

Thus, nuclear testing, if persisted in by any nation, becomes by itself a provocation toward war. And this must increasingly possess the minds of men everywhere.

Yet, the world's work goes on. We go back and forth to offices, factories, and customers. We produce and distribute goods. We plan vacations, and look forward to Christmas. But the bomb is too real to be mere backdrop. It's an ever-present distraction: How to survive?

No man, thinking of a shelter for his family can be completely carefree about using money for a swimming pool, or a new car, or a suite of furniture.

No executive, thinking of the necessity for storing records can be utterly composed about going ahead with large-scale expansion. Nor can a housewife put her heart, soul and borrowing capacity into shopping when she's belabored in idle moments with what to do about IT.

Is this a factor in the slowdown in recovery? Americans its follow through? Machine-tool orders have increased and so have housing starts, but weekly wages and sales of durable goods have declined.

Sapping Economic Zest.

No doubt, the strikes at General Motors and Ford have reduced steel consumption and diminished new-car sales. Dealers aren't dashing into retail stores. Savings are estimated by the Department of Commerce at 7% of disposable personal income versus 6.5% during 1960. This could account for the plateau in retail buying for many months.

And it shows up in the two-ply pattern of industrial activity that prosperity requires. No wonder the golden 'sixties are so slow getting golden.

DOLLAR VOLUME PEAK IN BUILDING IN 1962

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—Construction activity in 1962 will hit a new high in dollar volume for a 17th year in a row, the F. W. Dodge Corp. predicted.

In its annual outlook appraisal, the Dodge firm, specialists in the field, forecast a contract volume of nearly $40,000,000,000, a gain of 7 per cent over the projected $37,300,000,000 for 1961.

It said it expected the best year for residential building of the recent past, with awards totaling $17,500,000,000, a rise of 10 per cent over 1961.

Using the Census Bureau basis of measurement, Dodge foresaw 1,400,000 new non-farm housing starts in 1962, an increase of 8 per cent.

The report predicted a 4 per cent increase in nonresidential building contracts to a dollar volume of $12,700,000,000 and a rise in terms of floor area of 3 per cent, mainly because of a 10 per cent jump in manufacturing buildings.

A 2 per cent increase was foreseen in physical volume of educational and science buildings and on increase in floor area of commercial buildings.

A 6 per cent increase was forecast to $9,700,000,000 in heavy engineering contracts.

Chicago and North Western Railway Company

Request for Bids for Secured Notes Not to Exceed $15,000,000.00

Chicago and North Western Railway Company invites bids for the purchase at par of certain Notes not to exceed an aggregate principal amount of $15,000,000.00 to be issued under Securities Contract No. 36, the terms and conditions of which are hereinafter described.

Securities Contract No. 36 provides for a commitment period during which the successful bidder ("Lender") will grant secured credit to Railway Company in a principal amount not to exceed $15,000,000.00. The initial commitment period will commence on the date of execution of Securities Contract No. 36 and will expire one year following the effective date of the approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission of all aspects of the proposed transaction subject to its jurisdiction. The commitment period may be extended for one or two additional one-year periods if such proposal by Railway Company is accepted by Lender. At any time during the commitment period, as finally determined, Railway Company may by thirty-day notice terminate the secured credit or reduce it in amount in multiples of $100,000.

To the extent that such secured credit has not been so terminated or reduced, at any time prior to the expiration of the commitment period, as finally determined, Lender will agree to lend Railway Company on five-day notice any amount in multiples of $100,000.00 up to an aggregate principal amount of loans outstanding of $15,000,000.00. Such loans will be payable as to interest, semi-annually, and as to principal at the expiration of the commitment period, as finally determined. All loans will be evidenced by a Collateral Note or Notes as to which Railway Company shall have full right of prepayment.

As to any unpaid principal balance outstanding under such Notes on the final day of the commitment period, as finally determined, Railway Company shall have the option to extend the maturities thereof through the conversion of any part or all of the unpaid principal balance of any or all of said Collateral Notes then outstanding, to a new five-year Collateral Installment Note payable in equal annual principal installments and bearing the same rate of interest as the original loan, such interest to be paid semi-annually. Railway Company shall also reserve full right of prepayment as to all or any part of the loan evidenced by the Collateral Installment Note.

Any Note or Notes issued under Securities Contract No. 36 shall be secured in a manner more fully described in the invitation to bid by the following securities:

(a) $3,800,000.00 in principal amount of United States Government obligations, to be valued for pledge purposes at 100% of market value;

(b) $12,000,000.00 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, Series C, 5½%, to be issued, subject to authority to be applied for from the Interstate Commerce Commission, under Railway Company's Indenture of Mortgage and Deed of Trust dated January 1, 1939, to be valued for pledge purposes at 80% of market value; and

(c) as required by Railway Company's Second Mortgage 4½% Convertible Income Bonds, Series A, to be valued for pledge purposes at 66⅔% of market value.

The purpose of any additional loan or loans which might be made under this transaction will be to provide Railway Company with such additional funds as may be necessary or useful for its general corporate purposes. The obligations of the accepted bidder and Railway Company are contingent on the approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission of (i) the issuance of the Note or Notes in connection with the loan or loans which are the subject of this request for bids, (ii) the issuance and pledge by Railway Company of the proposed First Mortgage Bonds, Series C, 5½%, and (iii) the pledge of the requisite amount of Railway Company's Second Mortgage Bonds as security.

Bids should be submitted both with respect to (1) the lowest interest rate at which the bidder will make a loan or loans not to exceed an aggregate principal amount of $15,000,000.00 for the period or periods hereinabove described, and (2) the lowest commitment fee at which the bidder will agree to provide secured credit, as hereinabove described. Failure to bid on the amount of the commitment fee shall be deemed a waiver of any such fee by the accepted bidder.

Copies of the invitation to bid, including the procedure in bidding and the form of Securities Contract No. 36 and the Note or Notes to be issued thereunder, may be obtained from Mr. Larry S. Prevo, Vice President and Comptroller, Chicago and North Western Railway Company, Room 620, 400 West Madison Street, Chicago 6, Illinois, at whose office bids will be received up to 12:00 o'clock noon Central Standard Time on Monday, November 20, 1961. Bids will be opened at 400 West Madison Street, Room 600, immediately after noon on said date, by the Chairman, President or one of the Vice Presidents of Railway Company in the presence of bidders or their duly authorized representatives who may desire to be present. Railway Company reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

STOCKS CLOSE HIGHER IN BURST OF HEAVY TRADE

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—The stock market closed higher today in a burst of heavy trading accompanied by a late ticker tape.

In another churning session, stocks advanced on balance despite assorted losers. Although most gains of key stocks were moderate, there were some wide moves to the plus or minus side.

International Business Machines (ex dividend) recovered about 9 points. Texas Instruments was up about 4, Amerada and Xerox about 3 apiece, Plough 6, Dupont and Sears-Roebuck around 2. Fairchild Camera slid a half dozen points. Liggett & Myers dropped a point and Union Carbide more than that.

Chrysler and Merck moved up more than a point each.

The list was higher from the start. The ticker tape lagged in active dealings at the start and caught up as priced held.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4,300,000 shares compared with 4,070,000 Friday.

Prices rose on the American Stock Exchange in the afternoon ni fairly active trading. Mead Johnson rose more than 3, Locke Steel Chain and Great Western Producers more than 2 apiece. Gains of more than a point were made by Barnes Engineering, Admiral Plastics, Louisiana Land and Heli-Coil. S. Klein Department Stores was down more than a point.

STEEL OUTPUT DIPS, HOLDS ABOVE 2 MILLION TONS

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—Steel production dipped slightly last week, but held above the 2,000,000-ton level, the American Iron and Steel Institute reported.

It said output came to 2,044,000 tons, down 0.6 per cent from 2,057,000 the previous week. The index of production (1957-59 equals 100) was 109.7 against 110.4 the previous week.

Production for the year to date came to 80,765,000 tons (index 98.5), down 7.7 per cent from 87,501,000 to the same time a year ago (index 106.8).

Last week's index of production by districts: Northeast coast 108, Buffalo 101, Pittsburgh 104, Youngstown 94, Cleveland 120, Detroit 136, Chicago 110, Cincinnati 133, St. Louis 128, Southern 101 and Western 116.

U.S. BONDS ARE QUIET, CORPORATES EDGE UP

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—Corporate bonds maintained a slim higher edge this afternoon. U.S. Government bonds were mostly unchanged in extremely quiet transactions over the counter.

Rails and utilities continued to lead corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange. Industrials were mixed, as they were at the start. Volume was running about 5 per cent behind Friday's pace, which was the best in over two months.

Government investors were preoccupied with the Treasury's nearly $7,000,000,000 refunding of war issued 2½s. Subscription books are open through Thursday but there will be no trading tomorrow, Election Day.

AM. ZINC 3RD QTR. PROFITS ARE LOWER

American Zinc, Lead and Smelting Co. net income for the three months to Sept. 30 was $55,750 equivalent to 4 cents a common share. In the comparabel period a year ago net was $714,285 equal to 57 cents a share.

Sales and other income in the quarter were $13,237,131 compared with $14,628,208 a year ago.

For the twelve months to Sept. 30 net was $711,645 or 57 cents a share on sales of $54,094,613. In the corresponding period a year ago net was $2,560,879 equal to $2.04 a share on sales of $53,538,098.

Operating profits in the third quarter were reduced as a result of a strike in the Monsanto, Ill., plant and cutbacks in other plants by $650,000, or about 24 cents a share, Howard I. Young, president said.

AUTOMATIC PLAN FOR INTERCEPTION BY FIGHTER PLANE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Development of a new communications system under which interception of a target by a fighter plane can be as automatic as it is with an unmanned missile was announced today by the Air Force Systems Command.

The system is known as Time Division Data Link, nicknamed "Tiddle" by project personnel for easy pronounciation. It enables one ground-based electronic computer to calculate commands for an interception and give instructions to hundreds of airplanes faster than any other known means.

Maj Hollie A. Wilkes of the electronic systems division, said that when an aerial target is detected T.D.D.L. receives command instructions from a computer in coded form. The computer directs distribution of the commands to transmitter sites throughout the country, and then the instructions are beamed to the aircraft.

The announcement said advantages of the "Tiddle"-operated aircraft over a missile are: (1) aircraft can be recalled from a mission, (2) positive identification of a target, and (3) use of human judgment.

DISCOVERER 34 PUT IN ORBIT, CAPSULE CATCH TO BE TRIED

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Nov. 6 (AP)—The thirty-fourth Discoverer Satellite is in polar orbit, carrying a capsule the Air Force will try to catch in the sky over the Pacific.

This shot, one of a series aimed at perfecting a technique for recovering packages from space, was fired yesterday. The Air Force hopes that within a few days the capsule will separate from the rocket and parachute toward the ocean. Planes based at Hawaii will try to snag the parachute before it hits the water. If they miss, a recovery will be attempted by ships.

So far eight capsules have been recovered. Six have been caught, two taken from the sea.

The Air Force would not say what type of instruments were carried by Discoverer 34.

HALF FOREIGN CAR BUYERS REPEAT, SURVEY INDICATES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—About half the Americans who bought imported cars in 1956-58 have shown preference for foreign makes when buying their next car, a survey by the National Automobile Dealers Association indicated yesterday.

Fifty-four per cent of those who purchased imports when the foreign car boom was getting into stride are still driving them, N.A.D.A.'s research department said.

Of those who no longer own the same car, 92 per cent traded for another auto. Of this group 51 per cent bought another import, either of the same make or of another foreign make. Twenty-five per cent bought an American compact, and 24 per cent bought an American standard passenger car.

MEXICO'S BIGGEST AIRLINE GROUNDED BY PILOTS' STRIKE

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 6 (AP)—Mexico's biggest airline, Aeronaves de Mexico, was grounded today by a strike of pilots asking for a 22 per cent salary increase. Other flight personnel and ground crews joined in the walkout.

All flights were canceled to New York, Tucson, Ariz. ,and San Antonio, Tex., and 30 cities in Mexico were left without air service. Hardest hit was Acapulco, the Pacific Coast resort, to which Aeronaves flies an average of 20,000 passengers a month.

—Associated Press Wirephoto.
Low temperatures and areas of precipitation expected tonight.

Relatively cool weather is expected to continue in the St. Louis area tomorrow, but the Weather Bureau said temperatures should rise on Wednesday.

A cold air mass covered a broad area of the county today, extending from the Rockies eastward except along the Atlantic seaboard. The center of the mass was in the upper Mississippi valley with Missouri and Illinois being in direct line of the flow of cold air.

Coldest weather in the nation again was in the northern and central Plains states where temperatures were below 20 degrees from the Dakotas southwestward into southeast Wyoming and northwest Kansas.

In the cold belt, light snow fell from west Texas into northern New Mexico and from eastern Minnesota into the upper Great Lakes. Cloudy skies and some light rain were reported from the Gulf Coast.

Cooler temperatures are predicted throughout the Atlantic coastal states, with somewhat warmer readings likely west of the Mississippi. Generally sunny skies will prevail in the middle Mississippi valley.

Heating degree days in the St. Louis area yesterday, 25; the month, 77; the season, 340.

Credit Unions, Co-operatives In Undeveloped Nations Given Big Push From Series of Events

Hemispheric Conference, U.S. Aid Proposal, Fact-Finding Mission to South America Are Aimed at Strengthening Self-Help Movement.

By THOMAS W. OTTENAD
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.

THROUGH FORTUNATE TIMING there has been a great improvement in the opportunity for backward nations to strengthen their economies by building a healthy, home-grown system of credit unions and co-operatives.

The prospect is an inviting one. Co-ops, through their emphasis on self-help and pooled resources, are considered especially adapted to economically lagging areas where capital is scarce and credit is costly. In addition, they are an instrument for peaceful social reform and a democratic answer to Communist collectivism.

Bolstering hopes for a stronger co-operative movement, particularly in Latin America, are an unusual series of developments, including a conference that will bring together for the first time co-op leaders from the Western Hemisphere, a tentative new plan for aid to foreign co-ops, disclosed by the United States last week, and a fact-finding mission to be sent to South America within a week. Co-operative experts expect these events, together with a more favorable climate in Latin America, to have significant results.

THE CONFERENCE that opens today in Bogota, Colombia, offers a "much better than 50-50 chance" of taking the first steps toward setting up a hemisphere-wide association of co-operatives, Merlin G. Miller, director of international affairs for the Co-operative League of the United States, told the Post-Dispatch.

Miller, who has been close to the co-op movement in Latin America as well as in the United States, said establishment of such an organization would be extremely beneficial in fostering the growth of co-operatives. It would provide a focal point for encouraging the development of new co-ops, he observed. It could establish training courses in the operation of co-ops, and serve as a clearing house for requests for technical assistance and advice, he suggested.

There are predictions that, if an inter-American organization is formed at Bogota, the major co-operative groups in the United States will join. The meeting already has drawn backing from leaders and supporters of the co-op movement in this country such as Jerry Voorhis, president of the Co-operative League; Clyde T. Ellis, general manager of the National Rural Electric Co-operative Association, and Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (Dem.), Minnesota, father of the new plan for emphasizing co-ops in the American foreign aid program. All three men are expected to address the Colombia conference.

SIGNIFICANTLY, the meeting will not be devoted exclusively to efforts to expand the sponsoring group, the Caribbean Co-operative Confederation, into a hemispheric organization. Its agenda calls also for a study of how the co-operative movement can "strengthen inter-American relations and safeguard democracy . . . (and) best contribute toward improving social and economic conditions in the countries of the Americas." At the top of its list of problems is the basic question of providing adequate financing for co-ops.

Co-operative leaders are hopeful that at least a part answer to this question may emerge from the new look that is being fashioned for the United States foreign assistance program by the Kennedy administration. A blueprint that they hope will be followed was presented Wednesday to the new Agency for International Development, which has taken over administration of American foreign aid.

The plan, drafted by an advisory committee of co-operative leaders, urged the United States to undertake a "bold new program" of financial and technical aid to encourage the growth of credit unions, co-operatives and savings and loan associations in developing nations. A broad and varied schedule of loans and grants by the United States Government, international organizations and private investors was called for.

Fowler Hamilton, who heads AID, has not said publicly whether he will follow his advisory committee's proposals.

AN EXPERT who has been close to the drafting of the advisory report predicted that its effect abroad will be "downright explosive," explaining:

"This is the first recognition by the United States of the importance attached to co-ops in the developing nations. Many of them are trying to emphasize co-ops as a middle way between big business and Communism. This report recognizes their desires. It should give strong encouragement to those who want to form new or expanded co-operatives."

Underlying the present surge of optimism is one other factor, the fact-finding mission to Latin America that will be carried out on behalf of AID by five American co-operative leaders. Starting immediately after the Bogota meeting, the tour will continue until Dec. 2 and will cover Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, Argentina, Brazil and Venezuela. Hamilton is expected to announce plans for the trip this week.

Coming as it does immediately on the heels of the Bogota gathering and the issuance of the AID advisory report, the tour is expected to attract great attention in Latin America. Members of the delegation, which includes Howard A. Cowden of Kansas City, president of Consumers Co-operative Association, are expected to recommend to Hamilton specific credit union and co-operative projects that could be assisted with United States foreign aid money. Priorities among programs and projects also may be suggested.

DESPITE the developing favorable climate, the problems facing co-ops in Latin America and other under-developed areas are such that it is going to take long and hard work to develop a vigorous and effective co-operative movement. Clearly the chief difficulty is the need for money with which to operate. Experts both in and out of government agree on this.

There is a good deal of private agreement, too, that unless operating capital can be made available readily in realistic amounts at reasonable rates of interest, the effort to bolster co-ops will fail. Experts have warned that, if co-operatives in backward areas have to raise capital from their members, many of whom are poverty-stricken, progress will be virtually impossible. Most of the necessary money, a number of experts say, is going to have to come from the United States government, although it

Texas Winner, a Democrat, Says Eisenhower's Trip Backfired

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 6 (AP).

HENRY B. GONZALEZ, a liberal Democrat and Texas's newest congressman, says he owes his election in part to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Eisenhower stumped San Antonio last week for Gonzalez's principal opponent in Saturday's special election, conservative Republican John Goode Jr.

Gonzalez defeated Goode 52,855 to 42,553 with three other Democrats polling a total of about 1500 votes. He will succeed Representative Paul Kilday, Democrat, who resigned to become a federal judge.

Gonzalez left last night for New York where he will join the campaign of Mayor Robert F. Wagner for re-election. In Dallas, he told reporters:

"Up to that time (Eisenhower's appearance) the national Democratic headquarters hadn't realized . . . the Republicans were trying to make this election a national issue.

"After the Republicans brought in their 50-megaton bomb, people started getting agitated."

GONZALEZ, a strong supporter of President Kennedy in 1960, said his victory was a vote of confidence in Mr. Kennedy's administration. The Democratic national chairman, John M. Bailey, called it a "clear-cut test of strength between the President's supporters and his foes."

But state Republican chairman Tad Smith said the outcome "indicates that never again will they be able to take any race in Texas for granted."

Gonzalez and Goode agreed the biggest single factor in Gonzalez's victory was the personal campaigning of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Johnson spoke at a rally and then toured San Antonio shopping centers with Gonzalez.

Prior to the election, both parties had said it would measure the extent of a revival of political conservatism in Texas.

The twentieth district has demonstrated an affinity for liberals—Kilday and his predecessor, Maury Maverick of New Deal renown.

But in last summer's special election, Senator John Tower, an ultra-conservative Republican, carried the district as part of his surprise victory and Republicans had high hopes of winning with Goode. Like Tower, Goode sought the votes of conservative Democrats by stressing his conservatism instead of his party affiliation.

THE ELECTION brought a charge from Goode that Vice President Johnson unfairly injejcted the racial issue

Gonzalez is a native of San Antonio but his parents were born in Mexico. Johnson had urged voters to elect Gonzalez to "prove that a man can be elected to the United States Congress in spite of his race."

"I was a little bit shocked to hear my Vice President inject the racial and national origin issue into a campaign in which they were not originally issues," said Goode.

Gonzalez, an outspoken integrationist who once filibustered in the Texas Senate against bills

Katanga Tries To Whip Up War Fervor

Belgians Backed Rebellion, Now Are Worried About Result.

By LYNN HEINZERLING
ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, Nov. 6 (AP).

BELGIANS AND OTHER Europeans who urged independence for Katanga province now watch nervously as the Katanga government tries to whip its 12,000 troops into fighting fervor.

Day after day the government soldiers in the "eight long days of war" with the United Nations in September. The modest little Place Albert outside the post office has become the "Place of the Heroes of September 1961." The post office was the center of the fighting which followed the U.N. effort to enforce a mandate to expel white mercenaries and certain Belgian advisers of the Katanga government.

Belgians recall the days of July 1960. Some of the same troops, then in the Force Publique of the old Belgian colony, went on a wild spree of looting, pillaging and killings. When it was over seven persons had been killed and 12,000 whites resident in Elisabethville had fled across the border in panic.

Some 7500 whites have returned, but they avoid the comfortable villas on the edge of the city and crowd into the center. A good many who opposed U.N. activities in Katanga are now beginning to hope the organization will not pull out its troops too quickly.

A cease-fire has been arranged but there are still about 100 white mercenaries — Belgian, French, British and Polish.

KATANGA'S information minister, Lucas Samalenge, spoke to the Katanga populace over the radio recently in what he called "joy and solemnity of victory." He described the war with the United Nations as "more terrible than the massacres of Hungary." He said Katanga had become an "imperishable symbol of courage and grandeur."

Allies Alarmed by U.S. Display Of Force on East Berlin Border

Many in NATO Unwilling to Risk Nuclear War on What They Believe Is Technicality on Identifications.

By SYDNEY GRUSON
© New York Times News Service

BONN, Nov. 6.

A MAJORITY OF THE MEMBERS of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization expressed alarm to the United States over its recent display of force to escort American officials into Communist East Berlin, it was reported yesterday.

This presumably played a part in Washington's decision to call off the Berlin command's strong tactics after Red Army tanks had confronted American armor on the East Berlin border for 16 hours.

Washington was unhappy from the beginning over the posture it had to assume to uphold the right of free entry to East Berlin for its officials, in or out of uniform.

The Allies' misgivings were expressed to Thomas K. Finletter, the United States Ambassador in Paris to the Atlantic Council. They were reported to have asked whether the United States show of force on the border represented a change in American policy as presented to them in the council.

THIS POLICY was, in effect, that while the United States was determined to fight if necessary to uphold its right of access to West Berlin, no such risks would be run in regard to East Berlin.

From what is known here of the views of many of the Allies, it is a safe assumption that they told Finletter their people would not understand risking nuclear war for the American right to withhold identification documents from the East German Communists.

Britain's practice in allowing its Berlin civilan personnel or soldiers in civilian clothes to show identification was a factor in the arguments presented to Finletter.

Actually, American officials in civilian clothes or American civilian personnel in West Berlin have identified themselves to the East Germans since Aug. 13, when the Communists sealed off East Berlin, if they went to East Berlin on the subway.

THE POINT at issue that brought on the display of American force at the border, and the escorting of officials by armed military police, was whether identification was needed for persons riding in cars licensed by the United States Berlin command.

This was such a refinement of the issue that it won practically no support from the Allies of the United States.

The United States Berlin command's view, essentially, was that if the few remaining rights of the Allies were surrendered in Berlin under pressure or threats from the Communists the Western powers would be weakened when negotiations with the Russians began.

The Berlin command thinks acceptance of the Communists' identification demands at the intracity border will invite other restrictions and help east the East Germans into control positions at the border between the East and West Germany.

As far as the West Germans are concerned, Washington's action in holding back the Berlin command is one more piece of evidence that the United States, whatever it may say for the record, no longer considers it possible to uphold Berlin's status as a four-power city.

THIS WAS IMPLICIT in the Western Allies decision that they could do nothing about knocking down the wall built by the Communists.

In the West Germans' eyes, it was made explicit by the Allies' recent decision to delegate some of their control functions to the West Berlin police, including control of Soviet civilians entering West Berlin in cars not bearing Soviet military license plates.

The West German reaction was that the Allies had taken a

Preventive Law Is Just As Important As Preventive Medicine

THE best time to consult your lawyer is before you get into trouble, not afterwards. Preventive law is usually more effective and less costly than remedial law.

Here are a few important road signs pointing to when you should see your lawyer about your estate:

1. If you are married and your will was made before 1948 (the year the marital deduction became effective) your will is probably out of date and you should consult your lawyer about the advisability of using the marital deduction.

2. If your estate is in joint names or you are contemplating putting it in joint names, you should consult your lawyer. Having it in your own name and disposing of it by two separate trusts under your will, a marital trust and a residuary trust, enables you to minimize taxation. It uses the marital deduction which cuts your estate in half for tax purposes and also can prevent the residuary trust from being included in the estate of your surviving wife or husband for tax purposes.

3. If your will leaves your estate outright to your wife or husband, you can obtain these same advantages by changing your will to leave half of your estate in a marital trust and the balance in a residuary trust.

4. If there have been important changes in your financial affairs, the composition of your assets, in your family situation, in the tax laws or in the circumstances of your beneficiaries, you should see your lawyer and have him bring your estate plan up to date.

5. If you are planning substantial bequests to charity in your will you should consult your lawyer about alternative means of accomplishing the same results and doing so with distinct tax advantages. To illustrate, you may create an irrevocable trust reserving the income to yourself for life and thereafter to your surviving wife or husband for life and providing that upon the death of the survivor the property go to charity. If you do so, each annual contribution to such trust will give you a tax deduction for income tax purposes. The deduction will be the present value of the remainder interest going to charity based upon actuarial tables and the ages of yourself and husband or wife. Since you retain all the income from the trust the annual tax saving resulting from your tax deduction will increase your after-tax income by the amount of your annual tax saving.

6. Stock options, pensions and other retirement benefits should be considered in preparing a carefully coordinated estate plan.

These are but a few of the reasons for consulting your attorney frequently about your estate plans. Officers of the St. Louis Union Trust Company will be glad to confer with you about the investment, financial and other non-legal aspects of your estate plans, and to co-operate with your own attorney in working out the most suitable plan for your circumstances. You are invited to come in at any time to discuss your affairs in confidence.

No Need for Steel Mill

We read with interest your comments on the engineering report concerning the market potential for a new steel mill located in Missouri. Our company buys substantial tonnages of steel both for our fabricating plants and a steel warehousing business, and we operate plants in Illinois, Missouri and Texas which are key states in the market area that would be open to a Missouri-based mill. With headquarters in St. Louis, we are naturally interested in anything that would benefit the economy of the state.

In this case, however, we question if there is either a demand or need for another steel producing facility in this area—other than the "demand" generated by a quite understandable desire on the part of the State of Missouri to attract more industry. Our experience in buying steel in good times and bad indicates that the steelmaking capacity available to this Midwest and Southwest market area is more than sufficient.

People outside the steel fabricating and warehousing business sometimes forget that there are already, in effect, three steel mills in Missouri although only the one in Kansas City is physically inside the state. However, the two steel companies just across the river from St. Louis in Madison county might as well be inside Missouri from a consumer or cost-of-shipments standpoint. The only difference it would appear to make to anyone is that their state taxes are paid in Springfield, Ill., rather than in Jefferson City, Mo.

Look in the yellow pages of the St. Louis telephone book and you will find district sales office phone numbers for the eight largest steel producers in the United States as well as many smaller companies. The same condition prevails in other cities in this Midwest and Southwest market area. The big steel producers either operate plants in the area itself (as, for example, in Houston, Birmingham, Ala., Gadsden, Ala., and Newport, Ky.) or plants near enough to ship here on a competitive basis. This is particularly noticeable in the case of shipments from the concentration of steelmaking capacity in Chicago.

We have always understood that the best way to encourage the industrial development of an area is to aim at realistic targets, at new plants for which there is a demonstrable need. Our steel-buying experience leads us to conclude that the discovery of iron ore in Missouri does not, in itself, create such a need. Certainly it would require the strongest economic and marketing incentives to persuade any steel company to make the huge capital investment required to build an integrated steel plant of even modest size. L. A. Crancer Sr., President, Valley Steel Products Company

Callous in the County

I see it is politics as usual at the County Collector's office. Ignoring the efforts of the residents of St. Louis county to eliminate politics and reduce costs, the team of McNary and Hopkins has found another way to skin a cat.

To those familiar with the circumstances, the designation of E. J. Watt's efforts as "confused and disorganized" is as ridiculous as it is callous.

Are these men aware at all of their obligation to comply with the voters' wishes? Ex-Democrat

A Neutral Germany

Sending more troops and planes to Germany and West Berlin can do nothing but aggravate a situation for which there is no military solution. We intended 16 years ago that Germany remain demilitarized and neutral, and the greatest mistake we have made was to draw that country into NATO.

Can we have the vision now to see where our own interest lies and propose that Germany and Central Europe be made a neutral, atom-free zone? Such a step could truly bring us back from the brink of war. Mrs. Joseph P. Logan

Good Old Days?

Columnist Hal Boyle is quite grief-stricken over a 30-cent shoe shine. He fondly remembers the $2 hotel room, 15 cent shave, 15 cent ham-and-cheese sandwich, and the 5-cent trolley car ride. He has fond memories how everything was cheap in the good old days. It seems to have escaped his memory that the basic thing that was cheap years ago was the salaries of the working people. Hank Maddock

Policies for Transport

The report on national transportation policy which Secretary of Commerce Hodges has been preparing the past three months for President Kennedy apparently will look beyond the present crisis to preventive measures in freight hauling, with emphasis on curbing abuses in unregulated carriage. Commerce Under Secretary for Transportation Clarence D. Martin Jr. indicated as much in a recent speech at Spokane. Mr. Martin also proposed reform of tax and depreciation policies, new standards to end damaging rate-cutting and termination of free or reduced rates for Government shipments.

These are all reasonable measures, and some of them are essential to the restoration of our ailing rail, air, truck, barge and ocean-going transportation systems. One of the foremost changes called for is legislation and Government co-operation which will enable the carriers, principally the railroads, to regain business they have lost to private transport, and end the gray-area abuses practiced by some private haulers.

Private carriers have taken over a third of the ton-miles of inter-city freight from the railroads in the past two decades, and with farm and bulk commodities added in, half the traffic in terms of ton-miles is moving unregulated as to rates.

If the trend continues private haulers will displace common carriers as the base of national freight transport by 1975, according to a projection made for the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. Mr. Martin declared this would add up to as much trouble in the freight business as there is in the passenger business today.

Legitimate private shipping has advanced so far that one company alone, Socony Mobil Oil, has $300,000,000 invested in rail cars, airplanes, pipelines, ships, barges, and tank trucks in which it moves all but a small part of its products. Before the Second World War 70 per cent of its lubricating oil, batteries and tires moved by rail. Mr. Martin would aid the railroads to effect the flexibility and cost reductions which would help them to regain such traffic.

The gray area is an even more obvious candidate for reform measures. Some private shippers are evading regulation by a variety of ruses. A commodity may be bought, transported and sold at the destination for the purchase price plus transportation charges. Fictitious farm "co-operatives" or shipping associations may be set up as fronts. Trucks and drivers may be leased to other shippers. Through these and other devices loads are obtained for backhauls which would otherwise go empty—and any price obtained is so much more than nothing, profitable for the private shipper but unfair, unregulated competition for the regulated railroads.

Under Secretary Martin would eliminate these abuses by requiring that "private carriers should remain private carriers—and not invade the for-hire field." That sounds fair enough—to the private carriers as well as the railroads.

Secretary Hodges' report, which the Under Secretary's remarks evidently foreshadow, may or may not be made public as such. It is to be used as a basis for a message on transportation which President Kennedy plans, after an initial delay, to submit to Congress at its next session. We hope the President will adopt these sensible, far-sighted and rather bold proposals which Mr. Martin has unveiled at Spokane. They may not solve all our national transportation problems; that, in fact, would be too much to expect. But they could bring about a marked improvement, and ease the difficulty of going on from there.

Mr. McNary's Second Chance

Supervisor McNary has an opportunity to show that he has learned something from the refusal of the county's circuit judges to approve his appointment of Joseph A. Shea to be a trustee of the Metropolitan Sewer District.

While the judges made public no official reason for their opposition to Mr. Shea, it seems obvious they were concerned over potential conflicts of interest attached to the appointment. Mr. Shea heads a wholesale plumbing supplies firm. As such he has extremely close business relations with the industry whose function in part he would have been overseeing, and we are glad that the judges decided to block the appointment. The Sewer Board already has two men from the plumbing industry sitting on it; that is plenty, if not two too many.

Why doesn't Mr. McNary now seek out a distinguished layman who would bring to the Board a broad outlook and a concern for the overriding public interest? There surely is in St. Louis county no shortage of men or women of intelligence and integrity who could capably serve the Sewer District and reflect a measure of credit on the appointing authority.

The Electricians Persist

The persistant refusal of the electricians to take No for an answer to their attempts to rig the Building Code calls for equal persistence from Aldermanic President Cervantes and supporters of the model code.

Aldermen Harris and Curry and others who are carrying the ball for the electricians, the bricklayers and other special interests evidently think that if they maintain the pressure Mr. Cervantes's allies will melt away.

Fortunately for the cause of a proper Building Code in St. Louis, the Aldermanic President does not need too many votes. While the Harris-Curry group may well have sufficient strength to pass a particular crippling amendment, its tactical problem is much more difficult when it comes to mustering the 20 votes necessary to override a veto by Mayor Tucker.

There is no reason for the Harris-Curry bloc to get the vote of a single one of the city's six Negro Aldermen who are Democrats. The union groups that are out to cut up the Building Code in the interest of creating make-work procedures are the very unions which have closed their doors to Negroes. A recent report by the United States Commission on Civil Rights indicated only eight Negroes were registered in craft apprenticeship programs here, seven in the baking industry and one in the machinist trade.

If the Board's three Republicans also rallied behind Mr. Cervantes, the best the Harris-Curry group could count on would be 19 votes, or one short of what is necessary to override. And surely Mr. Cervantes could count on help from such Democratic newcomers as John D. Gumersell in the Twenty-fifth Ward and Theodore S. Martin in the Twenty-seventh and perhaps John A. Sarterius in the Twenty-third and Thomas M. O'Shea in the Fifteenth.

St. Louis is on the verge of a tremendous construction boom. This is no time to permit any special interest to throw up impediments to it. The Aldermen should say No and make it stick.

Too Many Unemployed

For eleven months in a row unemployment has stood at 6.8 per cent of the labor force, some 2 per cent above the tolerable maximum, which is a reminder that while employment is up there is also an increasing number of persons thrown out of work by technological advances. There is no clearly-defined federal policy for dealing with the effects of automation, and it is about time that one was formulated.

It is becoming evident that retraining programs cannot be completely effective. Some persons of middle age or older who have spent their working lives operating complex machines cannot be retrained to do anything else that will bring them an adequate income and that will allow them to take satisfaction in their work. It is too late; younger men and women are wanted for the new jobs.

What is to become of these persons, who may be 15 or 20, or even 25 years from retirement? There are reports the Administration is considering a public works program, but that would be a stopgap. Automation cannot and should not be halted, and yet if it is to continue to swell the rolls of the jobless, unemployment must be looked upon as a major and continuing problem for which society must find an answer.

In addition to humanitarian considerations, the problem has practical political aspects. President Kennedy, who has had trouble enough getting measures through Congress this year, will face more difficulties next year persuading Congressmen with substantial unemployment in their districts to vote for certain types of legislation, particularly those involving spending abroad.

Secretary of Labor Goldberg says the latest figures "underscore that we have a stubborn and continuing unemployment problem." Perhaps the White House Regional Conference to be held in St. Louis this week will produce some worthwhile ideas. The problem cannot be solved without imagination, public understanding and determination.

The Marines' View

It is most refreshing that Gen. David M. Shoup, the Marine Corps commandant, has said publicly that Marine indoctrination stresses fighting ability above all and is not geared to hating Communists or anybody else. The Marines are professional soldiers and their main duty is to be ready to fight any enemy that the President designates. Since they are taught good citizenship and have access to all media of public information, most of them must appreciate the differences between our form of government and that of Soviet Russia. That is sufficient. Gen. Shoup, holder of the Medal of Honor, gives good evidence of being a fighting man who knows exactly what his job is and of not intending to be diverted from it.

In the Catbird Seat

There is an old charge brought against humorists time and again—the accusation that they really are misanthropes who laugh at other people's misadventures. Perhaps the idea stems from the old comic strip which always ended with a Bang! Or a Bong!

The funny men did not create a world of pain and sadness. They were born into it. They make it more bearable by drying a tear with a smile. Consider James Thurber. He got a big dose of standard American culture. He was born in Columbus, O., a citadel of Midwestern mores. He was at Ohio State when the football was gilded. He saw his countrymen lose their hearts to the automobile. He was around when they discovered the speakeasy and "sophistication." He saw them meet sex through Freud and Krafft-Ebing. And he watched all this being exploited by Madison Avenue. He didn't like it, but he never screamed like a Sinclair Lewis or an H. L. Mencken.

He just sat in the catbird seat and began his gentle spoofing of our ambitions and our compulsions. Some people never appreciated his gentle balm, but he never put more bite into the medicine. Even his war of the sexes never became very bitter. (He would not carry on like a Philip Wylie denouncing the American heresy of Momism.) His sharpest book perhaps was his first one—the one he did with his friend, E. B. White—"Is Sex Necessary?" Amidst the posh advertising pages of the New Yorker, he preferred his penny whistle to the big, angry drums. He played the kindlier tune. One hopes that it will be heard for a long time since it can purge us of our sillier and more dangerous notions.

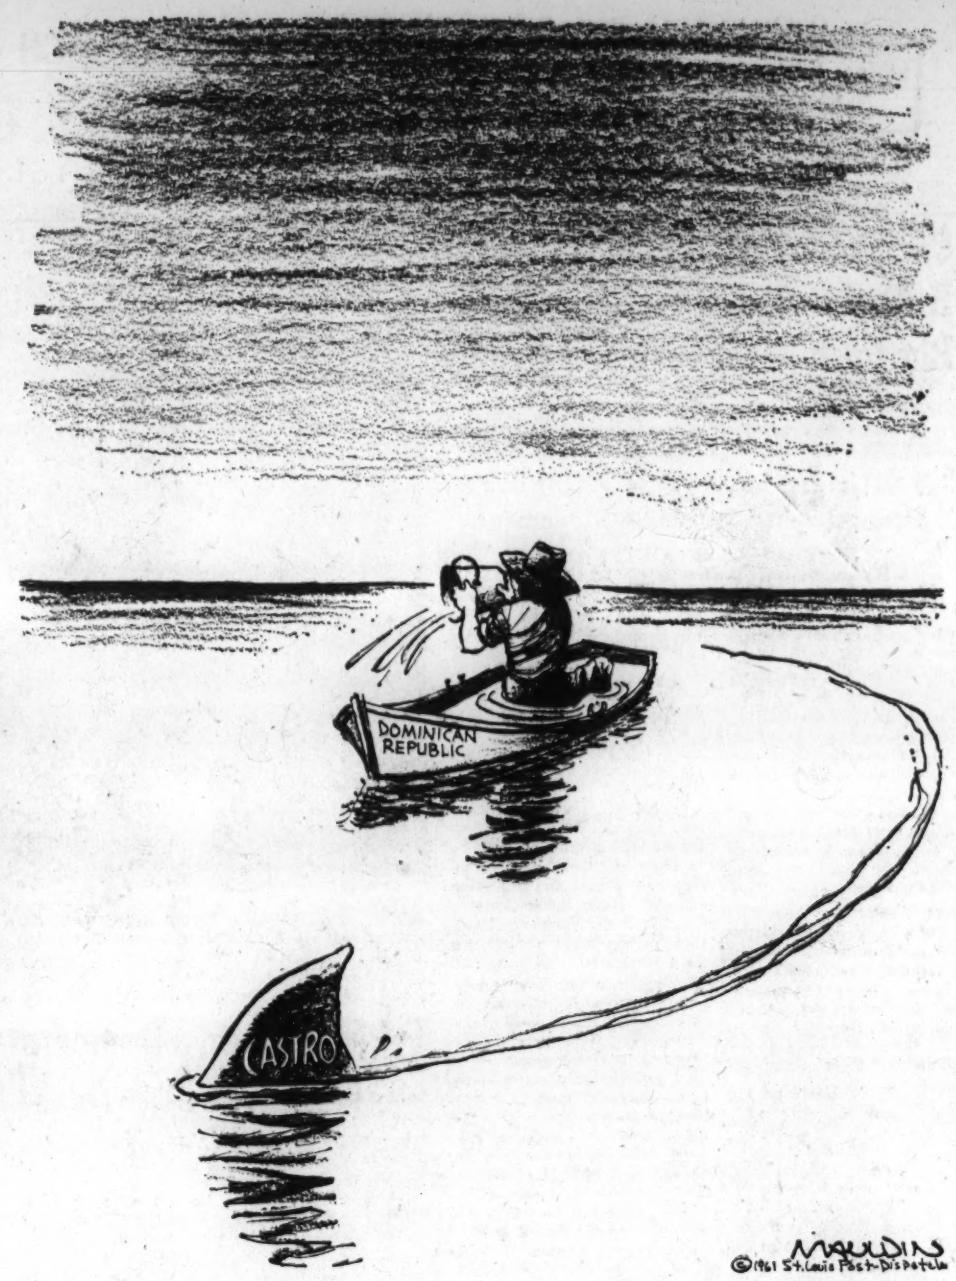

Faster Jetliners Delayed

If the International Air Transport Association's technical committee is correct in its estimate of the air transport situation, the supersonic jet airliner will not be introduced as early as 1970. That date is the one generally mentioned by planners and designers.

Any delay in developing such a commercial jet should be greatly appreciated by nearly all airlines. They still are hard hit by the task of equipping with the present-day jets, some 900 either being in service or on order. Most of those in use are flying half empty. Yet the United States, Britain, France and Soviet Russia all have been doing paper and windtunnel work on supersonic commercial jets. As soon as one nation puts them into service, the others may have to follow suit or see their markets disappear and national prestige wane.

The DC-6s and 7s and their contemporaries were good means of transportation—and still are—but it is the jet liners, with their 150-mile-an-hour faster speed, that relegated props to early retirement from the front ranks. The story is likely to be repeated when the supersonic jet liner arrives, whether its speed be 1400 miles an hour or the 2000 that most of the visionaries speak about.

It will be convenient to dash from St. Louis to Los Angeles on supersonic jet liners in an hour and it is to be hoped that when that day comes it will take less than an hour to unload the baggage and transport the passenger to town.

New Judges: The Bar Approves

Kennedy Appointees Praised, But He Has Yet to Show Bipartisanship

By Bernard G. Segal

(Chairman, Standing Committee on Federal Judiciary, American Bar Association; in Journal of the American Judicature Society.)

Within less than six months after assuming office, President Kennedy has been charged with the awesome responsibility of appointing 106 judges in the United States District Courts and Courts of Appeals. Seventy-three of these judgeships were created by the legislation approved on May 19, 1961; the rest consist of vacancies created by deaths and resignation plus three recess appointments. During his first year in office, President Kennedy will undoubtedly be called upon to appoint at least 120 judges, more than one-third of the total number on the bench when he assumed the Presidency.

The Mirror of Public Opinion

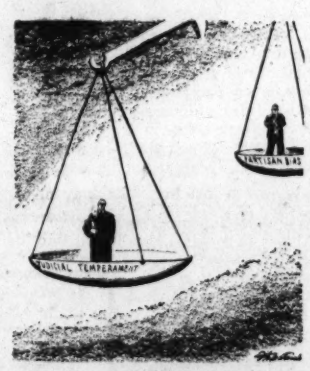

No President has been confronted with the task of making so many judicial appointments at one time. Indeed, no President has had so many appointments in a whole four-year term.

During the six months ending in July, the Attorney General has requested your committee to investigate and render informal reports on the qualifications of 246 persons, and formal reports on 49, or an aggregate of 295 reports on judges and lawyers in 40 states.

The chairman of your committee has presented 176 informal reports to Deputy Attorney General White, and his able assistant, Joseph Dolan. Every such report has been made orally, in great detail, and with a lively interchange of opinion.

You may be interested in the fact that the 295 reports requested of your committee by the Attorney General in the first six months of the present Administration are more than double the aggregate number during the entire four years of the second Eisenhower Administration.

Under these circumstances, I am extremely pleased, six months after a new Administration has come to Washington, to report that Attorney General Kennedy and Deputy Attorney General White are continuing, without reservation, the procedures under which we have been operating for the past few years; that in spite of the severe testing it has had, the system is operating smoothly, and with remarkably few errors or dislocations; that the relationship between Attorney General Kennedy and Deputy Attorney General White on the one hand, and your committee on the other, has developed into a frank, easy, confidential one. Our liaison is excellent in every respect.

I can say, without the slightest reservation, that in the mutual endeavor to assure the appointment of only qualified judges and lawyers to the bench, Mr. Kennedy and Mr. White have afforded to your committee every appropriate opportunity for co-operation and collaboration. Twenty nominations have been sent by the President to the Senate, including the three recess appointments. Twenty more are fully processed and these nominations should be announced shortly. This will be 40 nominations, of which 24 are to fill judgeships created by the Omnibus Judgeship Act which did not become law until May 19.

But the number of appointments is less important than the quality of the appointments. Of the 17 original nominations, other than recess appointments, which have thus far been made, 12 had previously been reported by your committee as well qualified or exceptionally well qualified, 5 as qualified, and none as unqualified.

Thus two out of every three appointments have been made from the best qualified judges and lawyers available; and not one had been reported as not qualified. That, Mr. Chairman, is a record which this House will surely applaud.

The reports of our committee for some years have emphasized the austere objective of this Association, which we shall not abandon until it is achieved, that appointments of federal judges should be made on the basis of qualifications only, without regard to political affiliation.

While we strive idealistically for this result, we have emphasized the desirability of bipartisanship in appointments, as an intermediate step. I should make it clear that while we continue to urge this result in general, this does not affect to the slightest degree, our investigations and reports on the qualifications of the persons whose names are sent to us by the Attorney General.

We cannot hope to achieve the fullest citizen respect for our courts, as long as members of the public have their present cynicism concerning judicial appointments and politics, so long as they continue to regard the appointment of a judge as political patronage just the same as a local postmaster. And this will not change so long as Presidents continue, as they have done in the past, to appoint 90 to 99 per cent of judges from their own party.

We do not urge, and indeed we would deplore, any proposal that a fixed percentage of judges should come from any party. But we do insist that any policy of appointments based on qualifications will inevitably result in an appreciable number of appointments from the opposition party.

This much is beyond question. If President Kennedy does not break new ground at this time, if he does not introduce a real and convincing bipartisanship into appointments now, when for the first time in our generation, the judges sitting in the federal courts throughout the nation are just about evenly divided as to their preappointment political party affiliation—one-half Democratic, one-half Republican, now, when he has more judges to appoint at one time than in the whole history of the country, then the last hope of achieving this goal in our generation will have been forfeited.

Your committee continues to hope that now that the first flush of nominations is over, the President and the Attorney General will direct their attention to this next major reform in judicial selection.

AUTOMATIC CLEANER

The Memphis Commercial Appeal

Dispatch tells of "an automatic coin cleaner." What is that? A slot machine where you don't have to pull the lever?

Between Book Ends

THE WHITE RAJAH, by Nicholas Monsarrat. (Sloane, 404 pgs., $4.95.)

A dashing pirate captain and the beautiful native girl, a South Sea princess, no less—how can an adventure yarn with these ingredients go wrong? Well, this does, nevertheless. And despite the fact that able Nicholas Monsarrat fashioned this creaky fantasy. The only logical explanation is that Monsarrat was thinking of Hollywood rights and other fast bucks. For this is almost the perfect parody of all the sea-going thrillers of all time.

First, there's the pirate captain, younger son of a titled English family, who gets the short end of the stick when his father dies and leaves the estate to the elder brother. Richard Marriott flounces out of the manor house in cold fury and runs off to sea where he speedily becomes a bold and furious buccaneer, the terror of the Seven Seas. On one of his voyages, his ship gets pounded in a storm and he makes harbor in the fabled isle of Makassang. There the Rajah seeks his services against the sneaky priests who are plotting and conniving. Richard the lion-hearted outwits the plotters and wins as reward the hand of the Rajah's beauteous daughter, the gorgeous Sunara who is as amorous as she is seductive.

Sketched very lightly against the true pattern of Sarawak and its white rajahs, this tale thuds ponderously along in a consummate satire of all Mitty dream-worlds. Collier Ford

THE BATTLE OF NEW ORLEANS, An Informal History of the War That Nobody Wanted: 1812, by Donald Barr Chidsey. (Crown, 212 pgs., $3.)

Donald Barr Chidsey has been a professional writer for a long time, at least since Elmer Davis made the old Adventure magazine readable and interesting. Most of his work has been fiction, much of it against historical backgrounds. Why he undertook to retell the old story of Andrew Jackson and the Battle of New Orleans is not apparent nor is it clear why he adopts a patronizing tone toward Jackson whom nobody dared to patronize in his time. As a history of the War of 1812, Chidsey's account is hit or miss, but the story of the battle is simple, explicit and accurate, if in a prejudiced degree. Jackson, it would be made to appear, did everything wrong, but won the battle. Chidsey appears to have nearly everything right, but spells the British commander's name Packenham—a way that gentleman never used and one which his brother-in-law, the Duke of Wellington, would not have recognized. H. T. Meek

Nixon Likes Primaries—For Others

WASHINGTON.

NOW THAT RICHARD NIXON HAS WITHDRAWN from the next Presidential race, he has kindly explained to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Senator Barry Goldwater and any others interested what they must do to prove themselves worthy of the high honor he once enjoyed.

The Nixon prescription for Republican candidates is competition in the state primaries. He said reassuringly that he would not enter these contests but warned that he would not endorse anyone until after he had been so tested. The implication, of course, is that the Nixon endorsement would be valuable. A Nixon just wild about primaries struck Governor Rockefeller and his aides with real impact, but it was in the funny bone. Instantly evoked were recollections of late 1959 and early 1960 when the Nixon forces elbowed Rockefeller out of every primary he ventured, in his most polite manner, even to explore.

Nixon

The Governor's worst experiences were in Wisconsin, whose early primary has some real significance, and in California, Nixon's home state which Nixon now wishes to govern.

Unsolicited Advice.

In the Wisconsin state capital, Madison, Republicans in the legislature denied him the courtesy of even a bow before the legislature and literally hustled him into a dreary private luncheon where pro-Nixon leaders harangued him about Nixon's virtues. California Nixon Republicans favored the hostile demonstration method of warning him off the premises.

Nixon was conspicuously silent then about his intense admiration for the presidential primary system. He also did everything within his power to insure that his nomination at Chicago should be by acclamation.

Governor Rockefeller was Nixon's host at a fund-raising dinner in Syracuse, N. Y., when Nixon publicly presented in a press conference his unsolicited gift of counsel regarding 1964. Nixon also took the Governor to task for doubting the Nixon announcement of no interest in the next Presidential nomination.

Rockefeller's doubting attitude, Nixon said, was probably the product of a New Yorker's inability to understand how binding pledges to serve out state terms of office are in California.

Just a Stepping-Stone.

This implicit assumption that politics was somehow more virtuous in California than in New York, that its promises were more valid, also went over like a lead balloon with the Rockefeller forces.

They say they understand very well that Nixon's biggest handicap in the contest for governor of California is the charge that he regards Sacramento only as a stepping stone to Washington and has had no interest in the state's problems.

For publication, Rockefeller quietly said he still believed Nixon would consent to a draft by the Republican national convention in any year it met. Regarding the primaries, he said he would get into them if it seemed to him the right way at the time, because he enjoyed politics and would probably enjoy primaries.

CHORAL WORK MARKS SYMPHONY CONCERT

Presentation of Beethoven's Ninth Distinguished by Singing of Two Groups.

By THOMAS B. SHERMAN

The weekend performances of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony given by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra under Edouard Van Remoortel in Kiel Auditorium were distinguished chiefly by the choral singing. The organizations involved were the Southwestern Chorophonic society and the chorus of Southern Illinois University, Southwestern campus, trained for the occasion by Harold E. Headley.

The composite body of singers was completely responsive to Conductor Van Remoortel's directions. Attacks and releases were precise, the tonal quality was deep and was delivered with force, and the high tessitura with which the sopranos had to cope was managed without any apparent strain.

In consequence the elevated and sanguine mood that affects Beethoven's writing throughout the final movement was consistently maintained. The sentiment expressed in Schiller's text, that all mankind should be as brothers, may sound much too optimistic in these days, but Beethoven's music leave no doubt that he meant it—and that is the way the chorus sang it.

The quartet was also effective most of the time, even though the soprano, June Preston, occasionally sounded as if she were screaming, as indeed she was.

The cruel range that the composer expected the soprano to traverse, however, made such an outcome almost inevitable. The others, Ara Berberian, basso; Leslie Chabay, tenor, and Jimmie Lee Caviness, contralto, were less sorely taxed.

Berberian's deep, unusually resonant voice was enhanced by the clearest possible enunciation of the words. His opening proclamation, which in effect gave the text of what was to follow, was profoundly stirring.

Conductor Van Remoortel's treatment of the chorale, as in the three instrumental movements, emphasized particularly its dramatic aspects. He allowed the tension to sag from time to time in the two fast movements but yesterday's concert, on balance, was an improvement over Saturday night.

The greatest improvement was shown in the adagio, which on Saturday evening lacked range of volume and variety of coloring. Yesterday afternoon inner voices were brought to the fore, thereby giving greater contrast to the various repetitions of the thematic material.

The program was opened with Beethoven's "Fidelio" and was played without intermission. Audiences at both concerts were attentive and enthusiastic.

PRO MUSICA GROUP HEARD IN CONCERT

Ensemble Presents Elizabethan, Jacobean Works at Washington U.

By MANUS SASONKIN

A capacity crowd gathered in Graham Memorial Chapel last night to hear a program of Elizabethan and Jacobean music as performed by the New York Pro Musica ensemble, directed by Noah Greenberg. The concert was the second in the current Washington University series.

New York Pro Musica consists of six singers (two sopranos, and one each countertenor, tenor, baritone and bass), and four instrumentalists, most of whom divide their allegiances among several instruments. The instruments themselves all belong to that noble category labeled "ancient," and many of them have long since become obsolescent as well. The viola da gamba, sackbutt, krummhorn and portative organ are, nowadays, occasionally encountered in museums, but they are only rarely activated.

Last night's concert was then a double blessing in that it afforded not only an intensive examination of a much neglected musical era, but an opportunity to hear that music performed in an authentic manner.

It takes scholarship to achieve such authenticity; it requires artistry to animate scholarship and endow it with vivid, urgent significance. On both tests, New York Pro Musica scored high indeed. Its members performed their tasks, not as antiquarian chores, but with warmth and understanding. They are comfortably at home in this music, and, being at home in it, they project it naturally and eloquently.

Their program, long and comprehensive, was divided into seven parts, devoted to dance songs, ayres, solo instrumental music, sacred music, laments, instrumental chamber music and street cries. Of course, in so richly heterodox a program there were bound to be favorite (as well as less favorite) moments. I was charmed by all of the instrumentalists and by Carolyn Backus, soprano; Robert White, countertenor, and Gordon Myers, baritone.

I found the tenor rather overly assertive in his style, and the bass somewhat lackluster vocally, although his style was superb. Sheila Schonbrun, the other soprano, possesses an in gratiating voice and an acute musical intelligence, but her vibrato was unduly prominent during the early part of the evening.

Still, the ensemble work was a consistent delight, and although the swimming-pool acoustics of Graham Chapel rendered diction hypothetical, I found myself entirely in agreement with the applause which ultimately provoked an encore from Greenberg and his company.

HOSPITAL EMPLOYES GIVE $5423 TO FUND

Contributions Are Pledged by 90 Per Cent of Personnel at Firmin Desloge.

A total of $5423 has been pledged to the United Fund by employes of Firmin Desloge Hospital, it was announced today, as the campaign to raise $9,050,000 to support 116 health, welfare and character-building agencies entered its sixth week.

John B. Warner, hospital administrator, said 90 per cent of the hospital's personnel made gifts, achieving the fair share quota for the second consecutive year.

These pledges do not include gifts from the visiting medical staff of the hospital. They are solicited through the campaign's professional division.

Allocations to 20 hospitals, including Firmin Desloge, are made by the United Fund to help defray the cost of medical care for children and adults who can not afford needed treatment and services.

A total of $6,708,168, or 74 per cent of the goal, has been pledged so far, it was announced last week.

SYMPHONY PROGRAM FOR SCHOOL EVENTS

Webster Groves, University City Students to Hear Soloist Judith Riedeger.

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will present concerts for elementary and high school students of Webster Groves and University City tomorrow and Wednesday.

Webster Groves elementary students will hear the orchestra tomorrow at 8:30 a.m. while the program for high school students will begin at 10:30 a.m. Both concerts will be in the Webster Groves High School auditorium.

At University City High School on Wednesday the elementary school concert will be at 1 p.m. and the high school concert at 2:30 p.m.

With Edouard Van Remoortel conducting, the soloist at both the elementary and high school performances will be Judith Riedeger, Lindbergh High School violinist and daughter of Walter Riedeger, a member of the orchestra's viola section. She will play the first movement of Mendelssohn's Concerto in E Minor for Violin and Orchestra.

The elementary program will also include Wagner's "Die Meistersinger" Overture, Alan Hovhaness's "Mountain of Prophecy," the "Bacchanale" from Saint-Saens's "Samson and Delilah," Ravel's "Pavane pour une defunte enfante" and the March from Berlioz's "Fantastique" Symphony.

High school students will hear Beethoven's "Leonore" Overture No. 3, Benjamin Britten's "Young Persons' Guide to the Orchestra," Debussy's Nocturne No. 2 (Fetes) and the Waltz from Berlioz's "Fantastique" Symphony.

Narrator for the Britten work will be Michael Merritt, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Merritt, 527 Bemiston avenue, University City, and fourth-grader at Flynn Park School.

ISLAM SAID TO HAVE LOST UNIFYING FORCE

Although the Islamic religion and Islam as an element of national culture are still vigorous, Islam as a political force and a civilization is a reminiscence of a great past, a specialist in Middle East affairs said yesterday.

S. D. Goitein of the University of Pennsylvania Oriental Studies Department told the Conference on Middle East Studies that the only type of state known to Moslems has been that headed by an autocratic ruler. The conference ended three days of meetings yesterday at the Coronado Hotel.

Goitein told about 200 teachers and students of Middle Eastern matters that from the Eleventh century the area was ruled by barbarian military castes, mostly of Central Asian extraction.

Thus, he continued, the local population had little opportunity to train itself in the art of statecraft. He said this has resulted in reversion to military dictatorship after occasional attempts at Western democracy.

Noting that many intellectuals, especially in Egypt, consider dictatorship only a transitory phase, Goiten said it is still difficult to forsee what form of government could replace it.

In any case, he said, "Islam cannot provide the answer, either in the sense of the political unification of the Muslim peoples, for which no basis exists in real conditions, or as a guide for constitutional life. For there is no such guidance in Islam."

Islam continues to provide its adherents with the reassuring feeling of belonging to a great community, Goitein added, but it is no longer a political force.

Explaining that Islam is professed in one form or another by many peoples of differing language, character and historical background, he said:

"Unfortunately, Muhammad did not leave any instructions as to the way in which the state created by him should be conducted after his death, nor did the Moslems ever develop any form of representative government."

GERMAN SHEPHERD SHOW IS WON BY WISCONSIN DOG

Champion Faust von Marmorhof Sch. H. II, owned by Mrs. Harriett Schenkus and Mrs. Nellie Mattocotti of Hales Corners, Wis., was judged best of breed yesterday at the eleventh annual specialty show and tenth annual obedience trial of the German Shepherd Dog Club of St. Louis.

Best of opposite sex was Champion Wilva Don's Sonnig v. Thornoaks, owned by Mrs. Hazel K. Bartholomen of Harvard, Ill. Miss Judy Ann Skowronek 16 years old, of Berwyn, Ill., was highest scoring junior handler with her dog Margaritte der Morgenstern U.D.

Donna von Wilarlhof, owned by Mrs. Beatrice P. Connelly of Springfield, Mo., was highest scoring dog in the show. The dog received 198 points out of a possible 200. There were 200 entries in the show, which was held at Missouri Stables Arena.

THE REV. CLAIR ROHLINGER FUNERAL TO BE WEDNESDAY

Funeral services for the Rev. Clair Rohlinger, O.F.M., will be Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. at St. Anthony's Catholic Church, 3140 Meramec street, with burial in SS. Peter and Paul Cemetery.

Father Rohlinger, who was 33 years old, died yesterday of a blood ailment at St. Anthony's Hospital. He had been chaplain at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Nursing Home and assistant chaplain at the hospital since last year.

He was ordained in 1955, after completing studies in the Franciscan Order. He was assistant pastor of St. Anthony's Church for two years. Surviving are two brothers, Joseph and Otto Rohlinger, and a sister, Miss Frances Rohlinger.

'Moon Man' Stacy's Defense Carries Grid Cards Past Dallas

Steals 2 Passes for TDs in 31-17 Win

By Robert Morrison
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

DALLAS, Nov. 6 — Billy Stacy, a handsome son of Mississippi, has been calling himself "Moon Man" since he started wearing an oversize football helmet this season, and he must have looked liked a man from outer space to Eddie LeBaron.

Under a full head of steam, the left corner defensive halfback of the St. Louis football Cardinals picked off a pair of LeBaron's passes and returned them for touchdowns to establish the pattern of the Cards' 31-17 victory yesterday.

In the windswept Cotton Bowl, Stacy ran with and like the wind, first for 31 and then for 39 yards to score with the interceptions that spiked the guns of LeBaron and the Dallas Cowboys.

Top Prize to Robb.

But Billy himself insisted that the prize of a total of five Cardinal interceptions was that of Texas-born Joe Robb, the former Philadelphia Eagle who now is a defensive end for the Cards.

"I didn't know whether Joe was going to dribble it, or shoot it," Stacy said of Robb's "stopper." Joe's interception interrupted Dallas's demonstrated-intention of coming from behind in the second half, and it set up a fourth Cardinal touchdown.

Tall Texan Robb was as tall as Shanghai Pierce, one of the legendary Texas cowboys of history who happened to be written up in the game program. Robb leaped and batted into the air a LeBaron pass, and when the blocked ball came down Robb caught it on the Dallas 12-yard line.

One Quick Stroke.

In one stroke, quarterback Ralph Guglielmi removed the Cardinals from danger of being overtaken. A lead that was only 21-17 became 28-17 after Guglielmi arched a perfectly placed pass to tight end Taz Anderson in a corner of the end zone.

"Robb's interception was the real turning point of this game," said Stacy after the Cardinals' fourth victory, which gave the

BILLY STACY

Big Red a .500 record for eight games and put St. Louis and Dallas in a fourth-place tie in the Eastern Division of the National Football League.

Stacy, who had scored one touchdown as a flanker-back member of the offensive unit through the first four games this year, bettered that total as a defensive unit player.

Defense More Satisfying.

He returned to his old love—the defense—after suffering a concussion in the fourth game of this season. Because he had suffered a similar head injury in each of two previous pro seasons, he started to wear a heavily padded, oversize helmet.

"Trying to outfigure the other guy is more satisfying to me, and to be a part of the defensive unit we have provides that much more satisfaction," said the halfback who has been on defense for most of his N.F.L. career.

It is a rare and distinguished group of men in that Big Red defense. . . . Don Owens . . . Frank Fuller . . . Ed Henke . . . Dale Meinert . . . and all the rest, including the other interceptors, Billy Koman and Larry Wilson.

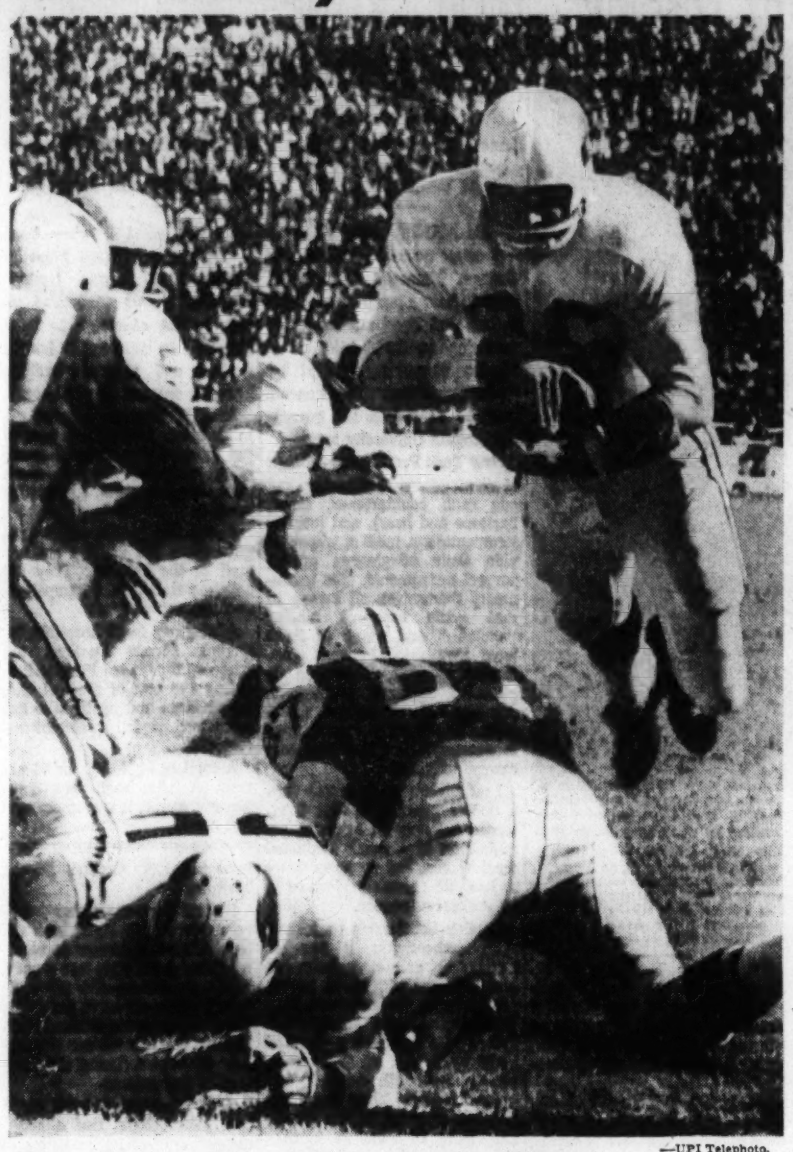

Injury to Meinert.

Robb got his chance to make the clutch interception when veteran end Henke, who had been shifted in an emergency to the middle linebacker spot, was chasing LeBaron, the Cowboys' jockey-sized quarterback, all over the backfield.

An injury to Meinert, who suffered a rib cartilage separation, had caused the shift of positions which put Henke in the middle and Robb at left end on defense. At that point LeBaron and the Cowboys had picked up one first down in what threatened to be a third long touchdown march in a second-half rally.

From the outset, the Cardinal defense was on the job. LeBaron moved the Cowboys 52 yards to reach field goal position for Dallas's excellent young kicker,

Unitas, Colts Discover 'The Good Old Days,' Beat Packers, 45-21

BALTIMORE, Nov. 6 (UPI)—There were whispers around the National Football League that Baltimore quarterback Johnny Unitas had slipped and the Colts were just another ball club. But don't try to sell that idea to the Green Bay Packers.

Unitas, who had taken his lumps the past two seasons, looked like the all-pro quarterback he was in 1957-59 yesterday when he threw four touchdown passes and led the Colts to a 45-21 romp over the Packers in the N.F.L.'s upset of the day.

The champion Philadelphia Eagles staved off defeat and held their Eastern Division lead when they pushed over a third-period touchdown that beat the Chicago Bears, 16-14. Chicago missed two comparatively easy fourth-period field goal tries.

The Cleveland Browns, one of the Eagles' top challengers, weren't so lucky. They were upset, 17-13, by the Pittsburgh Steelers. Castoff Bob Schnelker caught a 26-yard touchdown pass from Rudy Bukich with less than three minutes to play for the winning Steeler score.

Redskins Overwhelmed.

The New York Giants scored their most one-sided victory in 28 saesons by overwhelming the Washington Redskins, 53-0. The defeat was the sixteenth straight for the Redskins.

The San Francisco Forty-Niners and Detroit Lions battled to a 20-20 tie in the N.F.L.'s first deadlock of the season; the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Dallas Cowboys, 31-17, and the Los Angeles Rams dropped the Minnesota Vikings into the Western Division cellar, 31-17.

Despite the loss to Baltimore, the Packers remained in first place in the Western Division with a 6-2 record. The runner-up Bears are 5-3.

The Colts, with a 4-4 record, do not figure to be much more than "spoilers" the rest of the season, but for one day, at least, Coach Weeb Ewbank's team resembled the Colt championship clubs of 1958 and 1959.

Unitas rarely has been in better form. He completed 22 of 35 passes for 218 yards. He threw four yards to Alex Hawkins and 38 to Lenny Moore for touchdowns in the first half and then hit Jimmy Orr with 19 and four-yard touchdown tosses during the final half.

The Packers had won six straight games and had held their opponents to an average of fewer than 10 points a game up to yesterday. With linebacker Ray Nitschke in the Army and halfbacks Paul Hornung and Boyd Dowler due to follow him, Green Bay could be in trouble in the tough Western Division.

Field Goal Misses.

Philadelphia scored its winning touchdown in the third period when Clarence Peaks grabbed a 33-yard pass from Sonny Jurgensen and then plunged over from the three-yard line. The Bears, who had won four straight games, threatened twice in the final period but Roger Leclerc missed a field goal try from the 18 and Ed Brown failed on a 13-yard at-

'New' Formation Not So New to Big Red

DALLAS, Nov. 6—In yardage statistics or thoroughly earned touchdown drives, the football Cardinals' offense didn't take many honors in the victory over the Dallas Cowboys.

But St. Louis coach Pop Ivy saw some encouraging signs after turning to a stronger running formation that the Cardinals used at times last year and on which they worked extensively during their summer training camp at Lake Forest, Ill.

The formation, using a so-called split backfield, gives the running halfback as well as the fullback a possible straight-ahead shot at the holes in the line. Ordinarily, the halfback had started from a wing position just outside and behind the close-spaced line.

"It's the same formation that we used last year, and we had planned to use it again when John Crow became ready," said Ivy. "But we'll mix it in with the rest of our formations now."

Crow was out because of an ankle injury. Halfback Prentice Gautt gained 77 yards against the Cowboys and fullback Frank Mestnik made 39.

But running honors went to the Cowboys' Don Perkins (98 yards). J. W. Lockett, a rookie fullback, was described by some of the Cards as a harder hitter than Cleveland's Jimmy Brown, even though he got only 30 yards against the Card defense.

While Dallas added up 136 yards rushing and 238 on Eddie LeBaron's passing to Perkins, Frank Clarke, Lockett and Bill Howton, St. Louis showed only a 122-yard rushing net and just 71 by passing.

"The first drive we had was a good one," said Ivy. He had to use his sense of humor when somebody asked what happened after that.

"We just haven't been used to moving the ball that far," he replied.

"What stalled us after that was our failure to complete passes. I couldn't tell whether Ralph Guglielmi threw too hard at times, or the receivers just dropped the ball. The throws that were dropped would have made us look better both in moving the ball (first downs) and in passing yardage. I though Gautt ran well when we needed yardage, but he went to sleep on that lateral Dallas recovered before getting the field goal."

The estimated crowd of 20,500 gave the Cowboys a 1961 home attendance of 132,000, exceeding last year's six-game total of 128,000 . . . Th day before, a crowd of 41,000 in the Cotton Bowl saw Texas U. stay unbeaten by shutting out Southern Methodist, 27-0.

Ray Willsey, Card defensive coach who was with Darrell Royal at Texas U. two years ago, said that Royal wasn't look forward to possible No. 1 ranking following the Michigan State and Mississippi upsets . . . "That suggestion put him in a tizzy," said Willsey. "Texas's scoreless first half could happen again, he thought, and it could be for longer."

LaCour's Stock Up As Hawk

By John J. Archibald

There is a new contender to be considered in the struggle for backline positions with the Hawks. As Coach Paul Seymour's club prepared for a two-game series with the Los Angeles Lakers, the Hawk coach acknowledged that Fred LaCour had improved his status with his performance in the two most recent games.

The Hawks will play the Lakers, western division front-runners in the National Basketball Association, at Kiel Auditorium tomorrow night and in Los Angeles on Wednesday.

LaCour, a 6-foot-5 second-year man with the St. Louis entry in the N.B.A., made important contributions in both the easy victory at Syracuse last Friday and in the 112-111 squeaker over the New York Knicks here Saturday night.

He was given much of the credit for holding Syracuse's Hal Greer to eight points.

After being benched during the Hawks' poor first quarter Saturday, LaCour re-entered the game in the fourth period. His 15-foot basket enabled the Hawks to tie New York at 105-105. Shortly afterward Fred was fouled while shooting and he sank both free throws to give St. Louis a two-point lead. In the wild scrambling that followed, LaCour came down with two important rebounds.

LaCour Booster.

"LaCour is a good ball handler and passer," said Seymour. The Hawk coach long has been one of Fred's boosters, but has been reluctant to put the San Francisco University graduate into games that were in doubt. "LaCour gives us some extra rebounding strength as well as more outcourt scoring ability."

Seymour pointed out, however, that as a former forward LaCour is no match for the small, fast guards of some N.B.A. teams. Fred, like many of his teammates, may be rattled by a pressing defense.

LaCour and Johnny McCarthy started against the Knicks after their success the previous night in Syracuse, but were on the bench long before the first period was over. Seymour had replaced them with Si Green and Al Ferrari as the Hawks fell behind by seven points.

The Hawks' coach said that, despite his move, McCarthy or LaCour were not necessarily at fault for the team falling behind. "Sometimes when the team is going bad, you have to make a change just to shake things up," Seymour explained.

Seymour said that all four of the guards he used Saturday had hustled. He was also pleased with the relief job turned in by Woody Sauldsberry, who scored 12 points in his 20 minutes on the floor.

Hill Held Out.

Rookie Cleo Hill did not play against the Knicks. Club owner Ben Kerner let it be known last week that he felt Hill was being used too much. Several Hawk players are believed to have thought that the six-foot guard candidate was being brought along too rapidly, especially in view of the fact that the team was not winning against relatively weak opponents.

Seymour has been anxious to develop Hill to increase backline scoring, but the coach apparently has been persuaded to move more slowly with the rookie.

SPORTS COMMENT

'We Came to Win'

Just a week earlier Dan Devine had given the clue that he would spin the cylinder and play football's version of Russian roulette.

The night before the homecoming game with Nebraska, reviewing Missouri's season that far, the Mizzou coach told about the slight imperfection on the Tigers' record, the 14-14 tie with California.

After Missouri's first touchdown, he explained, little Ron Taylor, taking a high snap from center, felt he didn't have time to put the ball down for placekicker Bill Tobin and failed when he hurriedly tried to pass the ball.

So the Tigers trailed, 14-6, when they put together a late drive and achieved a tie only because Daryl Krugman, rolling out on an option play, ran into the end zone for two points.

If Missouri had been behind, 14-7, would the coach have gambled for an uncertain 15-14 victory or settled for a tie on the true toe of Tobin?

"We'd have gone for the two," Devine answered without hesitation. "We came to win, not tie."

And so it was Saturday out at Boulder in the Big Eight battle of the unbeaten when Ol' Mizzou faced the moment of truth after having driven to a fourth-quarter touchdown, Half a Loaf?

There's little doubt the Tigers could have achieved a 7-7 tie, remained unbeaten and, if able to get by Oklahoma, Kansas State and impressive Kansas, could have claimed a half-share of the conference championship.

There's also no doubt, though, that if the Orange Bowl committee had a choice of co-champions it would have chosen Colorado because Missouri has played in Miami the last two New Year's.

Although Mizzou had slipped into the conference throne room via the fire escape last year, Devine was determined his athletes would defend the technical honor "in the manner of a true champion", as Dave Lipman put it.

So they did. The kids from home went for broke and just missed an 8-7 victory, suffering a 7-6 defeat in a game each side deserved to win and neither deserved to lose.

On Toes in Texas

When the football Cardinals and the Cleveland Browns played a 17-17 stalemate last fall at Busch Stadium, Ray Willsey, the Big Red's defensive backfield coach, suggested impatiently:

"A tie in football is like kissing your sister."

Willsey, incidentally, must have felt like kissing his defensive secondary yesterday and Billy Stacy, in particular,

DAN DEVINE

when the Cardinals picked off five of Eddie LeBaron's passes.

Stacy, who ran back two interceptions for touchdowns in the Big Red's 31-17 victory at Dallas, had an enjoyable weekend. The former Mississippi State star had reason to chuckle as his alma mater's arch rival, Mississippi, was toppled by Louisiana State again, 10-7.

Ole Miss's upset defeat and Minnesota's shutout conquest of top-rated Michigan State, 13-0, served certainly to elevate Texas to No. 1 ranking. The Longhorns are as good this year as their rabid rooters always expect them to be.

Post-Mortem

To the television viewer, watching the Missouri-Colorado game, the Buffs, as expected, had the better-balanced offense, the Tigers the stronger defense and, surprisingly in view of the altitude, the stronger team at the finish.

The breaks, if that's what fumbles can be called, leaned to Missouri. That is, one Colorado fumble gave the Tigers a rich first-quarter opportunity at the home team's 18. The other killed off what appeared to be Colorado's last scoring threat of a first half that seemed likely to be scoreless.

In the first instance, a Buffalo interception of a wobbly third-down pass by Jim Johnson prevented a fourth-down field-goal attempt by Tobin close in and with the wind at his back.

After recovering the second Colorado fumble at the Missouri 21 shortly before the half ended, the Tigers were offensively helpless. Skillfully, the Buffs used time-outs between Mizzou running plays to stop the clock.

As a result, after Leon Mavity's 25-yard punt return to the Mizzou 47, Gale Weidner had time enough to score through the air.

If Missouri got a bad break, it was questionable pass interference called against the Tigers at the Buffs' 32, giving Colorado four more plays in the final minutes. Ol' Mizzou was forced then to use up clock-killing time-outs that would have been most helpful in the hasty surge which wound up with a long and hurried field-goal attempt.

Unfair, but Fair

As for the two-point play, which won for North Carolina

C.B.C. Tops St. Louis U. High; McBride Ties for C.A.C. Title

Jr. Bills Give Foe Scare, but Bow, 12-8

By Bob Ruhl

The prep football oracles had their day yesterday. But one of the prophets was still holding his breath as the sun set.

Coach Jack Kersting of Christian Brothers High, prophesying all week that two touchdowns would win the C.B.C.-St. Louis U. High game, called it right on the money.

But there was some question until the final seconds just whose two touchdowns would win. And an extra point or two has thrown more than one soothsayer for a long loss.

C.B.C.'s Pete Keleman made a winning prophet out of Kersting. He was on top of a St. Louis U. High fumble at the C.B.C. four-yard line late in the fourth period and the Cadets won, 12-8.

C.B.C., the No. 1 team in the Post-Dispatch prep poll, thus ended its campaign with an unbeaten and untied record in nine games.

McBride Comes Through.

Another coach, Bob Goodwin of McBride, probably couldn't bend a bystander's ear early in the season when he said his Micks were better than a 1-2-1 team. And Goodwin was right.

The Micks shut out Laboure, 47-0, yesterday for their fourth victory in five Catholic Athletic Conference games, tied for the title with DuBourg and St. Mary's and earned a trip on Thanksgiving to meet the runner-up team in the Public High League as part of the Accident Benefit doubleheader.

In a non-league meeting, Vianney tallied two touchdowns in the final half to beat Priory, 12-0.

9500 at C.B.C. Game.

No one in the estimated crowd of 9500 at Public Schools Stadium could have forecast the finish of the C.B.C.-St. Louis game.

With the Cadets ahead, 12-6, in the fourth quarter, the Junior Billikens (5-3) took over after a punt on the C.B.C. 41. There was 2:46 left on the scoreboard clock.

Twenty seconds later the Little Bills had the ball on the four-yard line, the result of two passes by quarterback Del Wilber, the son of the former Cardinal catcher. Gary Pohrer caught one and got to the 24. Dan Freeman latched onto the other and fell to the four.

But on the first play from the four, Wilber fumbled the ball. C.B.C.'s Dan Sexton jumped on it first, but the ball scooted away. When the officials unpiled the pileup, Keleman had the ball tucked under his stomach.

C.B.C. still had its problems. Three running plays pushed the ball to the nine. Then, on fourth down, quarterback Charlie Pullaro took the ball and backtracked into the end zone where the blue shirts downed him for a two-point safety. Only 27 seconds then remained and C.B.C. was able to get off an unhurried kick.

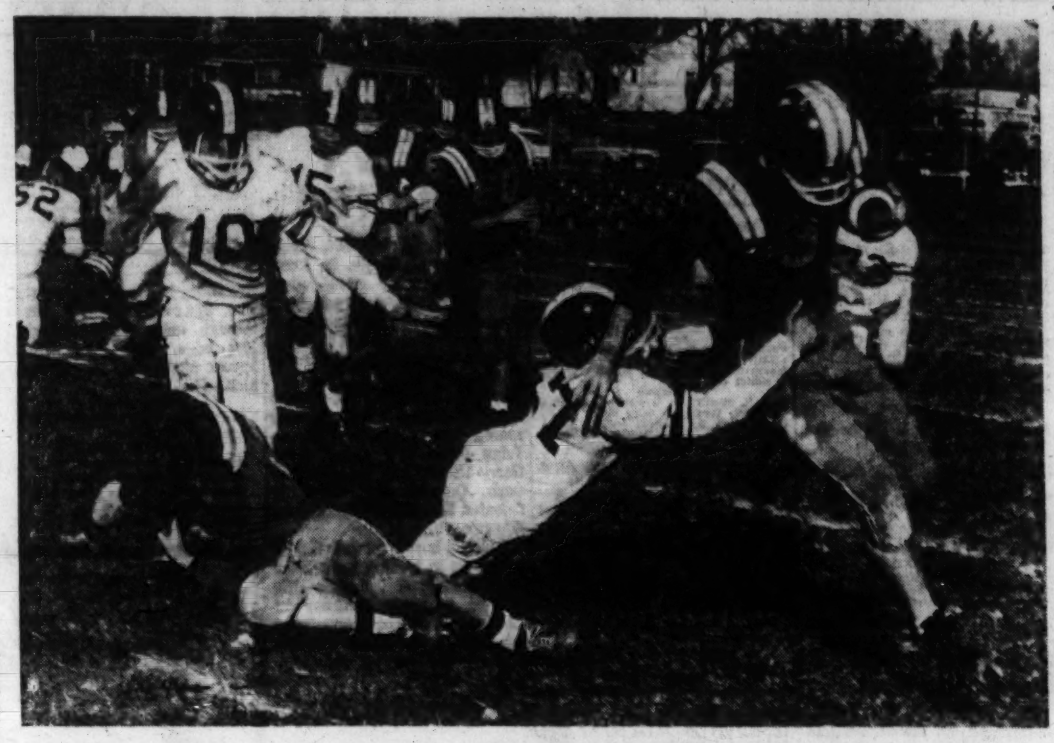

First Half Struggle.

The Junior Billikens dominated play in most of the first half. In the first quarter, they drove 68 yards to the 26, but had to give up the ball on downs. On the second play from scrimmage, fullback Bob Proost cracked over the right side and raced 62 yards for a touchdown. Pullaro's kick failed.

Chris Glanoulakis set up the tying score in the second period when he intercepted a Pullaro pass on the C.B.C. 27 and carried it back to the 22. Wilber hit Pohrer with a pass that went the rest of the way. Mike Androlewicz missed on his kick.

C.B.C. went ahead to stay early in the fourth quarter. Terry Steinkoetter blocked Freeman's punt and Paul Moyer recovered the loose ball at the St. Louis U. High 17. The Cadets drove to the 2, and then on fourth down with the ball at the goal line, Carl Gentile smashed over. Freeman batted down Pullaro's try for the extra point.

While C.B.C. was experiencing a rugged afternoon, McBride wasn't leaving a touchdown unturned. The Micks scored twice each in the first two quarters. Fullback Dan Carroll picked up three touchdowns on runs of 56, 2 and 20 yards. Guy Busch passed for one touchdown and scored one himself on a short run.

Hands On---and Off---McBride's Carroll

Fullback DAN CARROLL of McBride pulls out of the grip of Laboure tackler MIKE McCARTY to pick up yardage in the Catholic Athletic Conference football game at Mercy field. Other identifiable Laboure players are DON HOGUET (10), ED MILLER (15) and DAN FARRAH (72). No. 60 of McBride is MIKE SEI. Carroll scored three touchdowns as the Micks beat the Lions, 47-0, to finish the league season in a three-way tie for first place.

Hey! Duck Hunters!

Temperatures in southern Canada, the upper Mississippi Valley and the northern plains remained generally below freezing through Sunday with most readings in the upper 20s or just below the freezing mark. Considerable cloudiness held in the upper Mississippi Valley, but sunshine prevailed elsewhere.

Light amounts of precipitation fell in southern Canada on Saturday and, as a result, only traces of snow are left on the ground.

A warming trend across the upper plains and the Canadian provinces is expected today, and no precipitation of consequence is forecast for the next few days.

Mexico Qualifies For Soccer Finals

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Nov. 6 (UPI)—Mexico qualified for the world soccer championship finals at Chile next year by playing a 0-0 tie with Paraguay yesterday.

The Aztec Club of Mexico had gained the upper hand in the elimination series with Paraguay last Sunday by winning a 1-0 game.

Both teams were bothered by a field made wet and treacherous because of rain two hours before game time.

Prep Football Notes

By Bob Ruhl

Did Christian Brothers football defenders take advantage of some "signal-tapping" late in the fourth quarter of the game with St. Louis U. High yesterday?

Coach JACK KERSTING thinks maybe they did.

"The boys told me that they heard the Junior Billiken quarterback (DEL WILBER) call for a dive play into the No. 4 hole (right tackle)," Kersting said.

"The kids plugged up that side and rushed through," the C.B.C. coach added. "And as you know, the ball was fumbled on our four-yard line and we got it."

There was much confusion on the important play. Some fans thought that St. Louis's MIKE LANAGAN got the ball first, but C.B.C.'s DAN SEXTON had it momentarily and teammate PETE KELEMAN ended up with it.

Although he was in on many crucial plays, C.B.C.'s CARL GENTILE had a net gain of only 25 yards in 13 carries.

JIM VEECH and DAVE LOWELL of Normandy High came in for special praise from Coach VERN WINTER after the Vikings whipped U. City, 7-0, for the Suburban Big Seven title Saturday.

Veech was credited with 17 tackles and eight assists in the hard-fought game, and Lowell had 12 tackles and two assists. The two are linebackers.

Halfback MIKE BARNES, injured in the Vikings' second game of the season, against Cleveland, returned to action against U. City and also drew special praise from Winter.

U. City's STUB MUHL had appraised the game accurately earlier in the week. "It will be a low-scoring game," he said. "There's normally just a one touchdown difference between our two teams."

St. Mary's coach BILL NEWHOUSE, who now will prepare his Dragons for the Public High League champion in the Accident Benefit game on Thanksgiving, pointed to his line as an important factor in the team's success.

"WALLY DAWSON, MIKE HEILICH, TOM BEHRMAN and FRANK LADISH have been outstanding," he said. "They are the leaders in giving fullback KEITH MAULLER running room and protecting quarterback BOB ROBBEN in our passing offense."

Coach BOB GOODWIN of McBride talked about his spread-pass "Three Formation" as instrumental in pulling the Micks out of the doldrums after early season defeats.

"When it worked in practice," he said, "the kids gained confidence in it, and after we beat St. Mary's, we felt we had something."

Three titles can be won this weekend. Berkeley, Mehlville and Clayton are tied with 3-1 marks in the Little Six. Berkeley plays winless Wellston while the other two contenders meet at Clayton.

Marquette, after handing Belleville Cathedral its third straight defeat, can win its second straight Catholic League crown.

Unbeaten John Burroughs can claim its eighth A.B.C. championship in 11 seasons under TOM McCONNELL.

If Belleville Township gets by Granite City, the Maroons can come away with no less than a tie in the Southwestern Conference after they meet East St. Louis on Thanksgiving.

Illini, Not Record, Improving

By Ed Wilks

No one can make black look white, but the University of Illinois's football squad definitely has improved in the past few weeks, even if its record hasn't.

"We're a better team now than we were two weeks ago," said coach Pete Elliott today after reviewing his Illini's 23-9 defeat by Purdue, "but by Wednesday the only thing anyone will remember is that we lost another one."

Well, not everyone, perhaps. Pete's brother, Bump Elliott, who heads the coaching staff at Michigan, probably will have anything but a negative approach toward Illinois's sixth defeat in six games.

Michigan, beaten only by Big Ten opponents Michigan State (28-0) and Minnesota (23-20), will be the Illini's final home opponent this season. The Wolverines will be at Champaign Saturday.

Pete Elliott, whose first run-in with brother Bump resulted in an 8-7 loss last season, termed Michigan "a fine team that found itself in real trouble" only against Michigan State. The Wolverines whipped Duke, 28-14, in an intersectional game last Saturday.

Elliott plans no major changes for his Illini in preparing for Michigan. He'll retain the so-called shotgun attack, giving his quarterbacks a pass-rollout option, and he again will send in plays from the sidelines, a step he took first against Southern California two weeks ago.

"I'd still prefer to have my quarterbacks call the plays," he said, "but I think I can give them a little help, since we have few boys who have done much college signal calling before this year.

"Ron Fearn, however, is a little more experienced at quarterback now. He's a fine player, and the more he plays, the more he shows it."

Elliott pointed out that Fearn, a sophomore, was equally as promising on defense. Fearn's interception set up a field goal against Purdue, giving the Illini their first second-half points of the season.

"When you talk defense, however," Elliott added, "you have to start with linebacker Tony Perrilli. His tackling, the way he hits those runners, has been wonderful. And he keeps getting better. I thought he was at his best Saturday."

Connie Hawkins Leads Rens Over Pipers

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (UPI) — Connie Hawkins, rated the top college prospect in the nation last year, now is earning his laurels as a pro in the American Basketball League.

Hawkins, who dropped out of Iowa during his freshman term, scored 22 points last night in leading the Pittsburgh Rens to an 87-82 victory over the Cleveland Pipers in the league opener for both clubs.

Jim Palmer, a former National Basketball Association player, and Bucky Bolyard each scored a three-point field goal for Pittsburgh, the only triples of the game.

Oklahoma U., Finally In Victory Column, Is Next Mizzou Rival

By Dave Lipman

Dan Devine, the Missouri gambler who takes his chances—win or lose—and never looks back, took a long look at Oklahoma University's credentials last night and allowed that what he saw made it difficult for him to believe the Sooners have lost five games this season.

The Devine-coached University of Missouri Tigers will meet Oklahoma next Saturday in Columbia. The Sooners won their first game Saturday, beating Kansas State, 17-6.

"It is hard to believe that Oklahoma is not a good team," Devine said of the 1-5 Sooners. "Last year they played with juniors and those juniors are back this season. But somehow or other they have just fallen short in most of their games. They did that against Kansas and against Colorado."

Falling short against Colorado is something with which Devine has more than a nodding acquaintance. His Tigers lost to the Buffs, 7-6, last Saturday.

Mizzou missed winning when the Tigers failed in an attempt for a two-point conversion in the fourth quarter after cutting the Buffs' 7-0 lead to one point.

No Regrets.

That was a tough way to lose, but the Missouri gambler had gone to Colorado to win and when he flipped for two and came up the loser, there was no regret, only disappointment.

"Others might second guess me, but I never second guess myself," Devine said. "I'm just disappointed that we didn't win."

On the two-point toss that failed, the ball, thrown by Mike Hunter and intended for Conrad Hitchler, was tipped over the head of the Mizzou end by Colorado's Reed Johnson. As the ball fell, so did Missouri's hopes of an unbeaten season, a second straight Big Eight championship and a third straight trip to the Orange Bowl.

"I'm a poor loser and it was a tough one to lose," Devine said last night after watching his Tigers lose again—this time on film.

Subdued Tigers.

His Tigers, now 5-1-1 for the season, had not left Folsom Field in Boulder, Colo., as poor losers, but as a bunch of fighters who had lost only after a courageous struggle. And they showed the effects of that struggle immediately afterward.

Instead of showering, they sat quietly, some sobbing, in the locker room at Boulder.

After the game, Devine talked of an interference call against Mizzou's Carl Crawford that gave Colorado four extra plays before the Tigers' last desperate bid for victory—a field goal boot by Bill Tobin that fell wide of the goal posts with 32 seconds left.

Devine Differs.

"I saw the play differently than the official," Devine said. "By that I don't mean to imply that the officiating in the game was poor. I thought it was good. But when the name of one of my boys is involved and I'm asked about the penalty on that boy, I'm not going to protect the officials at the expense of my player.

"From my vantage point, I thought the call was one of the poorer ones that I have seen recently. But then I wanted the ball so badly at that time that my eyesight might have been influenced by my desire."

Happier moments may await Devine this week. For the first time in weeks, he will have all his troops at his call. Norm Beal, whose absence against Colorado hurt offensively and defensively, will be ready for Oklahoma, although he may not be at full speed.

"Norm's absence hurt us against the Buffaloes," Devine said. "You just can't replace a boy who is your best defensive back and probably your best offensive back, too."

Doubles Leaders

St. Louis teams held the leads in the men's and mixed divisions of a doubles bowling tournament at the Touchette Lanes in East St. Louis after one week of competition.

Richard Mahfood and Kenneth Rohlfing were high in the men's doubles with a 1428 total. Jo Ann Brotherton and Howard Brotherton Jr. paced the mixed doubles with 1166. The tournament runs through Nov. 26.

St. Engelbert Upset by St. Anthony in C.Y.C. Soccer

St. Kevin Defeats Nativity

By Harold Flachsbart

Even veteran soccer fans shivered, Magdalen field was soggy, with water spots in some places, and players were covered with mud, but the C.Y.C. Major League show went on yesterday.

Although Holy Rosary presented a first-half threat to the domination of St. Ambrose, the best game was a 4-3 upset victory for St. Anthony over St. Engelbert. At Fairground Park, St. Kevin gained its first victory of the season by defeating Nativity, 2-1.

St. Ambrose, three times previously a shutout winner, gained momentum in the second half to down Holy Rosary, 4-1, giving Dan Murphy's team a 4-0 record at the top of the standings. Even though St. Engelbert suffered its first loss, it retained second place with a 2-1-1 record.

Tom Ahrens booted St. Anthony's first goal, on a corner kick by Jim Wiley, and then the blue shirts got a break when Engelbert's Sonny Vitale headed the ball into his own goal as goalie Jack Ruskus was moving in the other direction. That made it 2-0 at halftime.

St. Engelbert bounced back early in the second period when Jack Dueker, after getting a pass from Bob Garcia, outran Louis Antoni for his first of two points. Tom Mataya next scored for St. Anthony on a pass from Duke McVey but St. Engelbert pulled close again when Joe Fresta, fed by Bill O'Brien, scored from the right side.

McVey himself got into the scoring act and gave St. Anthony what proved to be the deciding tally after taking a pass from George Howell. Dueker's second shot, on a rebound off the cross bar, served to make the final score 4-3. Tim McAuliffe, who took the original shot, was injured a few moments later, but stayed in the scrimmage after receiving first aid.

Pat McBride, Holy Rosary inside left, had the honor of getting the first goal against St. Ambrose this season when he sent a low, 35-yard shot past goalie Nick Riggio in the first half. Rich Meisemann made two of the St. Ambrose tallies and John and Pete Traina the other two. It was nip-and-tuck in the first half before the powerful St. Ambrose Missouri cup champions took charge.

Bob Renaud hit the cords twice for St. Kevin near the end of the first half, the first unassisted and the second on a pass from Jack Wiese. Jack Koeller made the lone Nativity goal.

Big Red

Allen Green. But on a try from the 22, Green failed because Fuller blocked the kick.

The Cardinals then showed some offensive consistency in a 78-yard touchdown drive. The Big Red ran from a split backfield formation used for the first time this season, a set-up that places the halfback as well as the fullback in deep running position. Formerly, the halfback had started from a wingback spot.

Prentice Gautt, the halfback because the injured John David Crow didn't suit up, was a key man in the drive. He first went around end for 34 yards and then he threw a halfback pass to Anderson for 19 at the Dallas 21.

From there Guglielmi took the Cards in, hitting Anderson with a 10-yard pass and finally sending fullback Frank Mestnik diving over from the one.

Jerry Norton's 78-yard punt with the wind in the second quarter thrust back the Cowboys and Stacy's pair of interceptions put Dallas down, 21-0. At the half it was 21-3, because the Cards got a little careless and lost a lateral. Green turned that into a 32-yard field goal with two seconds left.

When LeBaron connected with flanker back Frank Clarke on 42- and 32-yard scoring passes in the second half, St. Louis suddenly was on thin ice. But one more interception fixed that.

"Typical as ever on the road, where we've won four of five," said Stacy. "One of these fine days we'll surprise the home folks."

Make it against Detroit next Sunday, Moon Man.

J-B Dragons Top Ballwin, Win Title

The Jefferson Barracks Green Dragons won the championship of the Western League senior division in the Tri-County football conference by defeating the Ballwin Broncos, 20-0. The Dragons will meet the Eastern champion Belleville Little Devils for the over-all conference title.

Harvey Luechtefeld, Mike Manning and Dale Agnew scored for the Dragons. In the Eastern League the Belleville Knights beat the J-B Yellow Jackets, 34-0.

The J-B junior Green Hornets captured the junior title in the Western League with their fifth straight victory, 21-0, over the Ballwin Broncos. Craig Billingsley returned a punt 60 yards for one touchdown and Greg Kramer ran 50 yards with an interception to score another.

The Hornets will oppose Overland or the Belleville Knights for the junior crown. The Knights edged the J-B Yellow Jackets, 15-12, in the final seconds of their Eastern game.

Kutis Wins 3d in Row In Soccer

Kutis's national amateur champions raced to their third straight victory in the St. Louis Soccer League yesterday at Heine Meine field, defeating Northwestern, 5-1. Carondelet Sunday Morning A.C. topped the Nitros, 4-0, in the other game.

Five players took part in Kutis scoring, including Butch Cook, Bill Looby, Tom Held, Tom Murphy and Fred Vasquez.

Joe Hoffmann, Carondelet center forward, made two of his team's goals in the shutout of the Nitros and Steve Auberry and Rich Stuppy the others. C.S.M.A.C. now has yielded only one point in its last two games after an opening 5-1 defeat at the hands of Kutis.

In Khoury League action, the Meramecs gained their third straight victory by defeating P.N.A., 4-1, in the Lions' division at Carondelet Park. Kolping retained its lead in the Elks' division with a 2-1 decision over the Newmans at Forest Park.

Comment

over Tennessee the same day it lost for Missouri at Colorado, most coaches consider it an unfair pressure inflicted on them by Fritz Crisler and other former coaches cozily sitting on the rules committee, Georgia Tech's Bobby Dodd sounded off about the injustice of the optional conversion a couple of weeks ago after Auburn had missed a two-point try in a 7-6 loss to Tech.

It's true, as many football men say, that it's unjust to give a team only six points for going up to 100 yards, yet award two points for covering just three yards. Besides, widening the distance between the goal-posts increased field goals and cut down the number of tie games.

But the two-point play is as fair for one as for the other. As Bob Zuppke said in a happier era at Illinois, dismissing a wet-weather alibi, "When it rains, it rains on both teams."

Victory Would Put Maryland in Line For Liberty Bowl

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6 (AP) —Maryland, on the strength of its 21-17 victory over Penn State, today appeared a top candidate for an invitation as host team in the third annual Liberty Bowl football game in Philadelphia Stadium Dec. 16.

Bud Dudley, head of the Liberty Bowl who watched Maryland's victory Saturday, said if Maryland wins this week's game against North Carolina State "we'll want to sit down and talk turkey." Dudley also listed Syracuse, Villanova, Army, Navy and Rutgers as other possibilities for the host team.

Nineteen Pennsylvanians are on the Maryland team, including quarterback Dick Shiner, a sophomore from Lebanon, who passed for all three Maryland touchdowns in the victory over Penn State.

One-Man Gang

CARTHAGE, Ill. Nov. 6 (AP) —Quarterback Bob Halsey tossed two touchdown passes and kicked three extra points Saturday to lead Carthage to a 21-0 victory over Culver-Stockton of Canton, Mo. in a non-conference football game.

Bills Beat Chicago, Win Title

Bob Malone and Bob Trigg were the toast of the St. Louis University soccer team today, following a 10-1 victory yesterday over Chicago U. that clinched the Western division title of the Midwestern College League for the Billikens.

In St. Louis's fifth league triumph without a loss, Malone scored four goals at Chicago, Trigg three and Tom Barry; Gerry Balazzi and Tom Dix one each. On Saturday the Bills defeated Wheaton College, 2-0, at Wheaton, Ill.

Next big hurdle for Bob Guelker's team in bidding for a third straight national collegiate title will be a game Saturday at Michigan State. The Spartans are the undefeated top team in the Eastern division of the Midwestern circuit.

St. Louis had a 6-0 lead at the half at Chicago, after scoring five times in the second quarter. The Maroons didn't break through until the Bills had a 10-0 edge, and then Lorand Spyers made good on a penalty kick.—H.F.

All Eyes on Texas as Longhorns Bid for National Football Title

Colorado Also in Running

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (UPI)—The University of Texas hasn't enjoyed a perfect college football season in 41 years, but Coach Darrell Royal's Longhorns appear strong enough to accomplish that feat this year.

Texas, Alabama, Colorado and Rutgers stand alone today as the only major college unbeaten and untied teams after Saturday's rash of upsets which included the defrocking of top-ranked Michigan State and second-ranked Mississippi.

The downfall of the Spartans and Ole Miss threw the battle for the national title into an open scramble with Texas and Alabama, each with seven victories, bidding for the No. 1 spot.

Third-ranked Texas, which has rolled up 233 points this season while allowing only 46, added Southern Methodist to its list of victims Saturday, 27-0, behind the running of James Saxton and Jerry Cook.

Fourth-ranked Alabama defeated Mississippi State, 24-0, for its third straight shutout; eighth-ranked Colorado edged Missouri, 7-6, and unrated Rutgers toppled Lafayette, 37-6.

Meanwhile, tenth-ranked Minnesota stopped Michigan State, 13-0, as Sandy Stephens and Bill Munsey clicked for both touchdowns, and L.S.U., ranked No. 7, downed Mississippi, 10-7, on Wedell Harris's field goal and touchdown run that broke the Rebels' 21-game winning streak.

What's on tap next weekend for the unbeatables?

Texas plays host to Baylor (3-3) in the first of three remaining Southwest Conference battles; Alabama's bowl-bound Crimson Tide is expected to beat Richmond (4-4); Colorado's Buffalos, leaders of the Big Eight Conference, tangle with Utah (5-3) and Rutgers, front-runner in the Middle Atlantic Conference, meets Delaware (4-2).

Buckeyes in High Gear.

Fifth-ranked Ohio State, unbeaten but once tied, is rolling along in high gear. The Buckeyes took over first place in the Big Ten by belting Iowa's sagging Hawkeyes, ranked No. 9, 29-13. Indiana, winless in conference play, meets Ohio State next week.

tempt. Jurgensen passed for 249 yards, including a 55-yard touchdown toss to Tommy McDonald.

The Eagles lost Tom Brookshier, defensive captain, who suffered a compound fracture of the right leg in the fourth quarter. The 1960 all-pro defensive halfback, generally regarded as one of the league's finest pass defenders, will be out for the season.

A crowd of 62,723 at Cleveland, largest of the day in the N.F.L., saw Lou Groza put the Browns ahead, 13-10, with a 37-yard field goal with 3:51 left to play. But then the Steelers' Bukich struck through the air immediately afterward and hit Schnelker with the payoff pitch.

Tom Watkins, left halfback for Cleveland, suffered a dislocated shoulder in the game and is expected to miss at least the next two games.

Linebacker Walt Michaels, who calls the defensive signals for the Browns, suffered a severe ankle sprain and left the game early in the third period. He is expected to miss next week's game with Washington.

Del Shofner caught three touchdown passes in the Giants' rout of the Redskins at New York. Y. A.

Tommy Davis's 41-yard field goal with four seconds left to play enabled San Francisco to tie Detroit.

Tom Wilson and Joe Marconi, reserve fullbacks, each scored a last-period touchdown as the Rams broke a 17-17 tie and beat the Vikings.

5-Foot Putt on Last Hole Wins for Ferrier

ALMADEN, Calif., Nov. 6 (UPI)—Veteran Jim Ferrier of Burbank, Calif., sank a five-foot putt on the final hole yesterday to edge Bob Rosburg by one stroke in the $10,000 Almaden Open Golf tournament.

The 46-year-old former Australian toured the course in 69-72-66-72 for a four-day total of 279 and first place money of $1200.

Rosburg, of Portland, Ore., collected $1000 for second place with 72-69-67-72—280.

Columbia (Mo.) Man to Head State Bowlers

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 6 (UPI)—Bob Smith of Columbia is the new president of the Missouri Men's Bowling Association. He succeeds Olive Hilgert of Kansas City.

Other officers elected yesterday are: Witt Stephenson, Springfield, first vice president; Cliff Leeker, St. Louis, second vice president; Phil Litira, St. Joseph, third vice president; Travis Brown, Joplin, fourth vice president. J. E. Lewis of Kansas City was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Chargers' Allen Out for Season

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 6 (AP)—The San Diego Chargers said today Chuck Allen, rookie linebacker, will miss the rest of the American Football League season.

Allen's right ankle was injured yesterday as the Chargers whipped the New York Titans, 48-13, for their ninth consecutive victory. The injury was described as a dislocation—caused when Allen was tackled after he had intercepted a pass.

1962 MERCURYS best-looking buys...now in each size
COMPACT MERCURY COMET
BIG MERCURY MONTEREY

Mercury MONTEREY the best-looking buy for the big-car man
Mercury COMET smartly ahead of the compact crowd

Your Mercury dealer asks: In which size car do you want your quality?

Mercury COMET—the quality compact with the extras that make the difference. Step out in style . . . and into Comet's new world of luxury and quality. It begins with style (only compact with fine-car styling), goes right down to the floor (triple-layer insulation). There's a luxury ride to match (on a wheelbase up to 7.5" longer than other compacts). This car is quality-built to save you money—on lubrications, oil and anti-freeze changes. Also on price: with or below most compacts. And Comet's resale record is the best of all the compacts!

Mercury MONTEREY—the quality big car with the extras that make the difference. Treat yourself to a ride in the top-of-the-line Mercury—Mercury Monterey for 1962. Monterey is built for the man who prefers—or needs—a big car. Monterey is a luxurious 6-passenger car without qualification, with extra room, a longer (120") wheelbase than other cars at its price. Quality where you see it, in fine interiors. And where you don't, in galvanized steel for rust resistance. Needs routine service only twice a year—at 6,000- to 30,000-mile intervals.

SIX LIQUOR LICENSES HERE ARE SUSPENDED

By the Post-Dispatch Jefferson City Correspondent.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 6—Liquor licenses of six establishments in the St. Louis area, were suspended today by Hollis M. Ketchum, state supervisor of liquor control.

Those receiving suspensions and their violations are: Delia M. Cunningham, 2253 Brentwood boulevard, Brentwood; drink license suspended five days effective next Monday for sale to minor. Albert Slamp Sr., operate of 3.2 beer tavern at 11319 Gravois road, Sappington, license suspended 45 days effective next Monday for selling intoxicating liquor on 3.2 per cent premises, and possession of intoxicating liquor on premises. Elmer R. Speakes, operator of Speakes Bar and Grill, 401 St. Louis avenue, Valley Park, retail by-the-drink license suspended 20 days effective Nov. 20 for sale to minor.

Anna Belle Favazza, operator of Opera Cocktail Lounge, 5646-48 Pershing avenue, drink license suspended 30 days effective Nov. 20 for permitting loittering and employing a police character.

Joseph E. Henke, 901 North Lafayette street, Florissant, drink license suspended 30 days effective Nov. 20 for sale to minor, and Peter M. Genovese, 2601 Hickory street, drink license suspended 15 days effective Nov. 20 for permitting loitering of convicted felon on premises and supplying false answers on application.

Ketchum revoked two other state licenses and suspended five others.

STUDY SHOWS DOCTORS CUT FEES IN 36 PCT. OF CASES

A survey by the St. Louis Medical Society showed that members of the society reduce their fees in 36 per cent of their cases, a spokesman said today.

St. Louis physicians participating in the survey indicated they work an average of five and three-fourths hours a week in clinics for which they are not paid and donate six hours weekly to instructing in medical schools or hospital training programs.

Members of the society who took part in the survey average 12 house calls a week, of which 26 per cent are free. The physicians reported they give 17 hours a month free to religious, civic or health agencies.

UAW, CATERPILLAR TRACTOR REACH ACCORD AT PEORIA

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 6 (AP)—Negotiators for Caterpillar Tractor Co. and the United Auto Workers reached tentative agreement last night on a new three-year contract covering 13,000 workers in three Peoria area plants.

The union workers vote today on acceptance of the proposed contract. A settlement in Peoria usually sets the pattern for 4000 other UAW members at Caterpillar plants in Decatur and Aurora, Ill., Davenport, Ia., and York, Pa. A UAW spokesman said talks will resume in Decatur probably early this week.

UAW and Caterpillar negotiators declined to make public details of the tentative agreement pending results of the ratification vote. UAW workers averaged $2.60 an hour under the old Caterpillar contract, which expired Oct. 1.

WILLIAM B. RILEY ESTATE INVENTORIED AT $497,961

The state of William B. Riley, stock salesman for the Edward D. Jones & Co. brokerage firm here, was valued at $497,961 in an inventory filed today in probate court.

Included in the estate were stocks valued at $437,448, bonds and notes valued at $53,623, bank accounts totaling $6690, and personnel belongings valued at $200.

In a will filed earlier, Riley bequeathed $10,000 to his sister, Mrs. Kathleen Riley Michaelis of St. Louis. The balance was to his wife, Mrs. Irene Riley, with whom he lived at 6010 South Kingshighway. Riley, 76 years old, died last Sept. 16.

ELLISVILLE RIDER WINS 4 PRIZES AT HORSE SHOW

James Graham, Ellisville, won four prizes in the two-day World Championship Appaloosa Horse Show which ended yesterday at Sedalia, Mo.

Graham, an Appaloosan horse breeder, won the reserve championship performance, world championship trailer, reserve world championship barrel horse and reserve championship rope race horse prizes. He rode Saska Sundog in the events.

Last summer, Graham won more than 100 ribbons and trophies in horse shows which took him about 15,000 miles. He is a carpenter.

CHICAGO TRUCKERS OK PACT

CHICAGO, Nov. 6 (UPI) — Gasoline and oil truck drivers yesterday ratified a new contract that ended a two-day strike last week.

The pact between the oil dealers and the Teamsters Union raises wages for drivers to $3.15 from $3.05 an hour. Gasoline and fuel oil distributors said they did not expect to increase prices.

RUSSIAN FALLOUT IS ALMOST BACK WHERE IT BEGAN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—The fallout cloud created by Russia's 50-megaton superbomb blast of last Monday rolled across the North Atlantic and over Scandinavia today, the United States Weather Bureau reported.

The bureau estimated that jet windstreams six miles above the earth would whip the nuclear debris back over Russia later in the day and thus virtually complete a circling of the globe.

On the basis of studies of winds at the altitudes of highest velocity, around 30,000 feet, the bureau prepared a fallout map showing the band of debris crossing all but the southern tips of Norway and Sweden and all of Finland.

Over Russia the cloud was expected to move well north to Moscow, but Leningrad was within its path.

Most of the nuclear debris from the Soviet test is believed to have been hurled high into the stratosphere from which it may not descend until next spring.

DALTON TO CONFER NOV. 16 WITH GOVERNOR OF KANSAS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 6—The first of a series of conferences arranged by Gov. John M. Dalton for discussion of the proposed nine-state economic organization will be held in Kansas City with Gov. John Anderson of Kansas on Nov. 16, the Governor announced today.

Purpose of the proposed organization is to obtain more defense contracts and to provide funds for seeking other new industry. Members, in addition to Missouri and Kansas, would be Illinois, Tennessee, Kentucky, Oklahoma, Iowa, Nebraska and Arkansas.

Gov. Dalton said Lester E. Cox, chairman, and Walter A. Bowers, executive director, of the Commerce and Industrial Development Division, will accompany him to the meeting with Gov. Anderson.

Katanga

on Katanga casualties in the September fighting, but the dead in all parts of the province are believed to be well under 100. The United Nations acknowledged 15 dead.

While there was a great deal of shooting in Elisabethville, much of it seems to have been aimed at the sky. Scars on the post office are light, with a few broken windows and a few bullet marks.

One result of the fight with the United Nations is the feeling of confidence that the African leaders have gained. There is a growing tendency among them, diplomats say, to dispose of more and more white technicians.

IF PURSUED too far, this could lead to administrative chaos since the Africans here lack administrative talents.

There is not a single African economist. The treasury is almost bare of foreign exchange because of heavy expenditure on building and equipping the army.

Stringent import regulations have been imposed, and luxury items are disappearing from shops. There is a black market in the currency President Moise Tshombe had printed as Katanga's own. It is worth about half its original value, though covered 30 per cent by deposits in European banks.

In addition to pouring out money for army equipment, often through clandestine deals which sent prices soaring, the government has paid handsome salaries to mercenaries.

These mercenaries included a great deal of riff-raff in the early days, but the worst element has been eliminated and only about 100 are left of the original 900.

Another drain on foreign exchange has been the necessary purchase of food frm Rhodesia. When the Katangans cut themselves off from the rest of The Congo they deprived themselves of Kasai's grain and the vegetables and fruits of Kivu province.

WESTERN ECONOMISTS say the internal economy of Katanga is sound, with the Union Miniere industrial complex pouring copper and other minerals into world markets. The biggest problem, they say, is restoring stability and world confidence so that capital will flow again.

There can be little real confidence in Katanga until its relationship with The Congo republic is definitely settled. This requires a meeting and hard bargaining between Tshombe and leaders of the Leopoldville government. Tshombe has refused to go there.

Tshombe is known to be aware he will have to come to terms eventually. Reconciliation is made difficult, however, by a group of diehard nationalists in his government, headed by the fiery interior minister, Godefroid Munongo.

During Tshombe's detention last spring, Munongo said Katanga was ready to appeal to the Soviet Union for aid. Munongo received a quick brushoff from Moscow as an "upstart capitalist stooge."

Western diplomats here say Munongo was trying to put pressure on the United States, and that the move was suggested to him by a Belgian adviser.

Munongo has designs on Tshombe's job. He is a member of the aggressive Bayake tribe which, in slaving days, hunted African slaves for Arab dealers.

RAIN AND WINDS LASH ATHENS; 34 ARE DEAD

ATHENS, Nov. 6 (AP)—Rain, hail and hurricane-force winds lashed the Athens area for four hours early today, leaving 34 persons dead, 50 missing, 300 injured and 3000 homeless.

The storm crumbled houses and turned streets into rivers more than eight feet deep. Huge hail stones added to the damage.

The storm stranded thousands of persons in automobiles and on commuter trains as they tried to go to work. The Interior Ministry said 700 houses were damaged.

Communications between Athens and surrounding communities, including the port of Piraeus, were disrupted.

Storm damage was reported in other parts of Greece, but details were lacking.

Many of the dead in Athens were drowned by flash floods that poured through ground-floor bedrooms. Rescue teams dug through the debris.

A dispatch from Damascus said rail traffic serving Syria, Turkey and Iraq has been disrupted by floods after heavy rain in the last 48 hours. One death was reported.

ROME, Nov. 6 (AP)—Three persons were killed yesterday in wind, rain and snow storms in Italy and the islands of Sardinia and Sicily. Many were injured.

PENNSY MOVING SOME CAR MAINTENANCE TO NEW YORK

The Pennsylvania Railroad is transferring its periodic coach maintenance operations from St. Louis to Long Island City, N.Y., as an economy measure, it was announced today. The shift, involving 40 of the road's 104 employes at the Ranken avenue yard, is effective next Friday.

A railroad spokesman said the change involves only heavy maintenance and repairs and that routine maintenance and cleaning, which take place after each train run, will continue here. It is planned, however, to move this operation from Ranken avenue to Union Station.

The employes affected, members of the Transport Workers Union of America, have been offered transfers to Long Island City but only four have accepted so far, it was stated. Roy Granata, T.W.U. international representative, said most of the workers being laid off have 18 to 25 years service with the line.

PRICE SAYS U.S. COULD HAVE NUCLEAR PLANE IN 3 YEARS

CHICAGO, Nov. 6 (UPI)—The United States could put a nuclear powered plane in the air within three years, Representative Melvin Price (Dem.), Illinois, said today.

The aircraft nuclear propulsion program was abandoned last March, Price said, "while on the brink of achieving its objective." He implied that bureaucracy was to blame.

Price, chairman of the subcommittee on research, development and radiation of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy, made his remarks at a press conference that preceded a speech at the annual conference on the Atomic Industrial Forum.

significant step toward accepting the Communists thesis that the Berlin intracity line was a "state frontier."

An increasing number of West Berlin officials, including Mayor Willy Brandt, believe that East Berlin's incorporation into East Germany might as well be taken for granted. The response they urge on the Allies is to recognize West Berlin as a land, or state, of West Germany, which it is under West Germany's constitution, and retain their responsibility for West Berlin's security.

to preserve segregation in public schools, piled up huge majorities in Latin American and Negro areas of the district. He also ran strong in areas where Goode had expected to get a big lead.

Gonzalez is to go to Washington tomorrow to receive personal congratulations from President Kennedy.

In a telegram Saturday night, Mr. Kennedy told Gonzalez "the fact that you were able to reverse the vote in your district from that cast in the Texas senatorial election earlier this year bodes well for the Democratic party."

Co-ops

is hoped that private investors, including interested co-ops, will bear a significant portion of the burden.

How much money AID will make available has not been decided. An official who is close to this matter predicted that "we will make a meaningful beginning on the co-op program in the current fiscal year and probably increase our efforts in the next year."

Although he said co-ops will receive "proper and appropriate" consideration, he emphasized that foreign aid funds are limited and needed for many other kinds of projects. He indicated strongly that an all-out, "crash" start on aiding co-ops was unlikely. The extent of the start that is made will depend to a large degree on the priority Hamilton finally decides to give to the co-operative program.

NO PRICE TAG was put on the program recommended to Hamilton by the AID advisory group. However, some indications of potential costs are available. One government official acquainted with affairs in Latin America has forecast that up to $40,000,000 annually may be needed to finance an effective co-op program there, with $2,000,000 more required for training and technical assistance. A credit union program proposed recently called for spending $5,000,000 in five years, most of it in Latin America. It is expected that most of these expenditures would be in the form of loans, with much of the money being recovered.

Besides lack of money, establishing of co-ops is handicapped in many nations by inadequate understanding, lack of trained personnel and unsatisfactory laws or government regulations.

Despite these handicaps there is no doubt that interest in co-ops has been growing rapidly. A report made a year ago by Fernando Chaves, senior specialist on co-operatives for the Pan American Union, showed that in the preceding 12 years the number of co-ops in Latin America had nearly doubled, rising from 7568 to 14,780. Membership was up even more, from 2,228,000 in 1948 to 4,980,000 in 1960.

"There is a deep and sincere interest in co-ops that is awakening rapidly in Latin America," Chaves concludes. "The time is ripe for encouraging their growth."

Jack Rice

Como's Spotlight Misses Target

TELEVISION EXECUTIVES can pretend all the self-assurance they want; I believe they are still pouting because Newton Minow called their area of entertainment a "vast wasteland." There is evidence that the executives are determined to scatter bits of information and high-minded entertainment around the area and make the wasteland look lived-in by cultured people.

JACK RICE

There was an effort recently on the Perry Como show. The state of Missouri was given a salute and as a patriotic Missourian I sat up straight and saluted the television right back when the section on Missouri began. Pretty early in the tribute to Missouri, Hannibal was mentioned and I knew the salute was going to run into trouble, and poke a thumb in its own eye.

Sure enough, it did. Mention Hannibal, and somebody has to mention Mark Twain. The wrong mention, every time.

"Hannibal," said Mr. Como, "the birthplace of Mark Twain. . . ."

Hannibal is no such thing. Hannibal never has pretended it was the birthplace of Mark Twain. Not right out, it hasn't. When I was a boy, living near Hannibal, I recall that if a stranger said to a Hannibal boy, "Oh, you're from Mark Twain's birthplace," the Hannibal boy likely as not wouldn't issue a correction. He wouldn't come right out and lie, and say "Yes," but he wouldn't come right out and tell the truth, either.

The truth is, Florida, Mo., is Mark Twain's birthplace. Twain said so, and nobody paid much attention to him. Florida has been saying so since Twain became famous, or better than 90 years, and nobody paid much attention to Florida, either.

Business men in Perry, about five miles from Florida, furnished the Mark Twain shrine at Florida in recent years and it is a fine and easy one-day round trip from St. Louis with time enough to go over and see Mark Twain's later home, too. In Hannibal. I wish one of Mr. Como's writers had made the trip.

I'd like it better if one of Mr. Como's choreographers would take a long, penitent look at a photograph of Mr. Twain, and wait for the fire and brimstone to fall on him. I think Twain's portrait could conjure a dose of fire and brimstone in return for what the choreographer did to Twain's heroes, Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn.

"Hannibal," continued Mr. Como, "the country of Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn—and you can't get more American than Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn."

Then two youths dressed in the inevitable Sawyer and Finn uniforms, round-topped straw hats, and patch pants held up by one loop, and fishing poles, and bare feet, appeared to dance and they were cute, oh my, yes; but they were not Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn.

Huck Finn would have put his fishing pole in the eye of the arty dance director who told him to prance and cavort so. I will bet the dance man could not get such swirlings and dippings and New York studio grace out of Becky Thatcher. The boys danced on a horizontal prop, something in the shape of Missouri, and they danced off it as though they knew better, and were asking Tom and Huck for forgiveness.

I don't want to sound ungrateful, but I wish the salute to Missouri had stayed with people it was certain of, our famous natives such as Gen. Bradley and Helen Traubel and Harry Truman and Ginger Rogers and Jesse James. I notice they didn't mess around much with old Jesse.

Youth Parade

Color Blending Make-Up

By Reba and Bonnie Churchill

A BRUSH AND PALETTE no longer class you as a junior Rembrandt. Now, a sable-tipped brush and a wipe-clean plastic palette are used to color blend make-up. This season the trend is to capture the "golden glow" of autumn in your cosmetics. Anne Benton achieves this beauty effect by mixing a brushful of yellow lipstick with persimmon and copper colors. A quick whirl of the brush, and she has a personalized mouth shade!

The "honey look" continues to the eyebrows. Once brows are brushed or pencilled, a gold-tipped brow pencil can be used to stroke on light reflecting highlights. But, remember, a few deft lines are all that are necessary. Don't overdo the shimmery line, or you'll undo the effect.

The golden glow results in a radiant, natural look. A light veil of foundation, color co-ordinated lip rouge, and a mere accent on brows are the 1-2-3 basics. Anne, seen in Twentieth Century-Fox's film, "Tender Is the Night," further captures the gold standard by brushing blonde tresses until they sparkle with healthy highlights.

P.S.: Here's the fact sheet your letters have been requesting. We've had our fully illustrated "Guide to Beautiful Eyes" leaflet reprinted. It shows how to shape brows, make up eyes, and bring new beauty to the face. Send 5 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to "Youth Parade—Eyes," in care of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 6 (AP) MEET ALLEN DRURY, senator-at-large.

The author is here to oversee filming of his novel, "Advise and Consent." Never one to pass up a publicity possibility, producer-director Otto Preminger has dragooned Drury to play a senator in the film. What state does he represent?

"Senators without speaking parts aren't so designated," said Drury. "I don't know what I would choose. I was born in Texas, grew up in California, reside in Maryland and my parents live in Florida."

So we'll designate him at-large, which is a pretty good description of this towering, quiet-spoken but self-assured man. The Drury saga is dear to the heart of every newspaper man. He is one reporter who made it.

After 15 years of covering the United States Senate, he turned his knowledge into a hard-running best seller, with all the condensation, book club, play and movie rights and other harvests that writers dream about.

"Yes, a lot of money has come in," he admitted, "but it also has gone right out—to the Internal Revenue Department. The income tax laws are not very good for authors and other people who make a lot of money in one year.

ALLEN DRURY . . . "The income tax laws are not very good for authors and other people who make a lot of money in one year."

"But the Government now allows a system whereby the publisher withholds the money for payment over a period of years. Right now I am assured an income for the next 15 years."

Would he say how much?

"Of course not," he shot back.

What was the reaction of the real-life Senators to his book, which deals frankly with the process of choosing a Secretary of State.

"I think most of them liked it," said Drury. "The only one who has spoken out against it is Wayne Morse. I don't know why, exactly, but then it's hard to figure his motivations. Oh, yes, Bill Fulbright was reported to be grumbling about the book, perhaps because he didn't like the way the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee was portrayed. But the book was written before he was it.

"On the other hand, I have letters from 40 to 50 Senators who were favorable. They range from Harry Byrd to Bill Proxmire, from Everett Dirksen to Mike Mansfield, from Paul Douglas to Barry Goldwater. So you can see they cover the whole range of political thought."

Drury's film duties have interrupted his writing of a second novel, "A Shade of Difference." It will carry some of the "Advise and Consent" figures into new areas, including the United Nations. He expects to follow with one, perhaps two more books to complete the cycle.

His advice to other newspapermen who dream of duplicating his feat: "Set yourself a writing schedule and stick to it. Two or three hours a day adds up."

Easy for him to say, a bachelor.

Filling a Sandwich

A luncheon sandwich usually benefits from a quarter cup of the filling. However, if the filling mixture is highly seasoned and the bread is thin, a few tablespoons of the filling may be sufficient.

Ann Landers

'Shock' to Parents

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter went away to college in September. She is 18 and sensible. Her dad and I eagerly await her letters, as you can understand.

Yesterday she wrote: "My roommate and I had a great time Saturday night. We went to George and Tom's apartment and fixed dinner. Am I ever glad you made me learn how to cook, Mom! They were flabbergasted. After dinner we cleaned the place up and played bridge. It was a swell evening."

ANN LANDERS

My husband hit the ceiling. He said the girls had no business going to the boys' apartment and that college life was going to turn our daughter into a little tramp.

Is he right? Frankly, I didn't know what to say to him. Other mothers must write about this. What do you tell them? TTO.

Dear TTO: One of the nice things about going away to college is that the parents can't go along. By the time a girl is 18 her pattern of behavior is fairly well set. If your daughter was properly raised you don't have to worry. If she wasn't, worrying won't help now. Cooking dinners in apartments is part of college life. It offers the students relief from dormitory fare and affords the gals a chance to show off their domestic skills. It gets my O.K.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife's mother died recently after a long illness. The doctor bills and hospital bills set us back a small fortune. Now the funeral bills are coming in and we are worried sick. I have signed for everything.

When my mother-in-law became ill we asked the other two daughters and one son if they would pitch in and help. You never heard such hard-luck stories. Her only son said he was sorry but he still owed money on his swimming pool. The daughters said they didn't have the nerve to ask their husbands for "that kind of money."

We have three small children and are trying to pay for our home.

Shall I ask the others to please pay their mother's funeral expenses as a matter of decency? OVER MY HEAD.

Dear Over: You'd better use another word. That tribe doesn't know what decency means. If they refused to help when their mother was living I doubt that they'll help now—especially since you've "signed for everything." Ask, however, and give them a last chance. Regardless of the outcome, you'll always feel good about having done the right thing, while they must live with the knowledge they did not.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for Ann Landers's booklet, "What To Expect from Marriage," inclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of the Post-Dispatch, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Opening lead—king of clubs.

THE TEXAS CONVENTION is an ingenious gadget that can be used by the partner of a player who opens the bidding with one or more notrumps. The chief purpose of the convention is to make the strong hand declarer in a suit contract.

It works like this: If the responder bids four clubs over the notrump bid, the opener is required to bid four hearts. If the responder bids four diamonds over the notrump bid, the opener is required to bid four spades. In other words, it is a transfer bid designed to make the strong hand declarer at the right contract.

The deal shown arose in the match played between Great Britain and the United States during the World Bridge Olympiad held in Turin in 1960.

When Reese and Schapiro, playing the Texas convention (English version), held the North-South cards, they reached four hearts in the manner shown. The American West led the king of clubs and then shifted to a spade. Schapiro later lost two diamonds and had no trouble making four hearts for a score of 620 points.

At the other table, where the American pair held the North-South cards, the bidding went:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 NT	Pass	4 ♥

The same contract was reached but North became declarer on the hand. This did not turn out well for the American team, because the contract was quickly defeated.

East was on lead and opened a singleton diamond. West won with the queen, cashed the king of clubs, led the ace of diamonds, and then gave East a diamond ruff. So North went down one—100 points—losing four tricks before he got started.

The hand was a dramatic triumph for the Texas convention. There is no question about the theoretical advantage of using Texas, but its major drawback is that one player or the other sometimes forget it is being used and a silly contract is reached.

He Owes Success To His Insomnia

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP).

PLAYWRIGHT HARRY KURNITZ believes it's easier to get ahead in life if you're a poor sleeper.

"I owe my success to insomnia," said the lanky author, whose latest play, "A Shot In the Dark," starring Julie Harris, became an instant Broadway hit.

HARRY KURNITZ

"I only sleep four or five hours and I'm usually up before 7. As most of my friends don't show up until noon, there is nobody around to distract me. I have nothing else to do but write.

"By the time the people I know are up and about, I've got six hours of work done. For this reason work has never interfered with my social life."

Kurnitz is convinced this habit of rising early to face his typewriter is the chief reason he was unable to remain a failure.

"I've known many extremely gifted men who became defeated in life simply because they lost the knack of production, of sticking to a disciplined working life."

Although Harry is known on two continents as a wit and boon companion, no one could accuse him of lack of production. At 53 he has turned out some 40 film scripts, several plays and 200 short stories, novelettes and mystery thrillers.

"In one 18-month period," he remarked, "I wrote a book, a play, three movies, and 18 magazine articles —and still managed to get out on the golf course by 1 p.m. each day.

"On the other hand, I once spent eight months on a play, then tore it up and had to start all over again.

"I was never able to match Noel Coward. He wrote two of his finest plays—'Blythe Spirit' and 'Private Lives'—in a total of 10 days."

Kurnitz, born in Manhattan and reared in Philadelphia, bade goodby to the academic world at 16 after graduating from high school. He learned the writing trade as copy boy and, later, as a reporter on half a dozen newspapers.

He knew his share of lean days.

"For years a lot of my fiction writing was wildly unsuccessful," he recalled. "Finally, I got the hang of it.

"But during the great American boom in the 1920s I was sleeping part of the time in the subway. I really didn't know there'd been a boom—until I read about the crash."

After reaching the top as a film writer, Kurnitz became bored with Hollywood and moved to Europe 10 years ago. He now lives in Paris.

"I like to be near casinos," he explained cheerfully. "My favorite hobby, besides golf, is gambling—and I'm lousy at both."

Kurnitz, a man with wide-ranging interests in modern art and literature, likes wine and good company and good conversation.

"I've tried to live on the theory that if I got run over the next moment I wouldn't have missed any experience in life available to me," he said.

"I believe in laughter, and I'm a born Pollyanna.

"I wake up each morning hoping that I'm on the brink of doing something great . . . meeting a glorious creature who'll adore me for myself alone . . . and finding a fortune in the seat of the next taxi I enter."

But he realy doesn't need to find a fortune. He's already found it—in his typewriter.

BOOSTING YOUR TV AND FM RECEPTION: Attachable to any type of antenna, a new transistorized antenna amplifier may improve TV and FM reception in many fringe and semi-fringe areas. The amplifier, which uses less current than an electric clock, on the average produces a 25 times power gain at Channel 13 and 67 times gain at Channel 2. It's compact and lightweight, can be mounted directly on the antenna boom for maximum signal gain—or, alternatively, at any point along the mast, on the wall, the windowsill, or behind a set. Its dual outputs can feed two TV sets or a TV and an FM.

PORTABLE SCOOTERETTE: Now comes an unusual little motor scooter—inexpensive, lightweight, and portable—that should have wide appeal for sportsmen, boatsmen and many others. It weighs just 75 pounds, is only 50 inches long, uses 6-inch diameter wheels with wide section tires, and is powered with a two-horsepower, 4-cycle, air-cooled engine. It can operate under conditions a full-scaled vehicle might find impossible. It is designed, the maker claims, to go anywhere a horse can go—yet attain speeds of up to 35 miles an hour on smooth highways. And it can be carried along on a boat, private plane or car. Price: under $150.

NEWS FOR COOKING: A do-it-yourself version of the non-stick frying pan—that's the idea behind a new aerosol coating. After about 10 seconds of spraying and about 45 minutes of baking the coating in the oven, the pan is ready for cooking without fats or grease. One application is said to last through 30 to 90 washings. . . . Another new spray is designed to keep food from sticking to oven walls and windows. It is also effective on baking pans, waffle irons, casseroles and outdoor grills.

IN BRIEF: Newest traction mat for pulling a car or truck out of snow, mud, sand or ice has an "extra"—a steel clamp you can quickly attach to the 28-inch long, 8-inch wide steel mesh panel. It snaps over the tire and grips the rim, holding the mat so it doesn't slip or shoot out. . . . "It's the little things that take a lot of time" and one feature of a new automatic dishwasher is a little silverware basket into which you can put such little things as baby bottle nipples, plastic carbonated beverage stoppers, and small plastic utensils that previously couldn't be washed in a dishwasher.

If you'd like further information on any of the above items, write Lawrence Galton in care of the Post-Dispatch, identifying item, giving date of appearance and inclosing stamped, and self-addressed envelope. Inquiries must be sent no later than two weeks after the appearance of the item.

Try and Stop Me

DURING COMPOSER-CONDUCTOR Igor Stravinsky's first tour of the United States, his command of the English language was sketchy, to say the least.

One day in Milwaukee, the first violinist made the same ghastly mistake three times at a rehearsal. Stravinsky never ceased addressing the miscreant in the most polite terms.

Later a friend complimented him on his control. "How you could speak so politely," he marveled, "when you obviously were seething in rage inside, beats me."

"Ah," explained Stravinsky in his native tongue, "that is because I have learned only polite phrases in English. You should have heard what I was calling the blank-blank under my breath in Russian!"

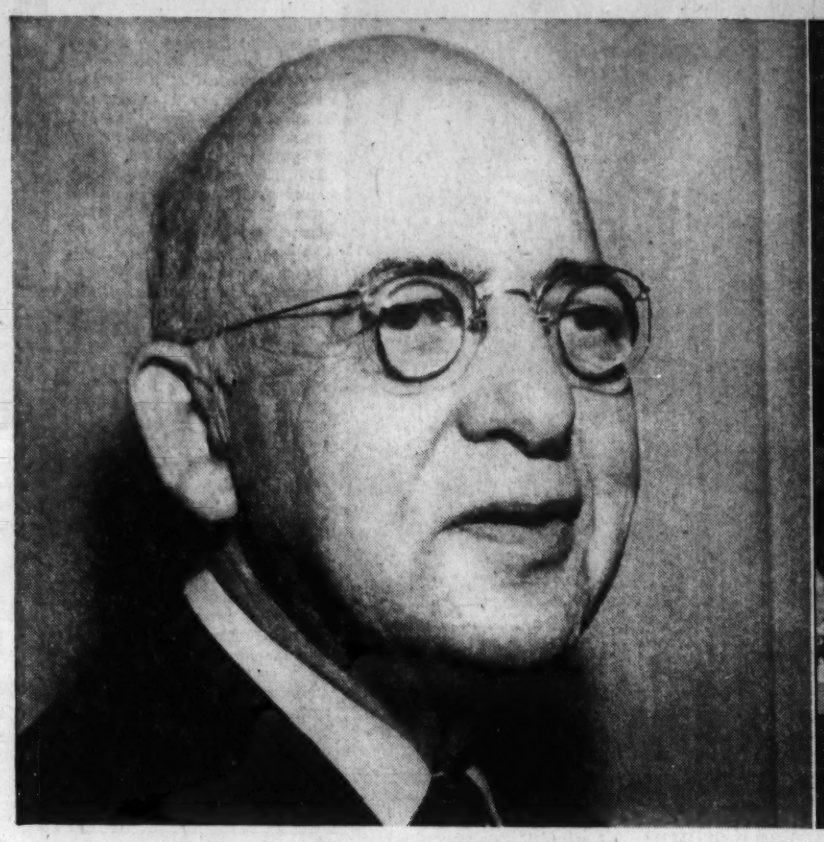

A PAIR OF TRAMPS were enjoying the free air in a Dallas park. One of them spotted a headline in the paper he had salvaged from a rubbish bin. It read: "Man Wanted for Burglary in California."

"If that job was only in Texas," yawned the tramp, "I'd take it."

'Sell a Million Sam' Tells How He Did It

Samuel Gross Was Such a Super Salesman It Took Seven Men to Replace Him When He Retired

By Olivia Skinner
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff.

SAMUEL EDWARD GROSS . . . "I love people. I love to make them smile. If you can make them smile, you've got them under your control."

At one of his annual Christmas breakfasts for Famous-Barr employes, Sam had circus clown OTTO wheel him into the dining room in a baby carriage.

SEVEN BUYERS replaced "Sell a Million Sam," Samuel Edward Gross, when he retired early this year after 38 years at Famous-Barr department stores. He had been in charge of purchasing for the sporting goods, radio, record, television, camera, pet and toy departments. In this capacity he had sold well over $100,000,000 worth of merchandise.

But few of his many acquaintances realize that Sam's commercial career began "at the age of minus 2 months." He was born on the West Side of Chicago in 1895, a seven-months baby so tiny that his first crib was a small box filled with cotton batting. In those days, incubators were a rarity, even for the wealthy. Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Gross, recently arrived from Germany, were very poor indeed. Nevertheless, Sam's mother determined he was going to live.

She put the box under her arm, extravagantly hired a horse and buggy and took the feeble infant to Lincoln Park, where there was an exhibition of some of the first incubators in the city. Sam was hired out for six weeks as the smallest demonstration baby in the exhibit. Not only did he survive, but his mother was paid for his services.

The Gross mercantile record, which began at such a tender age, is now the subject of his book, "The Secrets of Sell a Million Sam," just published by Fairchild Publications Inc., New York. The book reveals Sam as a shrewd, extremely hardworking, imaginative business man. But while it gives its readers a blueprint for mercantile acumen, it never once supplies the main ingredient in his basic recipe for success: Sell a Million Sam may be the nearest thing to a reincarnation of P. T. Barnum that St. Louis will ever see.

Sam puts it quite simply in the first paragraph of his new book.

"When I walked confidently into the big downtown store of Famous Barr Co. in St. Louis March 23, 1923, I not only carried with me quite a reputation as a sizzling salesman and buyer out of Chicago but had added a few embellishments of my own."

At Famous-Barr, more embellishments followed thick and fast.

"I love people," said Gross at his home at 1 Pricewoods lane, University City. "I love to make them smile. If you can make them smile, you've got them under your control."

Following this theory, early in his career he inaugurated an annual "Christmas Breakfast" at Famous-Barr. He paid for this celebration himself. At first he invited only employes from his immediate departments. "But then," he wrote, "I began thinking . . . 'Why limit it to my own people? Why not let in a few more friends? Those who have done me favors and might do more in the future.'

"So I began inviting anyone who helped us and might be a bigger help later. I started putting on a show and hired my own talent. I dressed up, gagged it up, had a lot of fun . . . my breakfasts were the talk of the store."

Sam customarily read his Christmas speeches from a roll of paper, which he unwound as he went along. One year he dressed up as a baby sucking on a milk bottle, squeezed himself into a perambulator and had himself wheeled into the breakfast wingding by Otto, Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus clown. At a crucial moment, milk squirted from tubes wired to Gross's ears. When the audience's bedlam had calmed, Gross emerged from the buggy to explain that what they had seen was a dramatic presentation intended to inspire enthusiasm for the coming year.

Morton D. May, president of the May Department Stores Co., wrote of Sam, "His achievements are legendary and I consider him the greatest showman and best salesman I have ever known in retailing."

Sam did not come to his name without effort. He realized early that he would have to hustle.

"In school, everywhere, I would be the clown, the one to get the party going," he wrote. "I would always look for the way to make people laugh."

There was clowning, but there was steady hard work for the boy growing up in the grimy, crowded neighborhood in Chicago's West Side. He was in his teens before he ever saw Lake Michigan. When he was very young he started to wait on customers in his father's custom tailor shop. But sometimes he would sneak away to play marbles. At 5 he made up his mind to have a bicycle. It took him five years of running errands, delivering papers and doing odd jobs to earn the necessary $12 for a second-hand model.

"I was so proud of it," he remembered, "that I kept it in the middle of the living room for fear someone would steal it."

When he was 15, his father died and he was forced to leave high school and go to work. His first job was scrubbing out five-gallon oil cans in the basement of Hillman's Department Store.

"Scrubbing out cans is lower than low," said Sam distastefully. "Half the oil got on me—I thought maybe I belonged right inside an oil well. I got $15 a week for a 10-hour day. I told myself 'This is not for you.'

"At that time I met George Israel, a buyer for Hillman's. He told me: 'To be a success, you must sell. Without good salesmen, there can be no business. A salesman who makes good money for his company is never dropped, even in bad times."

Sam had found his vocation.

"Ah, selling," he said in the tone a gourmet reserves for his favorite dish. "Selling was my life. If you love it, it's the easiest job in the world."

One of Sam's earliest selling ventures was organizing a giant oil sale for Hillman's. He called the Havoline Motor Co. and asked to speak to the boss. He wasn't there, so Sam, fuming, compromised by talking to Miss Dorothy Goldberger, the company's helpful girl Friday.

Reluctantly, Sam explained to Miss Goldberger that he wanted to buy oil. He also added unchivalrously: "A woman can't handle this. This needs action." Nettled, the young lady retorted that she could get him the oil he wanted. And she did.

With the oil, Sam staged one of his first successsful gala sales for Hillman's. During the course of the sale Miss Goldberger came into Hillman's to meet the brash young man she had talked with on the phone.

"I don't know why I came," recalled the former Miss Goldberger, now Mrs. Gross, "except that he'd made me so mad."

Two weeks after they met face to face, Sam came calling. "I was very dressed up," he recollected with pride, "gray kid gloves and a box of chocolates under my arm. But it took me two years to marry her."

From Hillman's, Sam moved on to Marshall Field's photographic department. In 1917 he went to Rothschild's, where he became the buyer for the phonograph and radio department.

This chimpanzee was introduced by Sam as his replacement upon his retirement.

"I had developed an extremely good record of radio and phonographic sales at Rothschild's. I was literally tapped for service at Famous-Barr," he wrote. "In March 1923 I was in the midst of another of my great crystal set promotions. The sets retailed at $5.95 and I was retailing them 500 at a time. When the smoke of that sale cleared I checked into the Famous-Barr deal and went down to St. Louis for an interview. They quizzed me about radio merchandising and asked: 'What other departments did you head besides radio?'

"Without hesitation I blurted out 'sporting goods'."

He had not, explained Sam, lied to anyone to get the job, he had merely had the courage of his own convictions. He had been made head of the Rothschild sporting goods department the day before he left for St. Louis.

"In my career I don't know what more I could have dreamed of," said Sam. "My firm co-operated at all times."

This was certainly true, even though occasionally the results were unexpected. There was a catastrophic night at Famous-Barr when a leak appeared in the giant tank Sam had ordered set up for a diving demonstration. Thousands of gallons of water drenched much of the store.

Then there was the awkward moment when the grateful store presented Sam with a giant birthday cake ornamented with a complete model of Famous-Barr sculptured in sugar. On the cake were a multitude of candles. "When I started to blow them out," recollected Sam, "my false teeth flew right out of my mouth." Even in what Sam calls his most embarrassing moment, his luck held. "I caught those teeth on the fly," he said proudly.

Sam loved bargain sales. One of his proudest boasts was selling close to 1000 ice chests in January. When a local sporting goods company went bankrupt, Gross disposed of $500,000 worth of its stock in two weeks in the Famous-Barr sporting goods department.

He was a great advocate of demonstration and was always sponsoring a health show, camera show, pet show or other spectacle. One of his fondest memories is his promotion of a brand of insulated underwear for hunters.

"We dressed a handsome young man in the underwear and put him for hours between two huge cakes of ice. At first people didn't think it was real ice. Then lady customers got so sorry for him that they kept bringing him hot cups of coffee.

"He'd sit there on that ice for hours. Yes, I did have the store doctor check him from time to time. I didn't want him to die right there on the floor."

Sam's retirement was foreshadowed a few years ago at one of his Christmas breakfasts. He explained:

"We had a chimp trained to do a Bronx cheer when he saw merchandise. I told everybody at the breakfast that I was going to introduce our new buyer. There was a silence, as if everybody had dropped dead. Then the chimp came trotting down the aisle, handed me a going away present and a notice that he, the chimp, was taking over."

For Sam, retirement had its drawbacks. "All my years at Famous-Barr, I couldn't wait to get down in the morning and I never wanted to go home at night." But his prospects brightened when he conceived the idea for his book. All through his career he had made a point of helping and training likely young people, but he noticed that very few other business men took the trouble. He said that many well-qualified young people with excellent educations entered the retailing field, but nobody taught them the rudiments and the fine points of buying, selling, merchandising and advertising.

This, then, was the new mission of "Sell a Million Sam."

Now that the book is finished, he plans to act as merchandise counselor for smaller dealers and to lecture before civic groups and conventions.

He also is promoting his opus strenuously. In his coat pocket nestles a fat stack of individual order blanks for "The Secrets of Sell a Million Sam."

"Nowadays," he said, "people stop me and yell, 'Hey, Million, what about your book?' So I take their orders right there on the street."

Visitor From East Honored at Parties

By Karin Hayward

MRS. OWEN CHEATHAM of New York arrived in St. Louis yesterday and last evening was guest of honor at two parties, a cocktail party given by Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Wiedmer and a dinner at Old Warson Country Club.

The Wiedmers entertained guests at their home, 628 South Meramec avenue, Clayton. At the party, besides the guest of honor, were Mr. and Mrs. Orrin S. Wightman Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Pranger, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Wuertenbaecher, Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Lortz, Mrs. Charles M. Huttig, Mrs. Maury Hill and John Walter Wiedmer. Later, Mrs. Cheatham and some of the other guests went to Old Warson Country Club for dinner.

The visitor, who is associated with the Owen Cheatham Foundation which owns the Salvador Dali Art-in-Jewels collection, will be guest of honor Saturday, Nov. 11, at a cocktail buffet reception. The party, a preview of the exhibit of the Dali collection, will be given from 5:30 o'clock until 8 o'clock in the Garden Room of Westroads, Clayton. Proceeds from the party, for which tickets at $10 per person are available, will go to the maintenance fund of the St. Louis Symphony.

Mrs. Nicholas V. V. Franchot III is chairman for the party. On her committee are Mrs. Richard H. Amberg, Mrs. Howard F. Baer, Mrs. J. Arthur Baer II, Mrs. B. E. Bassett, Mrs. Henry Belz, Mrs. John P. Blake Jr., Mrs. J. Lionberger Davis Jr., Mrs. Kenneth M. Davis, Mrs. Samuel W. Fordyce IV, Mrs. Russell E. Gardner, Mrs. George S. Goding, Mrs. Robert S. Hermann, Mrs. Harold T. Hungerford, Mrs. James Lee Johnson, Mrs. Oscar Johnson, Mrs. Francis V. Lloyd Jr., Mrs. Sanford N. McDonnell, Mrs. J. Eldred Newton, Mrs. Wallace R. Persons, Mrs. Charles Parsons Pettus, Mrs. Adolph H. Rosenberg, Miss Eleanor Schlafly, Mrs. Frank L. Thompson, Mrs. William Franklin Trent, Mrs. Joseph L. Tucker, Mrs. Louis Werner II, Mrs. Wiedmer, Mrs. Wightman, Mrs. Grant Williams.

From next Monday through Nov. 25, the jewels will be on display on the sixth floor of Stix, Baer and Fuller's downtown store where the admission charge of $1 for adults and 50 cents for children and students will go to the Symphony Society.

The Dali jewels have been made available by the Owen Cheatham Foundation which lends them to charitable, cultural, religious and educational institutions for fund-raising purposes. Religious, classical and surrealistic subjects in diamonds, gold, emeralds, rubies, pearls, sapphires and chrysoprase are included in the collection which has been valued at about $1,000,000.

MR. AND MRS. RAYMOND E. ROWLAND JR., 7617 Carrswold drive, Clayton, returned recently from a western trip. With Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Ory, 20 Beacon Hill, Creve Coeur, they visited San Francisco and Pebble Beach, Calif., where they were guests at Del Monte Lodge. The St. Louisans then went to Los Angeles. From there, the Orys departed for home. The Rowlands, after a few days in Los Angeles, spent some time in Las Vegas, Nev., and Dallas, Tex., before returning to St. Louis.

Party for Friends of the Garden

THE FIRST PARTY of the season for the Friends of the Garden will take place from 7 until 10 o'clock Thursday evening in the Floral Display House of the Missouri Botanical (Shaw's) Garden. The annual chrysanthemum exhibition will be on view.

This year's show is designed to show an oriental garden. Against the north wall will be constructed a gate sheltered with a rush roof and flanked by beds of large single-flower chrysanthemums. White panels against the west wall will provide a background for a display of cascade chrysanthemums in white, yellow, pink and red. A moon gate will lend an oriental atmosphere to the planting along the east wall. Baskets of blossoming chrysanthemums will be suspended from the high ceiling of the display house and center beds will hold bush chrysanthemums. Rare varieties of the flowers will be featured in a bamboo inclosure.

The Women's Association of Shaw's Garden is sponsoring the party. Mrs. Olin Odell Stansbury is chairman and Mrs. William T. Kieffer is assistant chairman. Mrs. William R. Bascom, president of the Friends, and Mrs. J. Bruce Butler, Women's Association president, will serve as hostesses as will Mrs. Samuel C. Davis, Mrs. Edgar Anderson, Mrs. Henry N. Andrews, Mrs. Mary E. Baer, Mrs. William B. Gerhart, Mrs. Edward Dicke, Mrs. Glen Clark and Mrs. Whatley L. Chandler. At the refreshment tables will be Mrs. J. Curtis Ford, vice president of the Friends; Mrs. Arthur H. Feuerbacher Jr., Mrs. Leicester B. Faust, Mrs. McVeigh Goodson and Mrs. Dee W. Eades.

Cuttings of coleus, a tropical foliage plant, grown in the Climatron will be distributed to members of the Friends at the party.

Christmas Sale At City Art Museum

FRIENDS of the City Art Museum will hold their Christmas sale, "A Phantasmagoria of Christmas Delights," tomorrow at the museum from 2:30 o'clock until 9:30 in the evening. Mrs. Mahlon B. Wallace III is chairman.

MRS. WALLACE . . . chairman of sale.

The sale, which will be open to the public will feature unusual gift items and cards from England, France, Denmark, Italy, Austria, Germany, Ecuador and many other foreign countries.

The sale will be held in one of the galleries, which will be decorated with a Christmas tree. On the tree will be large white birds trimmed with gold; white flowers and gold Christmas ornaments.

Those who are assisting Mrs. Wallace on her committee are Mrs. Herbert I. Finch, Mrs. E. Calvin Christy, Mrs. Warren T. Chandler, Mrs. Newell Augur, Mrs. Charles Nagel, Mrs. Russell E. Lortz, Mrs. Harry E. Wuertenbaecher Jr., Mrs. Arthur S. Kendall and Mrs. George K. Hoblitzelle.

Architects to Give Illustrated Lectures At County Library

MRS. ARTHUR R. JOHNSON, 476 North Warson road, Creve Coeur, is chairman of an illustrated lecture series, "Architecture and You," to be given by St. Louis architects on three successives Tuesday evenings at St. Louis County Library, 1640 South Lindbergh boulevard.

John David Sweeney, president of the St. Louis chapter, American Institute of Architects, and Robert Elkington will present the first lecture next Tuesday at 8 p.m. on "The House You Build." The series is sponsored by the Women's Architectural League in co-operation with the St. Louis County Library.

Assisting Mrs. Johnson are Mrs. H. Kingsland Graf, Mrs. Arthur E. Koelle, Mrs. Donald J. McMahon Jr., Mrs. Erwin W. Knoesel and Mrs. Gustel R. Kiewitt, league president.

20th Year of Jewish Women's Council Shops

By Virginia Betts White

THE TWENTIETH anniversary of the establishment of two resale shops operated by the National Council of Jewish Women will be marked at a membership meeting Nov. 13 in Harrison Hall of Temple Israel. Tea will be served at 1 p.m., followed by a program at 2 o'clock when Bob Holt, radio personality, will entertain. For admission to the meeting, members will bring contributions for the shops.

Nearly $500,000 has been spent by the council on its philanthropic projects in St. Louis since organization of the shops at 4148 Easton avenue and 1000 North Vandeventer avenue. Mrs. Harold Scheff and Mrs. Roswell Messing Jr., head a 50-member council comprising the shops committee were assisted by a men's advisory group.

Philanthropic projects of the council include a summer camping program which has accommodated 6600 children in the past 13 years; recreational facilities at the Council Lounge for Senior Citizens, 6633 Enright avenue, serving an average of 100 older persons daily, and tutoring in English and citizenship for new foreign-born residents of the city. The council supports also a theater company which visits hospitals and institutions, volunteer programs at Malcolm Bliss, Veterans and State Mental hospitals, and entertains 65 blind women each month at luncheon.

EASTERN ANNOUNCES NEW DAILY
JET COMMUTER SERVICE
NEW YORK

JET TO NEW YORK AND BACK THE SAME DAY!

Starting December 16, you can jet non-stop to New York on Eastern. And return the same day, if you wish. Eastern's new DC-8 Jet service will leave Lambert Airport daily at 8:00 AM, arriving in New York at 11:00 AM. The daily return flight departs from New York at 5:15 PM and arrives in St. Louis at 6:40 PM (local times).

Both flights offer Eastern's finest quality First-Class Jet Golden Falcon service. Golden Falcon service features delicious, full-course complimentary meals, mouth-watering entrees and a wide choice of popularly priced beverages.

You relax in wide, deep "easy chair" seats, all two abreast and reserved. You have convenient carry-on, carry-off baggage facilities, as well as expedited service for checked baggage. There is even a special lounge for you to try during the flight. When you fly Jet Golden Falcon, you enjoy the most comfortable first-class service ever offered. Jet Day-coach includes complimentary meal service, and the fare is only $52.40 plus tax.

Martha Carr's OPINION

Daughter Put Her Mother Out.

Dear Martha:

MY DAUGHTER WAS ALWAYS a good girl. She has been married 13 years. She was married eight years before she had any children. Now she has two lovely ones. When the older child was born she needed someone to help and I was more than glad to help and still would be. They live in the county and I moved out close by her to give her all the assistance I could. I worked five days a week and took care of the children two nights a week. I always had the older child from Friday night until Sunday night. When the second child came I toook care of both over the weekends. I started with the littlest one when she was only three weeks old. Then my daughter and her husband asked me to break up my home and I did. After 13 months of living with them they put me out and I haven't seen my grandchildren now in almost a year. When they put me out I didn't have a dish to eat out of. How can I get out of my mind the terrible thing they have done to me? DOUBLY HEARTBROKEN.

Your daughter's hard-hearted conduct is inexcusable. But when she had her children you were not wise enough to stay out of the picture and allow her the full responsibility of caring for her own family. Yours is an old story. Many parents think that they can make themselves indispensable to their married children by baby sitting with grandchildren, caring for them on weekends and on vacations. Grandparents want to feel needed and they go to extremes to try to establish this need. Actually, the best service parents can render their married children is taking care of themselves, being available for baby sitting only on reasonable occasions and in emergencies. I cannot imagine a daughter putting her mother out of her home with not even a dish to eat out of. Something must have happened to cause this abrupt end to your relationship. However, you were at an age where you should have known that it is in only rare cases that parents able to take care of themselves can establish a satisfactory place for themselves in the homes of married children. Ask your daughter to let bygones be bygones now and see if she will allow you to see your grandchildren occasionally.

Dear Martha:

THE ADVICE you gave the wife who had been married 24 years and had thoughts of divorcing her husband was positively correct. I know. I'm the fool who gave my husband up to a tramp who chased him down and every day of my life since my divorce nine years ago I have regretted it. There is no such thing as a new start at our age. If I knew where my ex-husband was I'd crawl on my hands and knees to him and ask him to come back. My friends and relatives don't want to bother with me since I'm alone. They were quick with that old stuff about divorcing him to save my pride. I still love my husband and I wish I hadn't been so quick to divorce him to save that pride. Pride is a lonely thing to live with. Perhaps if I had given him another chance we could still be together. DIVORCED AND SORRY.

Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for Martha's leaflets, "Clubs for Senior Citizens," "Clubs for the Middle Years" and "Clubs for Young Adults."

'Tired Feeling' Causes

DEAR DR. MOLNER: It seems as though I'm tired all the time. Even daily vitamins haven't helped. What can I do?

MRS. L.E.

Vitamins aren't the answer to "that tired feeling" except for people whose eating habits are such that they just don't get a balanced diet.

But there are plenty of other reasons for fatigue, and I think the most helpful advice I can offer is an outline of how a physician tackles such a complaint. There's a good chance that many readers may find the answer here.

There are three main causes of "that tired feeling":

1—Natural weariness. Fatigure, in itself, isn't bad. It is nature's signal that we are running the human machine harder, faster or longer than it is supposed to go.

2—True physical ailments.

3—Nervous or emotional causes. Boredom is one very real reason for being "tired all the time." Unrelieved nervous tension can leave you feeling worn out. And frustration, such as feeling that you can't ever catch up with all things you should do (or think you should), is a fairly common one.

Lots of people who complain of fatigue hope to find the answer in a pill, and simply overlook the fact that they are trying to do too much.

The young mother who feeds, bathes, dresses, spanks, entertains and comforts three children all day, and keeps the house and herself neat and attractive, and stays up until 11 o'clock every night mending, fussing over the budget, writing letters, trying to watch TV while she irons, and seeing whether last year's clothes can be shortened to where hems are now—well, she ought to be tired. She may argue that "I worked just as hard last year, and I wasn't always tired then," but this doesn't make sense. Young, healthy women can get away with such overloading for quite a long time. Eventually, however, it catches up.

The test is quite simple: If, after one or two nights of solid, restful sleep, she finds her vigor returning, she has the answer. She's been doing too much, too long.

Another classic type of "tired patient" is the oldster who won't admit that being 50, 60 or 70 makes any difference. It does. Muscular reserve declines, and sheer stubborn will power won't make this up. Short periods of rest scattered through the day will do wonders for such people.

Incidentally, too many oldsters do the opposite: They give in to stiff, painful joints. They sit. They resign themselves to "being old"—and condemn themselves to boredom—and the fatigue that is the price of boredom.

It is better to force themselves into regular activity (like walking, for the muscles, and reading for the mind). Trying to do too much is bad; trying to do too little is worse.

Bill Vaughan Says

"WE'VE HAD every kind of speaker at our luncheons," says a member of the Rotawanis Club. "Thin, fat, tall, short. No, I'll take back that last."

ONE OF THE PRESIDENT'S face-to-face meetings with foreign leaders at the White House could cause trouble if he should rock on the wrong toe.

A FOREIGN VISITOR finds it strange that the urge to build home shelters should be the strongest among Americans, who are so seldom at home.

THE FATHER of a college boy says that this generation of students is too conformist. Seems they write home for money only because they have read so many jokes that they know it's expected of them.

Free Shoes Just to Scuff Up

WINDSOR, Vt., Nov. 6 (AP). NO MATTER WHAT HAPPENS to the cost of living, kids in this rural Vermont community (population 4000) have a pretty good idea where their next pair of shoes is coming from.

And the quicker they wear them out, the better chance they have of getting a new pair.

Industry calls it research, but Yankee parents, legendary in their frugality, call it a godsend. Where else in the nation can a mother raise cane with junior for not scuffing up his shoes the way the other kids do?

This bizarre footnote to Vermont folklore arises from the fact that Windsor is the site of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.'s shoe testing laboratories, where extensive research is conducted on the durability of various shoe products.

Since science has yet to come up with a machine that can wear out a pair of shoes faster than kids can, much of the research emanates from the playground of the State street school, the town's only elementary school.

Each fall anywhere from 50 to 150 of the school's 540 pupils are given a coupon to obtain a free pair of shoes at Martin's shoe store.

From there the youngsters are taken around the corner to Jim's Shoe Repair Shop, where Jim Fournier, the town's only cobbler, replaces the heel and sole with whatever material is to be tested. Sometimes it's a new experimental product; sometimes it's a competitor's product.

Either way, the kids are told to go to it. Run, jump, slide, scrape, kick, drag, scuff, scuffle, bruise, batter. The worse wear the shoes receive, the better everyone concerned likes it, especially the parents who know that children who do a particularly good job of abusing the product will be called upon for addiitonal tests and another set of new shoes.

Industry calls it the "walk-wear" test, but school principal Jim Ryan, knows from 34 years of teaching experience that more wear than walk is involved.

From the vantage point of his shop window cobbler Fournier keeps track of the test children and supervises the various experiments.

Ordinarily it takes a child anywhere from two to four months to annihilate a pair of new shoes, but frequently Fournier calls in the shoes half way through the test-period and replaces the soles and heels on all left shoes with a competitor's product and then a month or so later does the same with the right shoes to get a comparison.

When all the test conditions have been met, Jim collects the shoes and sends them off to the laboratory at the plant, where technicians make a detailed analysis of what has happened to the materials used.

Fourth and fifth graders are considered the worst for wear when it comes to new shoes, but recently it was the sixth graders who stumped the experts with a "left shoe mystery." Month after month, every test pair of boys shoes came back to the plant with the left instep in shreds.

What defied the scientists proved to be all in a day's work to School Principal Ryan, who soon spotted the trouble in a new "chicken" game that involved riding a bike at top speed then coming to a complete and sudden stop without benefit of brakes by bearing down hard with the left shoe against the spokes of the wheels.

Even automation is not geared for "Chicken," a factor which insures the future of this unique community project, now in its twenty-fifth year of footloose existence.

TV Notes and Gossip

DIANA TRASK . . . Australian singer has been signed to an exclusive five-year contract with NBC.

THE QUESTION of survival in case of a nuclear attack will be discussed on two hour-long public affairs programs to be telecast within the next two weeks. Next Thursday, "In Case of War" will be presented on "CBS Reports" (KMOX-TV, 9 p.m.). It will report on the chances and problems of survival. Sunday, Nov. 19, KSD-TV will carry a "Nation's Future" debate on the question, "Would the U.S. Recover from an All-Out Nuclear Attack?"

"EERO SAARINEN: An Appreciation," a study of the life of the famed architect who died in September, and an assessment of the importance of his work to the architecture of the future, will be the "Accent" program on KMOX-TV at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. Among Saarinen's achievements was the design for the Jefferson Memorial arch in St. Louis.

"COME AGAIN to Carthage," a drama about a nun who returns home for a brief visit because of the illness of her father and finds herself confronted by a family crisis, will be the second of the series of six original dramas on "Westinghouse Presents." Scheduled for Dec. 8 on CBS-TV, the drama stars Piper Laurie as the nun. Others in the cast include Maurice Evans, Ann Harding and Ina Balin.

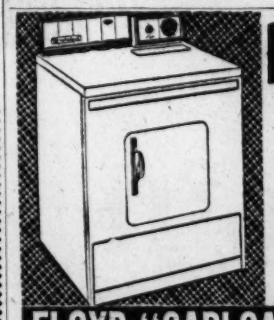

MARTIN GABEL will star with Monique Van Vooren in "Trick or Treason," on NBC-TV's "Show of the Week" production later this season. Previously titled "Operation Judas," the drama is about Allied counter-intelligence that made possible the successful invasion of Normandy in June 1944.

Indian Legend About Corn

Classes of public, parochial and private schools are invited to send questions about science, history, biography or geography to Uncle Ray in care of the Post-Dispatch. Teachers of fourth through twelfth grade should select the best five questions from each class. For the best groups of questions, Uncle Ray will award 20-volume sets of The World Book Encyclopedia.

When he seized his bride, the Indian brave was amazed.

By Ramon Coffman

SOME INDIAN tribes lived by hunting and fishing, and knew nothing about the art of growing maize, or Indian corn. The tribes which raised this plant were in doubt about the origin of the custom.

When people are without knowledge of the origin of an important custom, they are likely to make up a story or legend. Among the legends told to white men is an Iroquois story about the origin of Indian corn.

A young brave (we are told) fell in love with a maiden who seemed to be the "fairest of the fair." He loved her with all his heart.

Time passed, and the maiden agreed to become his wife. The marriage took place, and the young couple found a happy life, except for the jealous worries of the groom. He feared that other warriors in the tribe might admire his bride so much that she would be stolen from his wigwam.

One night the husband was awakened by the sound of footsteps. He sprang to his feet, just in time to see his bride walking in her sleep!

When she heard steps behind her, she broke into a run. The warrior pursued her, but it seemed that his pace was little, if any, faster.

The race went on and on. At length, the husband made a forward spring and seized the beautiful young woman in his arms. This gave him joy, but his joy was short. By the light of the moon, he saw his beloved change into a stalk of corn! Her hair became the silken threads which one may see today when an ear of corn is gathered.

That, according to the Iroquois, was the beginning of corn plants.
